NORWICH, NEW YORK 13815

25 March 1989

Dear Mr. Tieman,

Your check covered four hours and even though I used more time than that I'm disappointed to tell you I couldn't find your needed proof.

Last questions first---Eunice White. I looked at cemetery records, censuses, history of Coventry, White family file folder, county history and deed indexes (both grantee and grantor) . I found only two Eunice Whites-one wife of Dexter-born @1792 Mass. in town since 1836 (Dexter is 66-born Mass.) the children are 28 to 21 and all born Mass. Nearby is household of William White also has wife Eunice-she born @ 1830 (too young for Nicholas Root) William also in town 19 years--Eunice in town 25 years. They are all in Sherburne in the 1855 census, all buried Sherburne.

There were many, many White families here. I did find reference to another William White, who in 1879 when the county history was being written, lived in Coventry but didn't have time to try to trace that out further. Correction--I did find that his paternal grandfather ws another William whose wife was Eunice Rogers. Grandpa was 1742-1827 died Bainbridge and Eunice was 1745-1818.

Now to Balis-in all sources I saw also Bailes,-ailles,ales, alles, -allis, Bayl--. Deed indexes showed only

S:12	Nicholas and Eunice Root	TO	George Balis	10 acres		1812
QQ:230	George Balis (that's all)	"	Ausgustin Beebe	"	"	1822
QQ:229	Augustin Beebe and Dorcas	"	Leonard Balis	"	"	1823
QQ:231	Leonard Balis-----------	"	Anthony N. Munger"		"	1831

same 10 acres--all of Coventry-all recorded 1831

DAR cemetery records , Vol 5, page 7, Coventry Cemetery
Balis, Hannah- daughter of George and Rebecca, d. 20 July 1831 age 27
?b. 1804

Balis, Abigail d. 9 Feb 1888, age 89 (b. ca 1799)
" , Leonard d. 19 Feb 1837, " 47 (b. ca 1790)

All the same sources mentioned for White were no help finding more. The index for the 1830 census has George Balis in Oneida County, page 202 of Whitestown.

By accident I saw QQ:230(also) was a deed from Ahira Bardin to Thomas Potter of Coventry both--Feb 1828--recorded 1831---"land formerly belonging to Nicholas Root, deceased," part of lot 63 and described on the 1815 Marshall map - 3 pieces of 1 acre and 3 roods each and another (~~amount not mentioned~~ WRONG!) "which was part of Elisha Root's portion--one acre".

NO GRANTEE DEED

Co Hist p182

Bardin's wife was Laura Parker who married first [illegible] ~~S. Stoddard~~ & then Ahira Bardin (or Bardin) (1880) ~~there~~ they lives Tioga NY

That land was granted to Walter Livingston---and Cornelia , his daughter, wasthe wife of John Juhel (or Jukel).

I read all the deeds listed for Elijah, Elisha, Flavius, John and Nicholas Root , including the ones you sent (I didn't know which libers they were) to see if I got any hints about where else to look.

Two experienced genealogists and two women title abstracters I asked about the map gave the same information. That there is no law stating that a survey map has to be kept by the surveyor. It is kept by whomever orders it, and if it exists at all,might bewith the current property owners.

I could find no Roswell Marshall in a census in this county after 1810. In 1820 I find one listed in Hamilton, Madison County.

I'm sorry this machine has started to eat the "o's".

Then I started thinking that we were talking about land in the Livingston Tract. I found the enclosed map. There was no legible date except that of the COPY as stated. Perhaps there might be something at the Office of the Secretary of State in Albany---or at the State Library. This map was exciting to find but doesn't tell us what we want to know.

Looking at the names of the children of John and Sally ---it certainly is interesting that the first is Simon Jones Root and that the third is Joshua.

I can think of nothing else to do here. I am sorry not to have been able to find what you want and need!

Very truly yours,

June Mason

land in Groveland, ~~was~~ owned by Abram Tittsworth, was inherited by Julia Ann and Albert Tittsworth which they deeded via Charles Hendershott, Special Guardian, on 14Apr1848 to Mary Beaty "under said will of her husband" (??). It would seem that now in 1853 Mary Beaty has died and her three minor daughters are selling ~~again~~ to Thomas R. Beaty. However, Elisha in 1850 census was 20 and living with Jane Beaty, 38, and children Mary 17, Ann 16, Sarah 12 (1838). So Jane `must" have been their mother and now three years later, he is married to Sarah Beaty, 15 yr old. In 1860 census he was 28 and Sarah Jane 22 (1838) with their children, James B. and Ellen, and his mother Sarah Root. Was Mary Beaty their aunt or grandmother? Why was he with Jane in 1850 and why is Sarah still called a Beaty in the deed?

Perhaps Jane was his sister & children were step-children

ELISHA ROOT TO THOMAS R. BEATY - 1853
MARY MOL, ANNA IRVINE, SARAH BEATY

This indenture made the twenty eighth day of November in the year one thousand eight hundred and fifty three between Morgan H. Carney Special guardian of Mary Mol, Anna Irvine and Sarah Beaty infants under the age of twenty one of the first part and Thomas R. Beaty of the second part witnesseth whereas a petition was heretofore presented to the Supreme Court on behalf of the above named infants praying for a sale of the right described upon which petition an order of the said Court was made bearing date the seventh day of October in the year 1853 appointing Morgan H. Carney above named the Special Guardian of such infants for the purposes of the said application and that it be refered to a Referee to ascertain the truth of the facts in such petition alleged and there upon after the said special guardian had given the secruity by law required such proceedings were afterwards had that by an order of the said Court bearing date the 11th day of October in the year 1853 it was among the things in substance ordered that the above named Special Guardian of such infants be authorized to contract for the sale and conveyance of the right title and interest of the said infants in such real estate for a sum not less than that specified in the Referee's report in said order mentioned and that such sale with the name of the purchases and the terms thereof be reported to the said Court before the conveyance of said premises should be executed And whereas the said special Guardian upon terms approved by the said Referee contracted for the sale of the said premises with Thomas R. Beaty for the sum of two hundred dollars that being the highest sum offered for the same and thereupon the said Special Guardian made his report of such agreement to this Court pursuant to the requisitions of the last ... order upon which an order was made bearing date the 24th day of November 1853 conferming such report approving and confirming such sale and directing the same to be carried into effect Now therefore this Indenture Witnesseth that the said parties of the first part by Morgan H. Carney their Special Guardian for and in consideration of two hundred dollars to them in hand paid before the ensealing and delivery of these presents have bargained sold granted released and conveyed and by these presents do bargain sell grant release and convey unto Thomas R. * Mr. R. has won for himself a distinguished reputation for his musical ability as a singer, teacher and composer. His various collections of church music, including a great variety of pieces of his own composition, such as the Sabbath Bell, and the Triumph, have had a very extensive sale. His Musical Curriculum, as an instruction book for the piano, is the result of many years' experience in teaching, and is widely used among the profession. The patriotic music issued by the house of Root & Cady, of which he is the senior partner, created a profound impression during the late civil war. Hundreds of thousands of the Battle Cry, Tramp, Tramp, Just before the Battle, etc., were sold. 350,000 of the Battle Cry of Freedom alone were issued. This musical firm published and sold one hundred and seventy tons of music of their own composition within five years. Mr. R. and family are members of the New Jerusalem church.

Sir:

The evidence in support of your claim, under the act of June 7, 1832, has been examined, and the papers are herewith returned. The following is a statement of your case in a tabular form. On comparing these papers with the following rules and the subjoined notes, you will readily perceive that objections exist, which must be removed, before a pension can be allowed. The notes and the regulations will show what is necessary to be done. Those points to which your attention is more particularly directed, you will find marked in the margin with a brace, (thus: {). You will, when you return your papers to this Department, send this printed letter with them; and you will, by complying with this request, greatly facilitate the investigation of your claim.

(No evidence of this Engagement) }

That he being at Great Barrington aforesaid, volunteered and enlisted for three months on or about the fifteenth of September 1778. in Captain Deming of New Marlboro' (Lieutenant and Ensign forgot) Company of Massachusetts Militia. that soon after enlisting he went to Claverack in the State of New York. where the Company assembled. and from thence they marched North through Kinderhook and Greenbush to Albany, where they joined the Lieutenant belonged to Captain Clark of Williamstown Company, and General Stark sent word them to Fort Plain sixty head of Cattle, that the "12" had no officer of their own at Fort Plain except a Sergeant and a Corporal, and they remained at Fort Plain until the term of enlistment had expired under Colonel Marinus Willet. No orders ever came for the 12 to join the Company until the three months was out, and Heacock's Company was in the mean time at Saratoga, and Major Rowley of Richmond came as he said with orders for the "12" to march to Saratoga, after his time was out at Fort Plain at the request of Colonel Willet, in consequence of the enemy coming down to Johnstown he remained with Colonel Willet 14 days after the time for which he had enlisted had expired, and after the battle of Johnstown he went to Fort Herkimer on German flats in order to cut off John Butler's retreat from Johnstown, and from German Flats returned to Fort Plain and from thence marched to Albany where he was discharged and returned home having been in active service three months and fourteen days. That he has no documentary evidence and that he knows of no person whose testimony he can procure (except John Holmes, Israel Root and Ebenezer Pease, whose affidavits are hereunto annexed,) who can testify to his service.

To the first Interrogatory prescribed by the War Department, he answers that he was born at Great Barrington Berkshire County, Massachusetts on the 17th December 1760.

To the second Answers. that he has no record of his age but that there is a record of his age in his fathers (deceased) bible now in possession of his brother in Scipio, Cayuga County,

To the third answers. that he lived in Great Barrington Massachusetts when called into service, that he there lived 15 years after the Revolution when he moved to Oxford in Chenango County and State of New York where he lived until 1820 when he moved to Guilford where he has since lived, and now lives.

To the fourth answers. that he always volunteered his service as a Soldier of the Revolution, and that he never was a Substitute,

To the fifth answers. that Colonels Willet, Wayne and Ashley, Generals Fellows and Starks, were regular officers with the troops where he served and that he recollects Colonel Ashley's Militia Regiment. that the general circumstances of his service are above related.

To the Sixth answers. that he never received a written discharge from service,

To the Seventh answers. that Samuel A. Smith late Sheriff of Otsego, Dauphin Murray, late Justice of the Peace and the Revd. Leavitt Hull, are persons to whom he is known in his present neighborhood, and who can testify as to his character for veracity, and their belief of his services as a Soldier of the Revolution,

That he could not produce in Court, without much inconvenience and expense, two respectable persons, to Certify as to their belief of his services &c but that he caused the certificate of two respectable persons to be taken before a Justice of the Peace of the town of Guilford, and that they reside more than ten miles from this Court,

He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declares that his name is not on the pension roll of the Agency of any State, along which house lots and other lands were laid out, and a few settlers established. The most southerly house lot in that part, was that of Samuel Harmon, described as being at the south end of the plain, on the east side of the road. This lot is now a part of the farm of Elisha Collins. Mr. Harmon's dwelling is believed to have stood a few rods south of Mr. Collins' barn, where, in later years, Levi Loring—father of the late Almon L. Loring, resided. As early as 1742, Mr. Harmon sold his place to James Sexton, and afterwards resided in Sheffield, where he died, at the age of 70, July 9, 1758. His son Samuel, born April 5, 1740, married Kesiah—daughter of Asahel King of this town—resided in Sheffield, and died January 31, 1830. James Sexton, the successor of Mr. Harmon, settled here about 1742, and was, the next year, one of the five original founders of Mr. Hopkins' church. He died about 1756.

To the northward of Samuel Harmon's location, and separated from it by a lot of ten acres assigned to Joseph Noble, was the home lot of Joshua Root, twenty-eight rods in width, extending—as did the other lots in that vicinity—from the highway east to the brow of the Great Hill. This too contained ten acres, and is the same on which Joseph Lee now resides. Joshua Root was from Westfield,—born there November 2, 1682,—a descendant of John Root, of Farmington, Conn. He was the proprietor of two rights in the Lower Township, and is said to have come here amongst the earliest settlers, probably in 1726 or '27. His dwelling is supposed to have been on or near the site of the present house of Joseph Lee, which was built by one of his descendants, several of whom resided in that part of the town, and gave to it its title of "Root street." Mr. Root died September 28, 1730. His grave in the lower cemetery is the earliest known in this town. A low rough block of limestone marks the place of his interment and bears this inscription:

Hear Lies
The body of Joshua Root.
Aged 48. 1730.

A lot of ten acres recorded to the right of Joshua oot, bounding north and east upon the highway, is ow entirely included in the south burial ground. Vhen this lot was laid out, a reservation was made by he settling committee, of a small plot—only six by ten ods in extent—at its northeast corner, for burial puroses. Mr. Root was buried upon his own land, a ittle south of the plot reserved, as were also many embers of his family. It has long been said and beeved, that Joshua Root was the first white person ho died in this town; and it is certain that his grave the oldest known in our cemeteries. Both Mr. Root nd David King died at about the same time; but the ate of decease,—as well as the place of burial—of the tter, is unknown. From the probate records of ampshire county, it appears that the will of Mr. King as made February 5th, and proved October 15th, 730, and that administration on the estate of Mr. oot, (who died September 28th) was granted Novemer 30th, of the same year. Hence it may seem proble that the decease of Mr. King preceded, by a short eriod, that of Mr. Root.

Joshua Root left a family of nine children,—three ns and six daughters,—all of whom, with the excepon of his son Israel, were born before the removal of e family from Westfield. One of the daughters— uth—was the wife of Silas Kellogg of Sheffield, and ed at the age of 96, in 1818; the others removed to ore distant places. The sons, Joshua, Thomas, and rael, remained here. Joshua is said to have resided, here Samuel Harmon originally located, opposite the use of Elisha Collins; he died here in 1791. Several his children, earlier than 1800, had emigrated to the unties of Tioga and Chenango, New York. Thomas mained upon the homestead of his father, now the seph Lee place. Israel, who was a man of worth d a Deacon of the church, built and lived in the use now Joel Baldwin's, where he died at the age of , in 1809. He had sons Israel and Joel, the former sided in Cato and the latter in Oxford, N. Y., in 1810; other son—Stephen—was killed in battle at Stone abia, in 1780; and his son-in-law—Ephraim For

—was killed in the Shays fight in Sheffield, in 178

A not uninteresting relic of Deacon Israel Root i his wolf trap, still to be seen in the edge of a piece woodland, at the top of the hill south of Joel Baldwin dwelling. This consists of a hole sunk in the earth-now more than seven feet deep—two and one-half fe square at the top and considerably larger at the bo tom. Its side walls are of stone regularly laid up, an flaring inward from the bottom to the top. To rend this trap effective in use, the aperture was covered wi light brush and leaves, over which a bait was suspen
ed from a pole or convenient sapling. The wolf, springing to obtain the bait, falling upon the slig covering, was precipitated into the hole beneath, fro which, by reason of the formation of its sides, esca was impossible, and he thus became the easy prey his captors.

To "William Phelps of Windsor ye 2d," who w
the owner of one right, was laid out, amongst ot lands, a lot of six acres bounding westerly upon t highway and northerly upon the "Great Hollow." T
lot was directly opposite the house of Joel Baldw including the ground on which his barn stands. T
"Great Hollow,"—or as also written the "Long H low," was the same now used by Mr. Baldwin as a pa way to the meadows. It was decreed by the settl committee that there should be a highway two r

We have found no evidence that Mr. Phelps ever sided here; and if we mistake not, his right went i the possession of the Root family. Upon the lot wh
we have described, and within the present barn-y of Mr. Baldwin, was formerly an ancient dwelling, cupied sixty years ago by Yarre Notewire; but long since disappeared.

Thomas Pier, commonly known by his military road, extending northerly from the "Great Holl including the present house lot of Frederick Kell

A very old house formerly occupied this site, the 1772—the cellar hole still visible. He removed to Cooperstown, New York, about 1786. Mr. Kellogg was a brother of Ezra Kellogg, Esq., whose first appearance here is in 1775, and who, four years later, married Mary—daughter of Gamaliel Whiting. Further north on this road, and opposite the village, lived Mrs. Rebecca King—widow of Asahel King; and her sons Joseph and Lucius, had their dwellings in that vicinity.

In 1772, Capt. Silas Sprague, originally from Roxbury, settled on Christian Hill, where Seneca Nodine now lives. He remained until about 1790, and removed to Bloomfield, Ontario county, N. Y. Barnabas Sprague, the son of Capt. Silas Sprague, having previously built the Sprague house, still standing on Christian Hill, remained here after the removal of his father, and reared a family; he was the father of William, Silas, and Thomas Sprague—all now deceased—and also of the late Asa Sprague of Rochester, N. Y., who was the proprietor of the great line of stages between Albany and Buffalo. In the period under consideration, many new families came into town, and with the descendants of the first settlers were scattered over its more remote parts.

As early as 1772, James and William Ray from Rhode Island, Henry McGonegal from Voluntown, Conn., David and Hugh Humphrey, and Martin Remele had located in Muddy Brook. Avoiding the valley—then a swamp—they built along the high hill, east of the brook. Henry McGonegal, came to this town as early as 1758, and married here, in that year, Luziah Pixley. His residence was on Blue Hill, near where John B. Maley now lives. He remained here until 1792, and removed to Fabius, Onondago County, N. Y., where he died at the age of eighty-five, in 1828.

About 1776, came Hezekiah Atwood, from Newington, Conn., Barnabas Chapman and Rice Hall. Mr. Atwood's residence was near the Monterey line, where the most southerly house on the Blue Hill road now stands.

By or before 1776, Elizur Deming and John Patterson had settled at the upper end of the Muddy Brook section, near the Stockbridge line, and Nathan Mar. 1668, for his d. Sarah was whip. and he execut. 18 Oct. 1672, as in Trumbull, Col. Rec. II. 184, is detail. Perhaps the name was changed to Rudd or Rude. John, with this latter spelling was a petitnr. 1686, for Preston townsh.

Rooker, William, Hadley, petitio. against imposts 1668, took the o. of alleg. 8 Feb. 1679.

Rookman, John, came in the Abigail, 1635, aged 45, with w. Eliz. 31, and s. John, 9; but the name is never found in any of our settlem.

Roome, or Rome, John, Portsmouth 1638, is among freem. 1655, and is nam. in the royal chart. 1663. See Haz. II. 612. He was from Bristol, Eng. prob. for by his will he devis. ho. and ld. in that city to his w. Ann, wh. in 1669 gave her gr.s. William Cory, power to sell it.

Root, Caleb, Farmington, s. of John the first of the same, m. 9 Aug. 1693, Eliz. d. of Thomas Salmon of Northampton, had Mary, b. 6 Mar. 1695, bapt. 4 Apr. 1697; Caleb, 14 Mar. 1698; Thomas, 16 Jan. 1702; Eliz. 8 Apr. 1706; and Samuel, 20 Nov. 1712; and d. 1712. Hezekiah, Northampton 1678, s. of Thomas the first, freem. 1690, d. bef. his f. m. 1682, Mehitable, d. of Sampson Frary of Deerfield, had Benjamin, b. 1686; Mehitable, perhaps the sec. d. of the name, 1688; and Mercy 1689, wh. was k. at Deerfield, with her gr.f. Frary, 29 Feb. 1704, by the Fr. and Ind. His wid. m. a. 1702, Jeremiah Alvord. Jacob, Northampton, br. of the preced. m. a. 1680, Mary or Mercy, d. of Sampson Frary, had Joanna, b. 1681; Daniel, 1684; Jacob, 1687; Mercy, 1690; Margaret, 1692; William, 1695; Hezekiah, 1697; Ruth, 1699; Nathaniel, 1702; and Jonathan, 1705; was freem. 1684, but rem. to Hebron, and d. 1731. His will, 1728, names all the ch. exc. Hezekiah, tho. some were d. leav. heirs. Of this fam. was the late Hon. Erastus R. of Albany. John, Farmington, m. Mary, d. of Thomas Kilbourne, had John; Thomas; Samuel; Joseph; Caleb; Stephen; Mary, wh. m. Isaac Bronson; and Susanna, m. Oct. 1683, Joseph Langton; was freem. 1657, and d. 1684, leav. good est. and his wid. d. 1697, aged 70. His first three s. sett. at Westfield. In the Hist. of the Kilbourne Fam. pp. 42 and 3, exhibit. the extraord. dilig. of P. K. Kilbourne, some slight differences may be found. John, Farmington, perhaps s. of the preced. m. 18 Oct. 1664, Mary, d. of Richard Ashley of Springfield, and sett. at Westfield soon, there had Mary, b. 22 Sept. 1667; Sarah, 24 Sept. 1670; John, 28 Dec. 1672; Samuel, 16 Sept. 1675; Hannah, 9 Dec. 1677; Abigail, 26 June 1680; Joshua, 23 Nov. 1682; and Mercy, 15 Mar. 1684 or 5; and he d. 1687, hav. been made freem. 1669. All his ch. were liv. in 1710. John, Deerfield, s. of Thomas the first, m. Mehitable, the wid. of Samuel Hinsdale, had Thankful, b. 1677, and was k. by the Ind. 19 Sept. that same yr. John, Fairfield, s. or neph. of Richard, by w. Dorcas had John, Susanna, Mary, and Sarah, all bapt. Apr. 1685 at Woodbury, where prob. some of them were b. for certain. he had rem. thither three or four yrs. bef. beside Josiah, bapt. Mar. 1688; Bethia, Dec. 1691, d. under 9 yrs.; John, again, b. 9 June 1693; Joseph, bapt. June 1698; and Bethia b. 7 Feb. 1703; as Cothren, wh. has confus. in my opin. the stock, as if he were s. of the first John of Farmington, tho. he speaks only of prob. on that point. His w. d. 15 May 1720; and he d. 25 May 1723. Jonathan, Northampton 1680, s. of Thomas of the same, freem. 1690, m. Ann, d. of William Gull of Hatfield, had Eliz. b. 1681; Esther, 1683; Hannah, 1687; Ann, 1690; and Hannah, 1695; and he d. 25 Dec. 1741. Joseph, Northampton, br. prob. eldest, of the preced. m. Hannah, d. of Edmund Haynes, had Hannah, b. 1662; Joseph, 1665; Thomas, 1667; John, 1669; Sarah, 1672; Hope, a s. 1675; and Hezekiah, 1677; for sec. w. had Mary Burt, wid. of Henry, and d. 19 Apr. 1711. Joseph, Farmington, br. of Caleb, m. 1691, Eliz. Warner, had Eliz. b. 22, bapt. 26 June 1692; Mary, 22, bapt. 28 Jan. 1694; Joseph, 27 Aug. 1699; and took sec. w. 3 Mar. 1727, Ruth, wid. of Samuel Smith, d. of Thomas Porter. Joshua, Salem, 1637, when he had gr. of ld. and Felt quotes the rec. of his being drummer, 1657. Josiah, Salem, came in the Hercules, 1635, from Kent, aft. join. the ch. 1648, had bapt. Josiah, Bethiah, John, and Susanna, 24 Sept. of that yr. and Thomas, 16 Feb. 1651; was one of the found. of Beverly ch. 1667. Susanna was imprison. in the witchcraft madness; but we may hope that her f. was d. bef. Josiah, Boston 1673, mariner, may have been s. of the preced. Ralph, Boston, came in the Abigail, 1635, aged 50. His w. Ann. join. our ch. 1639. But our rec. ment. d. of his w. Mary (prob. a sec. w.), 15 Nov. 1655. In 1660, he gave d. Sarah, and her h. James Balston, his ho. orchard, and garden, to secure mainten. of hims. for residue of life. Mary, aged 15, wh. came in the Abigail, was perhaps his d. Richard, Lynn, was of Salem ch. 1636, freem. 9 Mar. 1637, may have rem. to Fairfield, where the rec. of his name always has s final. He there d. bef. 1653, when his wid. Margaret m. Michael Fry. Robert, Newport 1639. Samuel, Westfield, s. of John the first, was freem. 1680, and d. 27 Nov. 1711, leav. wid. Mary, but no ch. Stephen, Farmington, br. of Caleb, m. Sarah, d. of John Wadsworth of Hartford, had Timothy, b. a. 1681;

John, a. 1685; Mary, a. 1691; all bapt. 17 May 1691; Sarah, 17 Dec. 1693; and Hannah, wh. d. unm. and perhaps others; and he d. 1717. His wid. d. 20 Mar. 1740. Thomas, Salem 1637, when he had gr. of ld. that he prob. slighted, as he was of Hartford 1639, or earlier, had large fam. was a weaver, and rem. a. 1659, to Northampton, where he was one of the seven pillars for foundat. of the ch. 1661, and d. at gr. age, 17 July 1694, in his will naming progeny, Joseph, Thomas, John (wh. was b. 10 June 1646, and had d. but left d. Thankful), Jonathan, Jacob, Hezekiah (who was d. but left childr.), and Sarah, w. of Samuel Kellogg of Hatfield. Thomas, Northampton, s. of the preced. m. 1666, Abigail, eldest d. of Alexander Alvord, had Thomas, b. 1667; Abigail, 1668; Samuel, 1673; and Hezekiah. 1676, wh. d. young; and aft. 1700, rem. prob. to Coventry. Thomas, Westfield, s. of John the first, m. 1670 Mary Gridley, prob. d. of the first Thomas, had Thomas, b. 1 Sept. 1671, d. at 18 yrs.; and Mary, 21 Oct. 1673. Soon after his w. d. in that yr. m. 7 Oct. 1675, Mary Spencer, had John, b. 25 Dec. 1676; Samuel, 16 Feb. 1679; Eliz. 16 Feb. 1681; Sarah, 27 July 1683; Timothy, 3 Dec. 1685; Joseph, 16 June 1688; and this sec. w. d. 4 Nov. 1690. Early in 1693 he m. third w. Sarah, wid. of Josiah Leonard, had Thankful and Mary, tw. 12 Nov. 1693, and this w. d. 3 Jan. foll. and he d. 16 Aug. 1709. Not a few errors are seen in the acco. of his ms. and childr. in Geneal. Reg. VI. 267. Thomas, Boston, mariner, m. Eliz. d. of Ambrose Gale of Marblehead, had Mary; and in his will 18 Sept. 1683, pro. 31 Jan. foll. in wh. he says he is bd. on voyage to Jamaica, names only that w. ch. and f.-in-law. This name oft. is spell. Rootes.

Rooten, or Rowton, Richard, Lynn, emb. at London, in the Susan and Ellen, Apr. 1635, aged 36, with w. Ann of the same age, and ch. Edmund, 6 mos. No more is kn. of any of the fam. but that one rec. tells that he d. 20 Sept. 1663, ano. that the will of 12 June preced. pro. in Nov. names no ch. but does the w. and kinsman, Edmund, wh. d. 8 Apr. 1675. He had modera. est.

Roper, Benjamin, a soldier in Philip's war, whose resid. perhaps was Dedham, k. by the Ind. 18 Sept. 1675, with the flower of Essex, under Capt. Lothrop. He may have been s. or gr.s. of Walter; though in Farmer he is made tw. br. of Ephraim. Ephraim, s. of John of Dedham, serv. as a soldier under Capt. Turner in Philip's war, was in the Falls fight. His first w. was k. by the Ind. and he m. 20 Nov. 1677, Hannah, prob. the wid. of Stephen Goble, had Ruth, b. 7 Mar. 1681; and Eliz. 17 Mar. 1683. He with w. and one d. was k. by the Ind. 1697. John, Dedham 1639, when his w. and d. Mary, join. with the ch. was freem. 2 June 1641. John, Dedham, possib. s. of the preced. came, 1637, aged 26, with w. Alice, 23, and two ch. Alice and Eliz. a carpenter from New Bukenham, Co. Norfk. as says the rec. [See 4 Mass. Hist. Coll. I. 99.] At D. by w. Alice he had Rachel, b. 16 Mar. 1640, d. next yr.; Hannah, 5, bapt. 9 Apr. 1642; Ephraim and Benjamin, b. 23 Feb. tho. the rec. of bapt. has Ephraim and Nathaniel tw. 2 Mar. 1645; and I would gladly tell more if kn. to me. An Alice R. bec. perhaps third w. of John Dickinson of Salisbury. John, Charlestown 1647–58, may be he wh. rem. to Lancaster, and was k. by the Ind. early in 1676, on the same day when all the other inhab. gave up their residences to conflagr. Walter, Hampton 1639, had Mary, bapt. 22 Aug. 1641, freem. 18 May 1642, rem. to Ipswich bef. 1666, was aft. of Andover, but d. in Ipsw. 15 July 1680, in 68th yr. His will names w. Susan, ch. John, Nathaniel, Mary, Eliz. and Sarah; beside gr.ch. Eliz. Margaret, Susan, Rose, Sarah Sparks, and John Dutch, s. of Mary, w. of Robert. John, his s. d. 27 Nov. 1709, in 60th yr.

Ropes, George, Salem 1637, by w. Mary had George, wh. may have been among the youngest, and unm. when k. by the Ind. 18 Sept. 1675, at Bloody Brook, in the flower of Essex under Lothrop; Jonathan, bapt. 5 June 1642, d. at 19 yrs; Sarah, 3 Nov. 1643, d. soon, perhaps, for the ch. rec. makes Mary, bapt. 3 Nov. 1644; John, 4 July 1647; William, 28 Dec. 1651; Abigail, 29 Oct. 1654; and Samuel, 15 Mar. 1657; was constable 1665, and d. June 1670, leav. no will. His wid. wh. had admin. d. 1691. The d. Mary m. 17 Nov. 1663 John Norman. James, Boston, by w. Sarah had Sarah, b. 22 Nov. 1680 and James, 30 Jan. 1688. John, Salem, s. of George, m. 25 Mar. 1669, Lydia Wells, had Benjamin, b. 22 Mar. 1670; Lydia, 26 Dec. 1672; Mary, 21 Aug. 1675; John, 3 Sept. 1678; Abigail, 20 Apr. 1681; Sarah, 23 Feb. 1685; Samuel, 24 Jan. 1687; Eliz. Nov. 1689; and Nathaniel 1692, wh. was f. of Nathaniel, H. C. 1745, Judge of the Sup. Ct. of the Prov. Richard, Salem, prob. br. of the preced. m. 7 June 1670, Ruth, d. of John Ingersoll, had Richard, b. 20 Apr. 1674; and John, 16 Aug. 1678. Samuel, Salem, perhaps br. of George, sign. petition against impost 1668. William, Salem, br. of the preced. m. 1676, Sarah Ingersoll, d. prob. of John, had Jonathan, b. Nov. 1680; Sarah, Jan. 1683; William, Mar. 1685; George, Aug. 1688; Richard, 1690; Joseph, Jan. 1692; John, Jan. 1694; and Ruth.

Rose, Daniel, Wethersfield, s. of Robert, freem. 1665, m. 1664, Eliz. eldest d. of the first John Goodrich, had Eliz. b. 15 Apr. 1665; Daniel, 20 Aug. 1667; Mary, 11 Feb. 1669; Hannah, 12 Aug. 1673; Jonathan, 20 Sept. 1679; Sarah, 2 Nov. 1681; Abigail, 14 Sept. 1683; Dorothy, 3 May 1687; and Lydia, 2 Apr. 1689; was call. 66 yrs. old in 1696, and so may be presum. to have been b. in Eng. and brot. by his f.

HEWIT ROOT

At the beginning of the eighteenth century, taverns were numerous in towns and not all were confined to villages. There is evidence that Great Barrington, Massachusetts became a station on a stage route about 1819-1820. The driver's horn, as he approached the town's tavern, caused bustle and curiosity. The arrival of the stage was an event. The old tavern, east of the bridge, established by Captain Hewit Root in 1754 was maintained as such until 1826—or later. Capt. Root, from Westfield, Ma., purchased the land and house, erected by Jonathan Willard, from his brother, James, where he engaged in the business as inn keeper. He kept one of the most noted taverns in the region until his death in 1788. Hewit was said to have been a jovial man, full of fun.[1]

In 1776 the southern part of Berkshire County constituted the Regiment of Col. Mark Hopkins of Great Barrington, and, after his death in October of that year, it was commanded by Col. John Ashley of Sheffield. The militia of Great Barrington was, at that time, comprised of two companies. Hewit Root was Captain, William Pixley First Lieutenant and Charles Parsons, Second Lieutenant. The other had Capt. Peter Ingersoll, First Lt. Timothy Younglove, and Second Lt. Warham Lee as its officers and comprised of seventy-eight men. In October 1777 these two companies merged. The condition of the militia can be illustrated by the fact that the company of seventy-eight men had, as its equipment, only twenty-four guns, two bayonets, six cartridge boxes, five pounds of powder, four pounds of balls and six spare flints. Consequently, many of the men were asked to provide their own guns and ammunition. Other residents donated what they could for border defense.[2]

The militia of Berkshire performed important service throughout the Revolution, and was frequently called out for border service and to re-enforce the army.

Capt. Hewit Root and six other Roots fought Burgoyne at Ft. Edward in 1777. He is listed in the REGISTER OF HUGUENOT ANCESTORS OF NATIONAL HUGUENOT SOCIETY, Pub. 1975.

He died in 1788 at the age of sixty-four. It is through Capt. Hewit Root that I became eligible to become a Daughter of the American Revolution.

JAMES ROOT

James Root was born August 25, 1747 at Westfield, Massachusetts, the son of Hewit and Experience Pomeroy Root. He is listed in POMEROY FAMILY as the husband of Nannie Rob. The first born of this marriage was "William, son of James and Anna, b. Aug. 19, 1768" according to COLLECTION OF VITAL STATISTICS OF GREAT BARRINGTON, MASSACHUSETTS. Two more sons, Stephen and Elihu, were born of this union.

A military payroll record states that a James Root served for eight months (from June 1778 to January 1779) in Massachusett's Bay Militia in Captain Enoch Noble's Company in Colonel Ezra Wood's Regiment. It is believed that our James Root was this minute man.

For a second marriage, James married Nannie's sister, the widow Olds. It is indicated that the children from that marriage went west.

There were, and are, many James Roots living around Great Barrington. Our James had cousins about the same age, in Berkshire County. Land records help identify him. He seems to have been in bad financial condition at the time of his death. He wrote his son, Stephen, also having financial problems, for money that he had borrowed a few years before his death, about 1797. He sold some property about that time, too, that he had inherited from his late father, the Honorable Capt. Hewit Root. His widow gave up her right to execute the estate, knowing full well there was not enough money to pay the debts.

He died in 1802.

THE IROQUOIS INDIANS

There are, mainly, two sources of information—that of early historians and oral history, and sometimes they differ. It is believed that Iroquois culture may have risen as early as 1,000 B.C. Stories passed by word of mouth, from one generation to another, seem to indicate this. Archaelogical evidence also substantiates this and they remained in their own territories in what is now upper New York State. They practiced common social customs throughout their nation. Like farmers and hunters of any period, their lives and livelihood were influenced by the seasons. Their tribal ceremonies, in turn, followed the same customs.

As their numbers increased, the need for more land necessitated expansion. This led to the Five Nations where the groups kept their Erie Canal and the Syracuse-Utica Railroad, this was the thoroughfare from the Mohawk Valley to the Genesee Country. Land sold for a higher price and emigrants with greater means settled there.

On February 2, 1802 the Town of Vernon was formed from parts of the Town of Westmoreland the Town of Augusta. A part of Stockbridge, Madison County, was removed in 1836. The area where Vernon was settled was called "Ska-nu-sunk" by the Indians, meaning "Place of the Fox." At one time it was also called Mt. Vernon.

STEPHEN ROOT

Of the three children of James and Anna (Nannie) Rob Root, William, Elihu and Stephen, little information on Stephen is known. Census records indicate that Stephen was born circa 1770, in Great Barrington, Massachusetts. Lilla Licht, whose husband descends from Stephen's eighth child, Octovia, has found that Stephen resided in Otsego County, New York as early as 1795. Presbyterian Church records in Cooperstown show that his wife, Philiema, became a member in 1817. Stephen is named in the 1800, 1810, 1820 and 1830 federal census of Otsego County. Brothers, William and Elihu, of Vernon, N.Y., are mentioned in correspondence between Stephen and their father, James Root of Great Barrington, Massachusetts. In one letter, he asked if William's children had recovered from scarlet fever. Stephen's and Philiema's children are listed in the Root genealogy.

ELIHU ROOT

Another early settler of the Van Eps Patent was Elihu Root. He followed his brother, William, who had left Great Barrington, Massachusetts ten years earlier. They met, purchased and settled on adjoining properties. Elihu married his second cousin, Achsa Pomeroy, to whom ten children were born at regular two-year intervals. These two families, along with Abram Van Eps, Richard Gershom, Benjamin Hubbel, Gad Warner, Benjamin Allanson and David Pierson developed close bonds of friendship due to common isolation and privations of forest homes. Some were relatives, some were old acquaintances and friends. Although there were differences of opinion in religion and politics, they banded together for their common good. It is said that they lived well but money was scarce.

In 1811, Elihu opened a tavern in his home (perhaps to pay taxes) on the four corner settlement now referred to as Heinigs Corners. The large sign "E. Root's Inn" with the sun, moon and thirteen stars, is being preserved at Hamilton College. Here stage coaches stopped for mail, refreshment and lodgings, on their North-Southbound travel from Peterboro through Verona.

Oren Root, the second son of Elihu and Achsa, was a professor of mathematics and astronomy at Hamilton College for about forty years. Their home, now on its campus, later became Buttrick Hall, the college administration building. Oren, or "Cube" Root, as he was called, was a self-educated man. He attended Vernon village school, rather sporatically, where he was taught by his cousin, Pomroy Jones. He studied by candlelight in between his duties on the farm. He learned the Indian language, with instruction from an Indian neighbor. He became interested in science—botany, geology and biology—and developed a fine scientific mind. He taught in log school houses in Madison and Oneida Counties. In 1832 he entered Hamilton College as a senior. Then for twelve years he taught in Syracuse, Utica and Seneca Falls schools. In 1837, he married Nancy Whitney Buttrick. Three sons, Oren, Jr., Edward Walstein, Elihu and other children followed. Oren Root, Jr. succeeded his father as Professor of Mathematics. He was well respected and affectionately remembered as "Square" Root.

Young Elihu was born at Clinton, N.Y. in 1845 and died in New York City in 1937. His life was a colorful one. He studied law at the University of the City of New York and was admitted to the bar in 1867, the same year that he graduated. His ability and industry resulted in rising to prominence in his profession. He participated in the notorious "Boss" Tweed trial of graft and corruption in New York City mayor's office. He was personal counsel to Jay Gould, William Whitney and other such men. Corporation law was his specialty, although he participated in a few criminal cases. President Chester Arthur appointed him as United States District Attorney for the southern district of New York for two years. He became a prominent and influential political Republican and served in the New York State Senate. In 1899 President William McKinley appointed him Secretary of War. He proved himself so competent that President Theodore Roosevelt selected him as his Secretary of State. Truly he was an able leader. He died in New York City in 1937 of pneumonia the week before his 92nd birthday.

Elihu was the cousin my Grandmother Emma Gray Kitson referred to when she showed me, with pride, the photograph on her desk, and which was mentioned in my Forward.

WILLIAM ROOT

William Root, my great-great-great-grandfather, left Great Barrington, Massachusetts in 1787 by way of Albany and westward along the Mohawk River. He first lived in Whitestown, New York, then Clinton, New York. He and his brother, Elihu, met and settled in what is now Vernon in 1797. They purchased three hundred acres of land from the State of New York which had been, according to Pomroy Jones in his ANNALS AND RECOLLECTIONS OF ONEIDA COUNTY, "recently acquired from the Indians." Their properties joined: their families were close, not just geographically. Of the two brothers, Elihu had ten children and William, nine. The children did not lack playmates, nor did they lack much of anything. Oren, Elihu's second child states in Philip Jessup's ELIHU ROOT that:

> "We had an abundance of food and clothing; we raised our own wheat and corn, which were ground into flour and meal at a neighboring mill, for a share of the grain; we raised all the beef and pork, and vegetables that we required; we raised sheep and sheared them, and carded and spun and wore the cloth for our winter clothing; we raised flax, and from it, we made our own linen; we dipped our own candles which afforded sufficient artificial light for a life in which it was the rule to rise with the daylight and go to bed when it was dark; we had milk from our own cows, eggs from our own fowls and abundant firewood from our own forest. We had everything we needed, except money and we had little need for that; the chief occasion for its use was to pay the small taxes which were required each year."

William was a most interesting man. I, continually, learn something new about him. He was a trustee of the first church, the Mt. Vernon Presbyterian Church. His name is on the cornerstone. (Vernon in the early days was called Mt. Vernon.) He was one of the organizers of the first school, a framed building erected soon after 1798 and was used both as a church and a schoolhouse for some years. The Presbyterian Church celebrated its 175th anniversary the summer of 1980. My mother, Grace N. Kitson, was honored for having been a member for sixty-three years. In 1806, along with eight others, who were nearly all area farmers, William helped organize the first library, which was kept at the Van Eps and Hopkins Store. In 1801, he was a promoter in building the first turnpike. His prominence and abilities led, in 1821, to his election to the assembly.

William was considered a prosperous farmer. The 1830 census records him owning one hundred fifty acres of land, twenty cattle, two horses, sixty sheep, eighteen hogs, fifteen yards of cloth and twenty yards of flannel.

Land deeds, recorded in the Oneida County Clerk's Office, show that William started to dispose of his property by sale from 1825 through 1839. The first and second were to Horace Moore; then he sold to Samuel Cody, Jr. in 1826, followed by John Sergeant, Jr. in 1828, to John Hunt in 1833, to Elihu Root in 1837 and to Elijah King in 1839. These were in addition to the property he released for the school at one cent.

We have a Surrogate Court copy of his will, dated July 6, 1846. Executors were son, Wárd, and son-in-law Chester Darling.

"The following obituary notice, copied from the Utica Gazette, is all of the history of Esquire Root, possessed by the author:

> "Died at Vernon, August 15, 1846, William Root, Esq., aged seventy-eight years.
> The deceased was no ordinary man. Born in Great Barrington. Mass., he came into the county of his last residence about fifty years ago, and was one of the earliest settlers of the town of Vernon. Endowed with a strong and well balanced mind, and gifted with a popular address, he was frequently honored by his fellow citizens with important offices, which he filled with great ability, and deserved approbation. In the year 1821, he was chosen a member of assembly. In this body he was distinguished by shrewdness and good sense. Proverbial for his honesty, in him the poor and oppressed found a friend. In early life he became attached to the school of Washington, to which he strictly adhered.
> In religion he was pious without noise, and resigned without ostentation: and during a long sickness he was eminently calm and composed, and on the verge of his dissolution, he took an affectionate leave of his family circle, like a traveller bound to a distant country, and without a struggle or a groan, yielded his unclouded spirit to his Maker, in a lively hope of a blessed immortality." Chapter III
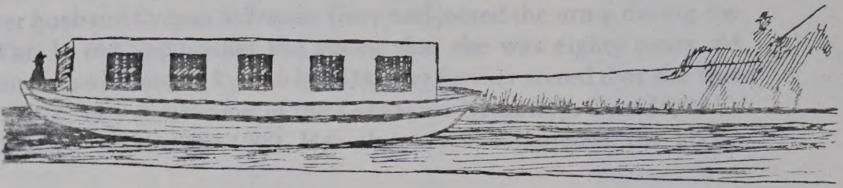
THE DESCENDENTS OF WILLIAM ROOT



THE DESCENDENTS OF WILLIAM AND RUTH ROOT
THE CHILDREN

James Pierce Root listed nine children born to William and Ruth Root. Elijah was born circa 1789 in Great Barrington, Massachusetts, moving to New York State in 1795. With wife, Mary, born in New Jersey circa 1791, they emigrated to Michigan and bought land in the Town of Newton, Calhoun County. Two children, Wadsworth and James, are mentioned in the 1850 United States census. In 1847 he was administrator of the estate of his brother, Nelson, whose property was adjacent to his.

Sarah (William's will), Sally, (J.P. Root) or Sallie (obituary) was also born in Great Barrington, circa 1791. She died July 24, 1871 at the age of eighty at the home of her brother, Ward Root, Esq. She never married. At the age of four, she was taken by her family to Clinton, N.Y., where, for about one year, she lived in a small frame house built by the Rev. Samuel Kirkland—the first frame house built in the town of Kirkland. In 1796 they moved to Vernon where William and his brother, Elihu, bought adjacent land. Here she remained for approximately sixty years, observing the Indians "lessening on the Stockbridge hillsides and their orchards being replaced by cornfields and meadows." Here they moved from log cabin to simple frame house and then to village home. She moved again with her sister, Lucy Root Darling's family to Wisconsin. A year before her death, she returned to Vernon.

Sons William and Wadsworth (John W.) were known to have lived in Carrollton, Kentucky. William was born in Vernon in 1794 and died in Carrollton in 1877. He married Frances L. Harris Pauley according to Kristin Fisher, a descendent by marriage.

I was unable to learn about Wadsworth. Letters to Carrollton, Kentucky proved fruitless.

Lucy married Chester Darling and, in the 1850's, moved from Vernon to Sun Prairie, Wisconsin. He and William's son, Ward Root, were executors of William's will in 1846.

Benjamin Miller Root was born circa 1790. He died in the Town of Porter, Niagara County, New York in 1877 at the age of eighty-seven. He was buried in Hosmer Cemetery.

James was born May 26, 1805 and died June 18, 1869. In 1846, he lived in China, New York, now called Arcade. He is buried in Pekin, New York. He owned property in Youngstown, New York at the time of his father's death. He had eleven children and they are listed in the Root genealogy. Hiram, the oldest, was Arlene Cook's ancestor and it was she who found this information about "her" James.

Ward Root was born September 5, 1807 and died October 27, 1884. His wife, the former Catherine Maria Truax, was born June 4, 1810 and died April 25, 1895. They remained in Vernon on his father's farm.

Nelson, apparently the youngest, was my great-great-grandfather.

NELSON ROOT

We suspect that Nelson Root was born circa 1810. According to the obituary of Mary Samantha, his daughter, he was born in Vernon in the same house she was born. Our family Bible records his marriage to Eliza Page but no date is given. Eliza was born circa 1802. Her gravestone gives her date of death as May 1, 1875, aged seventy-three. We know of at least two children born to them, a daughter Mary Samantha and a son (or sons) Edwin and/or Edward. Both Edwin and Edward are mentioned in various census reports.

Our information about Nelson is sketchy. TUTTLE RECORDS of Madison County show a Nelson Root as serving part-time in jail for indebtedness, in 1830. Is this our Nelson? In the 1840 census of the Town of Lenox, Madison County, New York, Eliza is listed as head of the household, with one male child, 5-10 years old and one female child 10-15 years old. Edwin had been born in Michigan, it said, and returned to New York State. In the MICHIGAN LAND RECORDS, Vol. 4, page 2, Nelson Root of Calhoun County purchased from Moses Austin and wife, of Kalamazoo County, on Nov. 23, 1841, eighty acres in Newton Township. The deed was recorded in 1842. In the 1850 census, Madison County, New York, Eliza, 48 years, has married a Walter Backus, 58 years, a laborer. Edwin L. Root, aged 15, lives in the same household. Nelson died Feb. 21, 1847 at the age of 37. His gravestone is in Newton Township Cemetery, Calhoun Co., Michigan. He left three children, by a second marriage to a Jane, aged 30—Daniel M., 8 years; Luther, 5 years; and Mary, 3.

Both Nelson's first wife, Eliza and daughter, Mary Samantha, are buried in Glenwood Cemetery, in Oneida, N.Y., on a peaceful knoll overlooking Route 46, near the Civil War Monument. Mary Samantha's death notice told where she was interred but finding Eliza there, nearby, was one of the surprises genealogists welcome.

GENEALOGY IN ONE EASY LESSON

In 1898 Mary Samantha Root Gray applied for a widow's pension, since her husband Lyman Sylvester Gray had joined the army during the Civil War. In her application she stated that she was eighty years old and that she had married Lyman in 1838. She further stated that she was born in 1818. Her tombstone in the Glenwood Cemetery, Oneida, N.Y. reads Mary S. Gray 1818-1909. Her obituary substantiated the above dates.

End of easy lesson!

Nelson Root, Mary Samantha's father, went to Michigan in the 1830's and eventually died there in 1847 at the age of thirty-seven. A distant cousin, Arlene Cook of Saginaw, Michigan, sent me this information from the Newton Township Cemetery in Calhoun County, Michigan. She also sent a copy of the Surrogate Court records that Nelson's brother, Elijah, was appointed as executor of his estate. If the tombstone dates are correct, Nelson would have been eight years old when Mary Samantha was born. Perhaps Nelson deducted ten years from his age when he remarried in Michigan. However, Elijah must have known his brother's age when he had the tombstone placed. I decided to research further.

The 1850 United States Census of Verona, Oneida County, N.Y. gives the following: (The dates in parenthesis would be the approximate year of birth.)

Lyman Gray — age 29	(1820)
Samantha Backus — age 23	(1828)
Henry Gray — age 1	(1848)

The United States Census of 1860 lists:

Lyman Gray — ae. 40	(1820)
Mary Samantha Gray — 32	(1828)
Henry Gray — 12	(1848)
Nelson Gray — 7	(1853)
Garrett Gray — 4	(1856)
Emma Gray — 11/12	(1859)

In 1880 Mary Samantha Root Gray gives her age as fifty (1830). She was getting younger. "A woman is always younger than a man—at equal years." — Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

In the 1840 census of Madison County, N.Y., Eliza Root, Mary Samantha's mother, is listed as Head of the Household, living in the Town of Lenox, Madison Co., N.Y., with one male between one and five

HISTORIC NEW YORK
THE ERIE CANAL

Construction of the Erie Canal was halted as the greatest engineering accomplishment to that time. Under the leadership of Governor De Witt Clinton, construction began July 4, 1817. With little technical knowledge, thousands of workers surveyed, blasted and dug a 363-mile canal across the state. They hewed through solid rock and dug in marshes; they erected aqueducts to carry the canal over rivers and valleys; and they built 83 locks to take the canal over changes in ground level. When completed in October, 1825, the Erie connected Albany and Buffalo and became the main route between the Atlantic Ocean and the Great Lakes.

Passenger and freight barges crowded the canal. Western New York flourished with new, cheap transportation. The Erie Canal also hastened development of the Mid-West. Success of the Erie stimulated enlargement of the original canal in the 1840's and construction of additional canals. More than 500 miles of canals connected the Erie to other sections of New York State. After the 1870's, canal transportation declined and many canals closed. The Erie was modernized in 1918 as part of the State Barge Canal System consisting of the Erie, Champlain, Oswego and Cayuga-Seneca Canals.

Sarah was Eziekiel's legal wife as is proven by land deed in GB. Another son, David, was b in 1791; another one, Ashley, was b about 1793. Old Ezekiel evidently got a 14 yr old girl in trouble, Martha Hackett, and she had dau Olive in 1795. They were living Hillsdale, NY. After that until Dec 1798 Sarah busy trying to straighten this out - they living on land Sarah had inherited, but now Eziekiel partly owned by marriage. In 1798 Ez and Martha & Olive moved to Oxford, NY, in cart. In winter of 1799 Sarah packed up goods & 4 children Ephraim, Sarah, David, Ashley & moved to Bethlehem (West Otis, MA), p~~l~~aid cash for new farm.

" Joshua 1813 #2216A
" Joel 1840 #2453A
next for any Root was 1871
Sprague, first one was 1867- did not see it

(There was one mention of a John Root with no relationship given in the estate of Joshua Root of Greene. Joshua owed John Root $4.00)
Joshua's Administrator was Azariah Root.
Joshua had brothers Russell and Thomas.

Gertrude Howard Smith's collection of Vital Statistics

I've enclosed one page from the History of Coventry---the name Simon Jones jumped out. Also two Root pages from Gertrude Smith's Vital Statistics----there are several Johns. Guernsey Library does not have the "ROOT GEN. REC." given in Mrs. Smith's work as the source of her notes. The pages did not copy well--they are faint.

I cannot think of anything else to see here. I hope you do hear eventually from the searcher in the Rochester area!

The only thing I can think of would be for you to obtain the military (and possibly pension/bounty) records for John----and possibly the death certificates for any of his children you can. Something might turn up.

Very truly yours,

June Mason

P.S. I meant to include this from the Surrogate's file #3952A Intestate estate of Nicholas Root-of only the inventory is there---named are Eunice Root, Administratrix and sons Nicholas and Elijah. 1813 date. Nicholas and Elijah may have been the only sons around--they attested to the veracity of the inventory. No proof whether John is or is not a son!!

That whereas we under written was by the General Assembly upon 22th day of June 1733 directed and appointed a committee to confirm ye settlers their Property in Sheffield and pursuant to the Commissions and Directions [illegible] from ye General Assemble upon or in October 1733; and in year 1734; we went to Sheffield in Housatonack and we have confirmed to each settler their respective right, comprehended respectively in this Book in ye foregoing pages; Wherein each mans right is recorded and in ye next Presedent Pages there is a Particular account what each settler is to have and what unto each one is laid out, and taken up and reccorded in ye foregoing pages and what each one hath still to take up lying in Common with ye Rest of the Proprietors.

And in laying out the sd land we did determine that where there is need of highways, in the meddow land that the highway shall be but two rods wide and in the meadow each man shall have the benefit of the same against their own land exclusively of all others save using it for a highway and also when the town shall determine the highways shall be upon the upland there it shall be but four rods wide unless in some places where the town shall think needful to have it wider and in all such places where a highway has been thought needful we in the major have made allowance for the same so that the town is not to be at any charge for paying for the land upon which said highway shall go. and also with respect

Dear Helen,

Always nice to hear from you. It sounds as though you are keeping busy, but not having any major problems. Sorry I didn't answer your last e-mail. I'm so annoyed with sicko's viruses that I have practically stopped using the computer. Certainly would be great if someone devised a way to repay people who spread viruses and hackers in kind.

We plan to go to Rick's apt. 9 June and start our trip the next morning. I'm not optimistic about making any break throughs. Just decided we were past due for a vacation and New England as good a place to go as any. Bob keeps inviting us to come stay with them in Florida at their condo. I detest staying with anyone, esp. non smokers, and told Dick I would go if we stayed in a motel. Dick prefers not to go if we can't stay with Bob & Mary.

Last week I looked for some extra clothes to take on the trip. All I found was a cheap denim dress which will be comfortable to wear while riding/driving. Did you ever find any tops to go with your new slacks?

Sorry to hear Myra's mother-in-law died. Also about Carolyn's death. Sure odd about your reception, or lack of, at the funeral home.

It sounds as though you enjoyed Memorial Day weekend. Bob and Mary invited us to come over. They had four of their children with families and a couple with two daughters who are friends of B & M's dau & husband. With 14 adults and 7 children it was a bit hectic. We went over a couple of hours Sat. & most of Sunday. Dick enjoyed it, but I'm not much for crowds. After everyone left Bob came down with a nasty virus and was quite sick for about a week. He thinks he picked it up from one of his grandchildren. Some of the gr children are in day care and pick up everything making the rounds. A shame mothers can't stay home with their children.

How nice that Dave's cousin is sharing family photos with you. Did I mention I made copies of family photos for my brothers children. Recd nice thank yous from two of them.

Congrats on Steve's new job. Hope all goes well with it and it becomes permanent.

Do hope an attorney will be able to help Dave on his discrimination case. In my opinion most agencies from civil liberties, child welfare, etc., are totally useless paper shufflers.

Wish you and Myra successful hunting at Ft Wayne. Really nice to have a fellow enthusiast to go with. Dick and I finally made it to the state library. Left late and took time to orient myself with their holdings, so didn't find much. Hopefully will get back. Would also enjoy going to Ft Wayne sometime - been years since the last visit. What motel do you use there?

Dick's Knights of Columbus having a steak cook out at the Church school tonight with wives invited. Wives asked to bring "finger foods" which I "assume" to mean appetizers/hors d ouerves. Expect Bob & Mary will be there too. Unfortunately it doesn't look like the weather will cooperate. I think the high today is forecast for 60° and rain in the afternoon. Expect they may have to abandon the pavilion for a room in the school.

This year is certainly whizzing by. It doesn't seem possible that at the end of the month we will be half way through 2002. Can't say we have accomplished much so far. Maybe we will get motivated after our trip.

Can't think of anything else new, so—

Cheers,
Helen

Pomfret Town Hall, Pomfret, CT. Last Will and Testement of Nathan Burrell Pages 203-4

In the name of God Amen this thirteenth day of September Anno Domini one thousand seven hundred & sixty eight I Nathan Burrel of Killingley in the County of Windham & coloney of Connecticutt in New England Husbandman I being weak in body but of perfect mind & memory Thanks be to God therefor calling to mind the mortality of my body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die do make & ordain this my last Will & Testament principally & first of all I give & recommend my soul into the hand of God that gave it & my body I recommend to the earth to be buried in a decent christian burial at the direction of my executor nothing doubting but at the general resurrection I shall receive the same again by the mighty power of God and as touching such worldly estate where with it hath pleased God to bless me in this life I give demise & dispose of the same in the following manner and form Imprimis. I give & bequeath unto my dealy beloved wife Hannah Burrel one third part of the north end of my farm lying in Killingly above said with my dwelling house during my wife's widow and then to my son Benjamin Also I give to my wife all the houshold goods during her life & then to be equally divided among my daughters & I give her one cow and she shall have her choice of them which is to be at her disposal also four sheep & two hogs.

Item I give to my (least/last?) son David Burrel the south end of my farm with the house he now lives in and said land to be divided as follows to begin at a heap of stones northeast from the house my son David now lives in upon the line between Henry Polocks & me & from thence to run westwardly to a rack with a heap of stones upon it near (flaggy?) hole upon the south side then to run south to a stake & heap of stones then westwardly to a stake & heap of stones by brother Isaacs meadow fence & from thence upon the line between my brother & I to the river & from thence down the river to Munyans line then eastwardly to a tree called the governors white oak & from thence to to the first mentioned bounds This with the privilege of a way to cart hay from the meadow This together with what I have done for him to be his portion. Also my will is that David find for my wife ten cord of wood at her door yearly during my widow Also my will is that David pays to my two daughters Sarah & Hannah thirty shillings a peace within six months after my decease---

Item I give to my son Benjamin Burrel the other part of my farm except the third part & the house which I gave to my wife & that be his when she ceasith to be my widow Also I give to my son Benjamin all my farming tools & the mair & colt only he shall find my wife a horse when she wants to ride Also my will is that Benjamin pays to my other daughters Rebecca & Lois thirty shillings each within six months after by decease Also I give to Benjamin a pair of three year old stears & this with what he hath had to be his portion--

Item I give to my daughter Sarah Burrel twenty shillings to be paid by my executor at my decease---

Item I give to my daughter Hannah Short twenty shillings to be paid by executor at my decease---

Item I give to my daughter Rebecca Martin twenty shillings to be paid by my executor at my decease---

Item I give to my daughter Lois Ross twenty shillings to be paid by my executor at my decease---

And I do constitute & appoint James Dike of Killingly in the County of Windham to be the executor of this my last Will & Testement he shall pay all my just debts & funeral charges and I put into his hands seven pounds four shillings which my son Benjamin owes to me & two cows & a pair of three year old steers one heffer three years old which three year olds are let out at Capt Averill till they are seven years old & ten sheep and one hog

All this I commit unto my above said executors hands to pay my just debts & necessary charges & if there is any thing over & above it is to be equally divided between my daughters Ve Ratifying this to be my last Will & Testament in witness whereof I have here unto set my hand & seal--

Additional Biographical Information

Charles Henry Grummond was my g-grandfathers younger brother. Most of the family were illiterate, and the name change is self explainatory. My g-grandfather was Truman Grummons. He too was a private during the Civil War with Company G 11th New York Calvery.
A third relative William Franklin Grummons, born 1829 in Shelby Corners, Orleans County, New York, received his commission from then Governor Alex Ramsey of Minnesota. First Lieutenant, William F. Grummons joined June 8th 1863, and served in the 3rd Regiment Minnesota Volunteers.

Hi,
Hope all is okay with you. It has been hectic since the WTC bombing, hasn't it?

Looking through the ton of things I have to file and came up with some thoughts. Will forward them for your comments.

Think I have arrived at the same conclusion as you have and that Samuel and Amasa were sons of John Short (1720's). As far as their birth place of Killingly it may be that John lived with in-laws there, their mother was there for her "lying in", or they remembered growing up there and though they were born there.

I think that the following were children of John (1720's):
1. John. Possibly still births, or d.y. here, 2. Asa, Benoni, Jonathan, Samuel, Zerviah, Amasa.

It seems to me that the QC's to their father's estate by Samuel and Zerviah establish parentage; Amasa a minor so not included in the QC's.

The prospects for parents seems to boil down to Wm In Killingly or Samuel, Jr., or John in Glocester. Wm's children were pretty well documented, no record of Samuel in CT, so voila we are left with John. Although deeds do not reflect John living in CT it is possible that he lived with his in-laws, or that his wife was with them in CT for the births of Samuel and Amasa.

It certainly seems as though Samuel, Jr., did not have descendants who lived. I wonder if it wasn't Sam, Sr., who sold the family homestead (Lot 15) to John, and Sam, Jr., who bought ten acres of the homestead for John. Possibly Sam, Jr., and wife had no children, or his wife and children died in one of the epidemics. (My g grandfather, Lovel, (son of Asa) lost his first wife and five children in an epidemic.

Seeems to me that it may have been Sam, Jr., who received financial assistance from the town of Glocester from 28 Aug 1792 to 21 Feb 1997 at which time the town appointed Duty Smith to care for all the needy. From the type of help this Samuel received I tend to think perhaps he was seriously injured in the war. He obviously had a home, as the town paid for materials to keep it up.

I believe Benoni died about the time the other family members were in MA which would explain why an executor was appointed.

Jonathan probably had emotional damage from the war, as concerned Glocester residents asked that something be done and a guardian was appointed 30 May 1795. Possibly John (1720's) suffered either emotional or physical damage from the war which might explain why Sarah filed that document releasing her claim on John's estate.

Age wise it boils down to Samuel, Jr., and John as parents for Samuel and Amasa. Here again the QC's clearly indicate John as their father.

Possibly early tax records might shed some light on our Shorts, but it would be a doozy of a job to research them, and I have my doubts whether the town clerks would even go for it.

Do ou hae a census index for 1800 RI? John (1751) recorded a deed in Gloc 1 Sep 1800, so assume that he and sons David, Reuben, Abel, and dau, Esther, would still be there for the census. Sure haven't found them elsewhere. Presume Jean was his wife and no clue when she died.

Assume the Sarah Short next to Samuel Short on the 800 Otsego County, NY, census was the widow of John (1720's):
0 males; 1 female 16-45 (Zerviah?); 2 F 45+ (Sarah & Jean?)

Would certainly be interesting to know who John and Asa named after.

I "think" John probably b 1725-1728 and Sarah considerably younger (as usual with subsequent marriages in that time frame) and no problem having a child born in 1772. Quite a few "box car" babies born even now.

So, what is your take on all this? Ciao,
Helen

Glocester, RI, Town Hall Records, Vol 1 #0941846

Pg 17-18, 12Feb1776. Jonathan Short among those not able to provide themselves with firearms.

Pg 131, 30May1795. Town council requested by a number of respectable inhabitants of town to have guardian appointed over person and estate of Jonathan Short. Randal Angell appointed and nominated for his sureties Col Stephen Winsor. No further record found on Jonathan in Glocester.

Pg 171. Providence, Glocester, Probate Records 1731-1796. Benoni Short of Glocester, laborer, died 20Dec1779, intestate, and left some personal estate. Col Stephen Winsor apptd administrator. (Note: no further record, not even and inventory. In some instances where people died and administrator apptd there would be a later record where the relative petitioned to be appointed administrator in lieu of admin appointed by town, but didn't find one for Benoni. I asked town clerk in Cepechet for copy of administration, but she said they didn't have one. If you are ever there, you might be able to find something.

Pg 70. John Short to keep Jonathan Irons for six months to be paid in corn at three shillings per bushel.
John Short to keep Prudence Murray & child for six months to be paid in corn at three shillings per bushel.
John Short to keep Darius Ballou for six months to be paid in corn at three shillings per bushel.
Pg 79. 20Oct1792. John Short allowed two pounds five shillings three pence in corn at 3/per for keeping Prudence Murray and child.
Pg 87. 1Apr1793. John Short allowed two pounds five shillings seven pence in silver money for keeping Darius Ballou twenty two wks two days to present date.
Pg 88. George Brown allowed one pound eight shillings eight pence in silver money for sundry articles delivered Samuel Short by order of town.
Pg 95. 2 Sep 1793. John Short allowed one pound nineteen shillings four shillings for keeping Darius Ballou 1 Apr to present.
Pg 95. Hannah Curtis Will accepted; pg 97 inventory. (Note: no inventory found. Could this be second wife of John (b. ca. 1727), if so would be nice to find the records.
Pg 103. 25Dec1793. Stephen Winsor allowed sixteen shillings eleven pence in full for dundries delivered Samuel Short.
John Short allowed one pound eight shillings four pence for keeping Darius Ballou sixteen weeks to the present.
Pg 107. 7Apr1794. Col Stephen Winsor paid one pound eleven shillings nine pence for sundries delivered Samuel Short.
John Short allowed 13 shillings for keeping Darius Ballou two weeks down to 18Jan1794.
Pg 123. Stephen Winsor paid four pounds seven shillings four pence in full for sundry articles delivered Samuel Short down to the present date.
Pg 127. Ezekiel Brown allowed one pound sixteen shillings for 1200 feet of boards to cover a house for Samuel Short.
Col Stephen Winsor pomiseth the council that Samuel Short shall live there as he can as he will free of all expense to this town on account of house rent & firewood. (See pg 142 on next pg)

Pg 142. #51: 20Feb1796. Col Stephen Winsor allowed three dollars and fifty four cents for sundry articles delivered to Samuel Short.

Pg 157. #89: 21Feb1797. Voted Randall Angell eleven dollars twenty five cents for 11 bushels 1 peck corn delivered to Samuel Short.

Pg 163. Town Council decided it would cost less if one individual was responsible for town poor and be paid a flat sum. At least two different people appointed at different times to the position and posted bond. (Note: wonder if there are any "poor farm" records, especially of burials.)

Note: The various sums paid out above were approved by the town council to be paid from the town treasury.
Who is the Samuel Short who town supported. He is still alive in 1796. It seems as though if records from the poor farm his death might be annotated in them, or possibly in the town vital records.

Dear Helen,

Always nice to hear from you, but so sorry to hear about Dave's medical problems. He certainly seems to have had more then his share. I do hope the nephologist didn't find anything too serious.

Sounds as though the office changes were "great fun". Hopefully things are back to normal and that Windows XP is working out for you.

Sounds like your 45th class reunion has been well planned and organized. Hope you had a lovely time. I wasn't impressed with our class reunion. I always felt that compared to the class of 53 and 55 that the class of 54 wasn't impressive. About the main and only event at our get together was a nice dinner

Pretty neat finding Ephraim Myers farm with the old barn still standing. Always nice finding someone else interested in genealogy to chat with. It's really great when young people become interested in genealogy. I could have learned a lot from my grandmother Swart. Hope you have a lovely vacation in Eastern Ohio, with good weather, and some good genealogy finds.

Dick had his annual physical and his doctor recommended a visit with an ophthalmologist, as he is beginning to develop cataracts; a ten year follow up colonoscopy; and an appointment with a urologist due to elevated PSA levels and cancer in his family. Dick is a AAA stress person and before the appointments he imagined all the worse. He has a revisit scheduled with the urologist, but I think he has been reassured.

After our return from the trip Bob and Betty Hamilton, who live about six blocks from us, invited us to one of their potluck get togethers, and another this past Sunday. They invite 10 to 12 couples, bring your own meat to grill, and a dish to pass. The meal is followed by bocce ball. It's always a pleasant and enjoyable afternoon with a congenial group.

We visited Bob & Mary for several hours on 3 July. On the 5th Jim (Dick's other brother) ~~and wife,~~ Dorothy, hosted a cookout. J&D invited B&M, their son, Tom; son, Rob, wife, and two little ones;. & us J&D's dau and live-in were also there. I baked a couple of pecan pies to take, and would you believe people actually put whipped cream on them? Yuck! A pleasant afternoon.

Invited B&M to celebrate our anniversary tonight. We are going out to dinner, but waiting to get their input on where. I had suggested the Sheraton Hotel restaurant in Big Rapids, but picked up a menu and not impressed (recently under new management). They have a lovely dining room, but I can do with less atmosphere and good food. Unfortunate the club here and the Antlers (where we took you) are both on our worst choice list. The Antlers used to be good, but we were very disappointed with it when we took you there, so crossed it off our list.

Not easy to think of what to buy for men. With the non-standard sizes it's impossible to buy clothes for gifts these days even if you know what they like. Sometimes we ask Rick for a list of CD's and DVD's that he would like. A check or gift certificate easiest, but Rick likes to open presents so we try to come up with a few.

I know what you mean, when I haven't worked on a line for some time I have to refer to my records.

Wonder who Hannah Burrell Short was married to. It would be just like the Shorts, if Samuel Short, Jr's., first wife Hannah died and he married a second Hannah. I wonder if the Esther who witnessed the one deed wasn't John's b 1720's, as his son, John, b 1751, named a daughter Esther. Interesting that ~~only~~ Samuel, 1762, and Zerviah, b unknown, were the only ones to QC interest in their father's estate. Amasa a minor, but Asa wasn't, and think on the 1774 census there were several daughters and sons. It seems to me that the QC by Samuel establishes parentage, don't you think so? Also, in the biography on Cyrus in Otsego County it states that his father sacrificed his life to the Rev War. His, John's, wife, Sarah, discharged all her rights 11 Jun 1778. Then 24 Feb 1779 she reaffirms this. It does seem like it might have been a jointure, so her son, John, could handle the family affairs. John may have been injured, or mentally impaired in Rev War and no longer functioning.

I'm pretty convinced that John, b 1720's, was older than his brother, Samuel, Jr. John married earlier; bought his father's property; and was financially better off until the Rev War. Samuel, Jr., left even less record than the other Shorts.

It seems to me that through the deeds the Samuels sort out to be Samuel, Sr, Samuel, Jr., and Samuel, b 1762; The Johns are 1720's and 1751. Only one Asa. The only younger generation in deeds are Samuel in Berkshire County, MA, and David, oldest son of John, b 1751.

The deed from Asa to John, Book 12, pgs 396-7, w 23 Sep 1793, r 5 Oct 1793 in which he states he bought the land from Samuel really bugs me. I couldn't find any sale from Samuel to Asa, or any sale of 20 acres to Asa by anyone.

Also, Wm Irons baffles me. It was almost as if he were acting as a lawyer.

Enclosing sheets in which I was trying to fort out the transactions with the deeds. I only made it through Sam Sr, Sam Jr, John 1720s, and Asa; however, unless I goofed somewhere only the ones for Sam Sr & Jr balance.

Have run on long enough, so bye for now.

Ciao,
Helen

Subject: Insolvent

Hi,
Glad to hear you had a good trip. Guess I just assumed you knew insolvent and bankruptcy were synonymous. Wonder if it's worth writing RI for record on John's insolvency.

We have been having some "warm" weather too. As you say, "thank goodness for AC".

Personally I believe the lawyer in Russellville, AR, was correct when he assessed Sarah Short's discharge of her husband's (John) estate as a jointure preparing for her husband's death.
She filed the document in Glocester 11 Jun 1778, and affirmed in Glocester 24 Feb 1779. I think John probably died ca. 1779 at about 49-55 years of age. Possibly he was involved in military action in the Rev War and injured mentally or physically. (Jonathan Short of Glocester was in the war and afterwards the town appointed him a guardian). If the Rev War did for John it may be that is what Cyrus referred to in his biographical sketch in the Otsego County, NY, History.

I still can't cipher out Wm Irons. It rather looks like he was involved in administering John's (1720's) estate.

I believe that it was John (1751) who filed for insolvency 21 Sep 1792. He was only about 62 years old when he died in PA.

I think we have a pretty accurate picture of the first three generations in RI with the exception of daughters. The Esther who witnessed the deed probably a dau of John or Sam, Jr. Hannah Burrell Short anyone's guess. It would have been just like our Shorts if Sam, Jr's. wife, Hannah died to marry another Hannah.
For now, Helen

(excitement - be still my heart!): Hannah Curtis, b 11 Jul 1755, dau of Stephen Curtis and Tabitha Beardsley; Sarah Curtis, b 10 Oct 1750, d. 27 Mar 1777, same parents. SO, who is the Sarah Short in Otsego Co, NY? Could she and the other woman listed in her household be spinster daughters of John (ca 1720)? I would think the source of the Curtis info may be a genealogy. I have asked for the source, and whether John had children by Hannah or Sarah.

Another Short researcher in RI, a descendant of Perry, Asa, Asa, John, Sam. Think he is relatively new to genealogy and most of what he has from Tioga Co., Hist Soc. He has said he will try to go to Kill. & Glo. and do more looking. He went about five years ago, but didn't know what to look for and clerks not helpful. Can't blame clerks they have their work to do and it isn't being genealogical advisers. He is leaving soon to go out West, so any looking will be after his return. I suggested we put our heads together and outline ideas for research. If I were him, one of the things I would want to do is find out where Lot 15 is located and take some pictures of Samuel's land. If it were still rural and only a family living on it, I would check with them to see if they had ever found any graves.

Another descendant lives in MA and not far from Killingly and Glocester. Couldn't reach her via e-mail, so wrote snail mail (P.O.), and haven't recvd a reply.

Something that sprung up in my mind and I wonder if in yours, the name Henry did not carry down in our early Short family lines.

Ciao.

Sincerely,

Helen

Dear Helen,

Happy New Year! Hope it will be better for you then 1997. Good to hear from you.

It sounds as though you had a good Christmas. Ours quiet, but we enjoyed it. Christmas much better when there are small children. Our Christmas gift was the internet and we are enjoying it.

Bet it feels good to be completing your book. At the rate I am progressing I will probably never manage that. I need to do a lot of editing on my FGS.

I'll be interested to hear how the CD on RI is. I haven't bought any CDs yet. Did buy Family Tree Maker genealogy program which works with internet. I haven't mastered interfacing FTM with the internet yet.

Do hope your mother is able to bring her BP under control. It sounds to me as though she needs a different BP medication. Sometimes people build up tolerance, become allergic to, etc., their meds. My sister has had to change her BP meds several times. Also, there are some foods/beverages which counteract with BP med. Only ones I can think of are licerice and grapefruit juice, but bet there are others.

We just learned that our son has hypoglycemia. Sure hope it is the reactive type and doesn't turn into diabetes. He also learned from a dermatologist that they have no cure for the the scalp infection he has had for four years and can only treat the symptoms not the cause - he has spent a bundle on dermatologists. Both conditions a real bummer, just glad he doesn't have anything worse and pray that he doesn't develop anything worse.

We have been having many gray days with quite a bit of rain and it sure wears thin. I miss the sun and hope it returns soon. Our son says they have been having the same weather in MI.

Dick used the garage door opener inside the van (instead of on the wall) and didn't notice that the door didn't go up. He nailed it with the back bumper. No damage to the van, but did a number on the door. Decided to replace it with a new steel one. The company swamped with work, so we are on a waiting list for replacement.

Still reading film at the LDS and making no new inroads on our Shorts. Did find a record where Samuel Short became a free man in Glocester on 27 Apr 1739. Will send a copy, if you like, as soon as the library repairs their copier. That gives us three Samuels who became freemen in Glocester. Have you ever found any book on free men in Killingly? Sure would be interesting to see listings for Short, if there is such a book.

I have dabbled a bit with the internet. I'm really slow at catching on and only use it when Dick is at hand to bail me out when I am lost at sea. I have found several Short researchers, but only one as far back as we are. The most recent and most competent is a descendant of Samson/Sampson Short. He has the line back to the first Samuel. He also has the new to us info

Questions and Comments:

Where did you find the day and month of marriage for John & Zerviah Utter Short? All I can document is year.

If it was John Short, husband of Zerviah, who married Hannah Curtis 15 Jan 1763, it would seem that Zerviah probably died shortly before that. Apparently Hannah died soon after and he married Sarah on 18 Oct 1764. Wonder if children born from this marriage. Another possibility is that John was short for the Jonathon Short referred to in The Way Up Country pg 57.

Where did you find June 1813 as date of death on John Short b 1751? All I have is copy of probate with Feb date.

On Asa & Olive Short marriage, their banns in Dudley, MA, but no marriage record (statement from Dudley Townhall in Asa's RW pension record. see . Thompson

I haven't found anything on Olive Burrell's lineage, have you. If CT researcher successful on Short, may ask about checking this. no

You have Asa died 1824 Cayuga Co NY. I don't have anything on this, and thought he died in PA. Do you have any documentation?

Guess

Where did you find info on children of John & Zerviah? Short b ca. 1749, Short b ca 1756, Short b ca 1758, Short b 1760? Regarding ? Short who married Mirianh Moffit, it seems like if she was born in 1749 she would have been recorded as child of John & Zerviah at the same time as John, b. 1751, and Asa, b. 1754 were recorded in Glocester vital records. Regarding child #7, Benoni, the only children of John b. 1751 I have found info on are Esther, Rev David, Reuben and Abel. The Benoni in Tioga Co a later generation I think.

Do you have any info on Thankful Hackett? I have birth, death and info from obit on Lovel on marr year and that she was sister of Seth Hackett. no

In obit on Lovel Short his first wife's maiden name spelled Clark rather than Clarke - do you have anything on her? no

Re: Children of Lovel Short:

I have never been able to link Lovel Short 1820-1872, nor Benona Short, 1834-1899, to parents. Have you found anything on this? I note you have the comment "still question" on both of them. Regarding my FGS on Lovel, Thankful and children - I have never found anything to document his five children with first wife, Eleanor Clark. Much of my information on Lovell was given to me by Melva, a cousin in PA. Her mother, Pearl (dau of Ashley Short , grandau of Lovel & Thankful), and my mother were cousins and corresponded on genealogy in the 1960's. Melva took over her mother's genealogy and I took over my mother's. Pearl borrowed a family Bible from a descendant of Lydia Short Fuller (dau of Lovell & Thankful) and copied some info from it. Mom b. 1895 and Pearl, 1884, so Pearl probably obtained some info from other family descendants. Unfortunately the Bible has since disappeared. I think Pearl's research was accurate, however, I think she received some info from other genealogists in the area and I question the accuracy of what she received from them. The problem is Melva has not given me any sources. Melva has heard all her life that Elizabeth (Betsy) Mac/McFarland Hackett, the mother of #591 Thankful Hackett, was the second wife of #725, John Short. I have never been able to find anything to document this. On the 1850 census #725 John's wife is Betsy. Judging from the censuses, what I have on Lovel & Thankful's children is accurate, although I have found nothing on #709, Lovel 1833-dy. Alfred Lovel #560 was my grandfather. Unfortunately he lived in Clinton Co, so my mother did not see a lot of his family while she was growing up. Her father died when she was 13 and she and her brother, Earl, lived with #712, their Aunt Nell, while their sister, Olive, lived with #710, her Aunt Olive. Mom talked quite a bit about her genealogy, but unfortunately I wasn't that interested at the time.

Others who I have been unable to prove parents on are:

David Short 1821-1888, married 1st Roxy, 2d Eliza? Eliza best I could make out on census. I found an obit which I think is on him and it says "supposed to have been first white child born in Tioga Co" which makes me believe he might be the son of John b. 1790.

Lovel Short 1819-1872; 1st wife Harriet A. Mosher, 2nd wife Adelia T.

Perry Short, 1822-1896, wife Minerva. Administrator of #724 Asa Short's Will, so possibly his son.

Reuben Short, 1822-?, wife Polly

Reuben Short 1815-1878 wife Lurana

Do you have info on where children of Asa and Olive Burrell Short (except for John and Lovel) are buried, or epitaphs on them?
Or any children I don't have of theirs.

There were a group of Shorts in Alleghany Co, PA, early on, but I've never checked on them.

Dear Helen,

Your letter and all the interesting information enclosed arrived today and I was so happy to happy to hear from you. It is such a treat to find someone else interested in the same line. I am sure there are many Short descendants interested in genealogy, but finding them is something else.

It looks as though we are at about the same point with our Shorts. Recently I found a researcher in CT and asked her to see what she could find in Killingly and Glocester townhall records. She dropped me a note to say she would as soon as their "lousy" weather cleared up. I'm hoping she will be able to locate new info on our elusive Shorts. I think part of the problem is probably the familiary "changing" boundaries and I'm hoping the researcher will know where to look from ca. 1730 back.

In addition to CT researcher, I have found a Short descendant, Jack, in Tioga County who has said he will try to help me. He is a descendant of Newberry Short, 23 Mar 1817 - 22 Sep 1901. Newberry was one of the Shorts I couldn't prove parents on. Jack says Newberry is a son of John Short, b. 1790. I have three or four other early Shorts who I have not been able to prove parents on. When I talked to Jack on the phone he said John b. 1790 was married three or four times.

The wording on the bio sketch in the Otsego Co NY History on Cyrus leaves a bit to be desired. I am wondering if the soldier who sacrificed his life might have been the father of Amasa rather than Amasa. It seems like there must be records of men who died during the Revolutionary War, however, northern records are few and far between here and I haven't found any. Perhaps after I hear from the CT researcher I can ask her about that.

Samuel b 1762 in Killingly is a puzzle to me because he is not in the Barbour Vital Records of CT and the only info on Short children in the Gloucester Townhall records seems to be John b. 1751 and Asa 1754 to John and Zerviah. I am enclosing a copy of "Short Family Town of Glocester, RI - Deeds which has some VR's on a Short family in Killingly. Since Samuel was born in Killingly, I wonder if he might not be related to this Short family, especially since his child #10 is named Erastus, not exactly a common name, and the William & Demaris of Killingly had a son with the same name. Also, it seems to me there would be a connection between the two Short families who lived so near each other; William in Killingly, and John in Glocester.

In the 1960's another Short descendant received a reply from a RI genealogist with the following info from Glocester Vital Records:

Probate: Benoni Short d. 20 Dec 1779 - adm. to Col Stephen Winsor, Feb 1792. (I rented the townhall records and could not find anything on this).

Vital Records: Samuel Short, Jr., marr. Hannah Barrett, 5 Dec 1751
John Short marr. Hannah Curtis, 15 Jan 1763
John Short marr. Sarah Curtis, 18 Oct 1764

It seems as though Samuel Short, Jr., would be the son of the elusive Samuel Short. Perhaps Samuel, Jr. a brother of John who married Zerviah? On the enclosed list of "Short Family Town of Glocester, RI - Deeds" the first record is one on Samuel Short of Killingly , dated 28 Mar 1734. The only other references I have to this early Samuel are:

RI Freemen 1747-1755:

John Short, Glocester 1755 (seems as though this might be John, husband of Zerviah)

Samuel Short, Glocester, 1750

Samuel Short, Gocester, 1751

I found no Shorts in Glocester in the supplement to this book.

On an unidentified page from a book (apparently on RW soldiers):

Samuel Short b 4-8-1762 d 3-21-1847 m Mary Cross Pvt CT

Samuel b 1755 d 1836 m. Eleanor Chace Pvt Drm RI (Chace?Chase; what is Drm?)

The Way Up Counry, compiled by Gloucester Bicentennial Commission, 1976, pg 57. Rev War soldiers listed in Glocester, RI:

Short: Benoni, John, John, Jr., Jonathan, and Samuel. (I just have typed copy - not photocopy)

Census of Inhabitants of the Colony of RI and Providence Plantations, 1774, Knowles, Anthony & Co., State Printers 1858, Providence:

Samuel Short: 2 males 16+, 0 males -16, 1 female 16+, 2 females -16

John Short 2 males 16+, 3 males -16, 2 females 16+, 2 females -16

I will make a separate list of documents I have, so you can check off anything you would like a copy of. Some info I have is just hand copied, from various sources. Since you have done a lot of research, I thought it best to check first so as not to send duplicates of info you already have. If you see something cited in FGS and would like to know source, or a copy just ask which it is and I can photocopy or if something hand copied just send a typed copy.

Also, have some questions for you and will put them on a separate page also.

Looking forward to hearing from you again.

Sincerely,

Helen

I Lemuel Healy of said Dudley do certify that I am the Town Clerk of said town, and have by vitue of my office the custody of the records of the Births & Marriages which have taken place in said town, and I further certify that I have examined the said records, but I cannot find the record of the marriage of Asa Short to Olive Burrell. I believe many marriages have taken place in said town which have never been recorded. But after examination I found the intentions of their marriage or publishment, and the following is an exact copy thereof --

> "Marriage Intended between Asa Short of Glocester > and Olive Burrel of Dudley July ye 21st 1776"

It appears by the above that the intentions of their marriage was published July twenty first one thousand seven hundred and seventy six

NICHOLAS UTTER OF WESTERLY, RI AND A FEW OF HIS DESCENDANTS by Katharine M. Utter Waterman of N Scituate RI & George B. & Wilfred Utter of Westerly RI, The Utter Co. Printers, Westerly RI 1941. The marriage date of Zerviah to John Short is given in this book as 1748. Other family researchers have given the date as 27 and 27 Sep 1748, in New London, CT. I have seen no documentation of this and doubt it.

MIDDLEBURY UNION CEMETERY

MIDDLEBURY TOWNSHIP TIOGA COUNTY,PA.

This is located on Route 249 just west of Keeneyville. This is a very large cemetery of many levels.In this as in several others,one wonders how they managed butials and services on steep inclines.

Copied by Hilda Chance of Liberty,Pa. 1970.

I went back 1972,retraced my path to mark sections. check notes and get any I may have missed.

I will sketch cemetery and mark sections worked.

After three days there,I still did not get real late ones in section 4 and 7.

I have numbered sections as I worked them.

Started in section 1,back end and worked to road to gate.

CONNELL FAMILY PLOT Deerfield Twp.

Typical of an incident which may have happened to many, years ago, was the one related by Ralph Clark of Knoxville.

On a spot, east of the Ralph Clark farmhouse, on the Doan road, once stood a house, occupied by the Charles Connell Family.

Shortly before 1872, members of the family were wiped out by an epidemic.

As they died, they were buried on the farm, in shallow graves. Because of the shallow graves, the land was not tilled for some time.

In 1872, the farm was sold at a sheriff's sale for $28.00

SHORT CEMTERY

CHATHAM TOWNSHIP TIOGA COUNTY,PA.

Copied,Oct.1972,by Mr.Earl Cooper,Rt.1,Box 91, Middlebury Center,Pa.16935.

History of Tioga County 1897,tells us,the first white settler in Chatham Township,was John Short,who located near the outlet of the 'Little Marsh' in 1818.

Two years later,he moved to what is now known as Shortsville. He was followed by his brothers,Asa and Benoni. Benoni Short,remained only a short while.

The cemetery located southwest of Shortsville, 1000 feet west of Twp.road no.480 and south of State Rt. 249,across Crooked Creek,on land now owned by Walter Bieser.

The reason one of these plots is in Chatham Twp. and the other in Clymer Twp. is that Twp. road no. 392 is the boundry between the two.

ACADEMY CORNERS CEMETERY

DEERFIELD TOWNSHIP TIOGA COUNTY,PA. - Cem Bk

From Tioga County History 1897,one of the oldest burial places,excepting,of course,the Indian burials.,is the oldest Cemetery on the loren Carpenter Farm about half mile east of Academy Corners.

The first interment was said to be a member of the surveying party,marked C.C.J. 1800.

William Knox,the township Pioneer lies in an unmarked grave. Here,also are buried members of Cloos,Bulkley, Short,Wright,Faulkner,Howland,Ingham and other early families.

This is a copy of paragraph from History of Tioga County by R.C.Brown and Co. 1897.

Copied by Lola W.Franke ,August 1970 who adds- There are many stones piled and thrown over against the back fence,near a slough of water,with green scum, which I could not read.Also,two large thin upright stones,fallen over, face down.

Dear Rhoda,

Thank you for the papers and information you sent on the Cole's and Short's.

I don't have any idea who John Short's 3rd wife was but according to the information you sent to me on the enclosed form I would say his 1st wife was Zeruiah Utter.

I can't fill in very many marriages; most of the information I have is on the younger generations.

Phylander Cole was married twice: no dates
1st. Margaret
2nd. Lydia Reese

Sylvanus was married three times: no dates
1st. Anna Moffet
2nd Amanda
3rd Sarah Taft.

Perhaps Beulah Cole Rushmore would have more information.

Cole File - Tioga Co PA Hist Soc

I don't know where Sylvanus and Mercy's graves are I wonder if they aren't in Tioga. I haven't checked there. It's difficult for me to walk very far. I'm sorry I couldn't get to Wellsboro when the Stanford's were there. My Uncle said their daughter Mercy was born where Depot St. is today in Tioga!

Thank you for the information. If I hear any-more I shall keep you posted.

Cordially
Louise W. Morse

Notes from Chatham January 21st 1886

The late Lovel Short, who died at his son's residence in Chatham on the 8th instant was born in Tioga County,NY., in 1801. His father moved to that place from Rhode Island.. In 1807 the family moved into this county and settled on the Cowanesque river on the farm known as the old Bulkley Farm, where they stayed a few years.. They then moved to Chatham. Young Lovel Short took charge of the family after his father died..He was about eighteen years old and feeling the need of a helpmate, in 1819 he returned to the valley of the Cowanesque and there he married Eleanor Clark. From this marriage five children were born,when Mrs. Short died.. In 1830 Mr.Short married Miss Thankful Hackett, a sister of Mr.Seth Hackett of Middlebury and from this marriage twelve children were born. Of this large . family only nine are now living, the first wifes children being all dead and three of the last wife's.

In 1859 Mr.Short was again left a widow

Dear Mrs. Read:

Thank you for the research fee that you have sent to our office.

We have searched our surrogate records for a will for Asa Short, nothing was listed. Also, he was not found in our census records (1800-1855).

Enclosed you will find a copy of a data sheet that we have in our family file. It lists information regarding Asa's wife and children. We hope this is of help to you.

Sincerely yours,

Thomas Eldred

The Early History Of Chatham Township

There are now 29 townships in Tioga County with the first two, Tioga and Delmar, being formed in 1805. When the County was formed from Lycoming County in 1804 the entire County was comprised of one township - Tioga. The last to be formed was Duncan which was set off from Delmar, Charleston and Morris Townships in December 1873. (1)

Chatham was the 18th township to be formed. In September 1827 a group of inhabitants of Deerfield petitioned the Court of General Quarter Session of Tioga County to "set off from the southern part of Deerfield" a new township. (See Appendix A)

The petition was brought before the Court which appointed three viewers, Elihu Hill, John Goodspeed and Robert Tubbs to "view" the request and to make recommendations to the next session of court. (See Note 1) The viewers made their report, which was favorable to the petition and the court ordered the establishment of a new township to be called Chatham.

Why was the township called Chatham? In the History of Seven Counties, a small outline history prepared by the Elmira Weekly Gazette, printed in 1885, the author gives the reason for the name. On page 19 he begins the section about Chatham Township, Tioga County thus: "The early settlers of Southern Deerfield Township were great admirers of Lord Chatham (William Pitt) and in February 1828, they petitioned the Court of Common Pleas of Tioga County, for the formation of a township to be taken from the southern portion of Deerfield Township, to be known as Chatham."

Where the author of this statement obtained his information is not recorded. A reading of the official documents (See Appendices) "setting off" the township show only that the township will be called "Chatham". The petitioners made no mention of a name for the new township in their petition. Perhaps the author had some personal knowledge of the feelings of the petitioners or of the Court. Or perhaps, he made a reasonable assumption, as William Pitt was greatly respected in the early history of the United States for his views, generally in support of the colonists.

The early history of Tioga County has been told in the histories published in 1883 and 1897. (2) Each of these accounts contains a chapter on the early history of Chatham Township. These histories have been freely used in the preparation of this account.

The 1897 History records that the first white settler in Chatham Township "as at present constituted (1897), was John Short, who located near the outlet of Little Marsh, in 1818. Two years later he moved to what is now known as Shortsville." (3) A search of the Records of Deeds of Tioga County shows that John Short was granted a deed, dated 10 February 1829 for a 50-acre plot of land in Warrant No. 1350 (4). This is the first deed made by the Bingham Estate, as grantors, for their property which would now be located in Chatham Township. It was property located at Shortsville. Evidently John Short bought his property, like most purchasers of Bingham lands, by land contract where the purchaser does not receive the deed until the land is paid for. This would account for the years (1818 to 1829) between the time he settled as a pioneer and probably contracted to buy the land and the time when he had completely paid for his property. He did very well to meet the obligation in so short a time as many early settlers did not completely pay off their contracts for 25 or 30 years.

The county records also show that John Short bought about 71 more acres adjoining his first purchase at Shortsville (5) as well as the property "near the outlet of Little Marsh." The deed to the Marsh property was not granted until 25 August 1846. (6)

From the Wellsboro Agitator of Thursday, Nov. 10, 1885, in a section called News from Chatham we read: "Death again visited us and (has) taken one of our neighbors. The old pioneer, John Short, "Uncle John," as we all loved to call him, died at his home at Shortsville on Sunday last, in his ninety-sixth year, I believe. His early life is unknown to me, but I think he had lived in Chatham about 60 years: but of this I will speak in a future communication."

The correspondent signed himself Sucker, and in the Agitator issue of Dec. 12, 1885, this item is found: "Mr. John Short, who died recently, was born in Stanford, R.I. July 3, 1790. He moved his family into Deerfield Township in 1813."

John Short's grave is in the Shortsville Cemetery where his tombstone inscription reads: "John Short b July 7, 1790 d Oct. 30, 1885." Also the grave of "Lucy w/o John Short d July 15, 1874 age 81 yr. 9 m. 28 d."

The History of 1897 continues: "He (John Short) was soon followed by his brothers, Asa and Benoni, the latter making but a brief stay. Reuben Cloos, a son of Newbury Cloos, a pioneer settler of Deerfield Township, commenced improvements on his land in the Cloos Settlement. In 1818 he built a log house, raised two crops of grain and in 1821 moved his wife to her new home. The first season during their absence, the house burned with everything in it including $60 in silver money. William Wass, a native of Sussex County, N.J., and a soldier of the War of 1812 located in Deerfield Township in 1817. His son, David Wass, now (1897) a resident of Knoxville says that in 1818 he removed to Chatham Township and settled about two miles west of East Chatham. (In the Dingman Hill area) Jesse Rowley also settled in the township in 1818.

Abel Cloos, a brother of Reuben, settled in the Cloos neighborhood in the winter of 1822-23 and Abel Cloos, an uncle of Reuben, and Armon Cloos, a brother of Reuben, a year or two later.

Charles Avery, a native of Madison County, N.Y., came in 1826 and located on a tract of land on which the East Chatham Post Office is situated. This he sold in 1827 to Sylvester Treat and located on the farm now (1897) owned by Edward Carl. Here he passed the remainder of his life. (See Note 2)

"A number of early settlers who selected lands in this township were either pioneers or sons of pioneers of Deerfield Township. Some purchased lands and did not settle, while others moved into the township and became permanent residents and citizens of it. The first assessment made in 1829 by Allen Frazer, Jr. shows that the following named persons, residents and non-residents, were taxable in the township: Cyrus Ames, Aaron Alba, James Allen, Francis Burrell, Alexander Burrell, Beersheba Bates, Asa Bates, Silas Billings, Daniel Baker, Stephen Colvin, Joel Crandall, Samuel Carpenter, Allen Frazer Jr., Eddy Howland, Jr., Joseph Matson, David Seamans, Lovell Short, Samuel Strawn, John P. Tracey, Elijah Thompson, Samuel Taylor, Mrs. Tracey, widow of A. W. Tracey, William Wass and Joseph Yarnell. Of these about 20 were actual settlers, among whom were Joel Crandall, a son of Stennett Crandall, who settled in Osceola Township in 1823; Stephen Colvin, who settled in the northern part of the township; Allen Frazer Jr. who made the first assessment of the township; (See Note 3) David Lesure, who settled on Crooked Creek; John Macumber, who settled northeast of Little Marsh, in the Cloos district; Lovell Short, who was living on Crooked Creek, at Shortsville, and Samuel Strawn, who settled on the place now owned (1897) by his son, Samuel M. Strawn.

"Amasa Clark was born in Providence, R.I., in 1801, and came to Deerfield Township, in 1817, with Eleazer Clark, a relative. Soon after arriving at manhood's estate, he became an early settler in Chatham acres adjoining his first purchase at Shortsville (6) as well as the property "near the outlet of Little Marsh." The deed to the Marsh property was not granted until 22 August 1846. (6)

From the Wellsboro Agitator of Thursday, Nov. 19, 1885, in a section called News from Chatham we read: "Death again visited us and (has) taken one of our neighbors. The old pioneer, John Short, "Uncle John," as we all loved to call him, died at his home in Shortsville on Sunday last, in his ninety-sixth year, I believe. His early life is unknown to me, but I think he had lived in Chatham about 60 years, but of this I will speak in a future communication."

The correspondent signed himself Sector, and in the Agitator issue of Dec. 12, 1885, this item is found: "Mr. John Short, who died recently, was born in Stamford, R.I. July 2, 1790. He moved his family into Deerfield Township in 1815."

John Short's grave is in the Shortsville Cemetery where his tombstone inscription reads: "John Short b. July 2, 1790 d. Oct. 30, 1885." Also the grave of "Lucy wife John Short d. July 16, 1868 aged 51 yr. 6 m. 20 d."

The History of 1897 continues: "He (John Short) was soon followed by his brothers, Asa and Benoni, the latter making but a brief stay. Reuben Cloos, a son of Newbury Cloos, a pioneer settler of Deerfield Township, commenced improvements on his land in the Cloos Settlement, in 1819 he built a log house, raised two crops of grain and in 1821 moved his wife to her new home. William Wass, a native of Sussex County, N.J., and a soldier of the War of 1812 located in Deerfield Township in 1817; his son, David Wass, now (1897) a resident of Knoxville says that in 1818 he removed to Chatham Township and settled about two miles west of East Chatham, on the Dearman Hill road. Jesse Hawley also settled in the township in 1818."

Abel Cloos, a brother of Reuben, settled in the Cloos neighborhood in the winter of 1822-23 and Abel Cloos, an uncle of Reuben, and Armon Cloos, a brother of Reuben, a year or two later.

Charley Avery, a native of Madison County, N.Y. came in 1820 and located on a tract of land on which the East Chatham Post Office is situated. This he sold in 1827 to Sylvester Treat and located on the farm now (1897) owned by Edward Carl. Here he passed the remainder of his life. (See Note 7)

"Almon Clark was born in Providence, R.I. in 1801, and came to Deerfield Township in 1817, with Ebenezer Clark, a relative. Soon after arriving at manhood's estate, he became an early settler in Chatham Township, locating on the farm now occupied by his son, Alanson Clark. (See note 4) Issac Cole, the oldest living resident of the township (1897), came as early as 1831-32. William Spaulding, a native of Hebron, N.Y., removed from Vermont to Potter County, Pa., in 1835, and in 1836 came to Chatham Township, settling on the farm below Chatham Valley, now (1897) occupied by his son-in-law, D. H. Curtis. (See note 5)

Robert Hill and Rensselaer Toles settled on the site of the village of Little Marsh in the early thirties, the former locating above and the latter below the creek bridge in the village. In 1836 Matthew Boom settled in the northwestern part of the township near the "Swing Gate" schoolhouse. In 1837 Nehemiah Beach removed from Knoxville, located in Little Marsh, and engaged in lumbering. In 1847 he removed one mile west to the property now (1897) owned by his son, S. P. Beach. (See note 6) Harvey Leach, for many years a prominent physician with a large practice, came into the township in 1837, from Steuben County, N.Y., and cleared a small farm, on which he resided until his death. Ronaldo Hawley, a native of Columbia County, N.Y., settled in 1840 on the farm now (1897) owned by Curry Beach. In 1841, Jeremiah Garner settled in the western part of the township, southwest of the Boardman schoolhouse. In 1842 Philo Churchill settled on the farm in the eastern part of the township now occupied by his son, Randolph Churchill. Jason Cooper, a soldier of the War of 1812, settled in 1844 in the northwestern corner of the township. In the same year, also, Daniel H. Curtis, a native of Cayuga County, N.Y., settled below Shortsville, on Crooked Creek.

In 1846 Philip Erway came into the township from Delmar Township, and settled on the farm in the "Swing Gate" district which he still occupies. (See note 7) About this time, Thomas Owlett, a native of England, settled in the northeastern part of the township. Alvin H. Rice, a native of Delaware County, N.Y., came in 1847, and settled at Little Marsh, and became the first merchant in the place.

Among other early settlers were Benson Hill, Z. Burdick, Frank Spencer, Aurora Spencer, Calvin Davis, Moses Wilhelm, Joseph Whitney, and Calvin Wheeler, Alexander Holmes, Azariah Slocum, Samuel Main, Artemus Crippen and Charles Fuller who setttled in the southern part of the township; Miletus Brown, Peter Houghtaling and Lemuel Jackson, who settled on the Shortsville road; John Bates and Samuel Stron (Strawn) on the Bates road; Burdick Hill, Dyer Clark and Josiah Hall, on the road leading from Beach's Mills to Academy Corners, and Daniel Shores, Harlow Boyce, Asher Manning, Nehemiah Smith, Ezra Allen, M. Brownell and Samuel King, in the northwestern part of the township.(7)

From reading this list of early settlers, we can know how many of the present day place names originated-names like Shortsville, Bates Hill, Treat Neighborhood, Avery Corners, Cloos Settlement, The Wass Place, Yarnell Brook, Beach Town and the Toles House. (No longer in existence.)

Cemeteries Of Chatham

There are seven small cemeteries in Chatham Township. Three were incorporated and four apparently were simply burying grounds set aside on a farm for the family or neighborhood.

The first to be incorporated is the Cloos Cemetery located in the east central part of the township. It was incorporated on 28 Aug. 1872 but was a burying ground for many years prior to the date of incorporation. It contains about 160 graves. The oldest inscription is that for John Macomber who died 25 March 1834. The latest is that of Anna C. Henel who died in 1948 and whose ashes were interred in the cemetery. The cemetery has room for more graves but is not now being used. The township supervisors maintain the cemetery although in the summer of 1978 brush has been cut on only about half of the area.

The Lee Cemetery, located in the northeast part of Chatham, was incorporated 22 Dec. 1886, but was used from about 1836. There are about 118 graves, a number of them marked by simple field stones with no inscriptions. The oldest recorded grave is that of Lydia M. Potter, who died 12 Feb. 1839. The latest is that of Della L. Treat (Mrs. Claude) who died in 1962. The cemetery is well maintained by the township supervisors, Charles Treat doing the actual work. This cemetery is fenced and has LEE CEMETERY in large letters on a grill work over the gate.

The Robert Hill Cemetery, located just northeast of the junction of Rte. 249 and the Academy Corners road above Little Marsh, was incorporated 29 Dec. 1894, but had been used for more than 50 years before that. It contains about 52 graves that have markers with inscriptions and 35 that are marked with plain field stones. The oldest marker showing an inscription is that of Henrietta M. Hawkins, who died May 21, 1834. The latest is that of Minnie M. Spencer, who died in 1963. No burials are now (1978) being made in the cemetery. It is overgrown with weeds, brush and six-inch trees and is in very poor condition—not maintained at all.

Two of the other cemeteries were located near the one room school houses in Swing Gate and Wormer. The third is located at Shortsville on the south side of Crooked Creek. The fourth is less than a mile southwest of the Wormer Cemetery.

The oldest recorded grave in the Swing Gate Cemetery is that of Solomon Cooper, who died in 1856. The last grave is that of Iva Christian, who died in 1914. There are about 30 graves. The cemetery is not maintained and is overgrown.

In the Shortsville Cemetery there are 26 marked graves with inscriptions and 15 graves located by plain field stone markers. The oldest grave that is identified by an inscription is that of A. Short, who died in 1824, and the last is that of Francis M. Short who died 16 May 1892. The pioneer John Short is buried here. This cemetery is not being maintained and is in poor condition.

The Wormer (sometimes spelled Wermer) cemetery contains about 176 graves. The oldest inscription is that of Silas W. Mead, who died 29 Aug. 1859. The latest is that of Rosina Hornsby who died in 1977. The cemetery has been maintained by Larry Mosher but he has been unable to do the work for a couple of years. The grass is not cut (Aug. 1978) but the cemetery is mostly free of brush. A petition is being circulated to ask that the supervisors take over maintenance.

About a mile south west of the Wormer Cemetery, on land owned by Charles and Ilene Mosher is a small burying lot with only seven graves. The cemetery has been enclosed by a stone wall but the wall and the cemetery are in poor condition. The oldest grave with an inscription is that of Marcus Chamberlain, killed by a falling tree, 20 Feb. 1843, age 28 years, two days. This stone carries an interesting inscription.

"Said to be the first buried here.
You, that in blooming health appear.
You do not think that death is near,
But, Oh, our God, has many ways,
To bring us mortals to our graves".

The latest grave in this cemetery is that of Josiah Westmiller, who died 11 Sept. 1872.

The inscriptions on the markers in these cemeteries read like a "Who's Who" of early pioneers. However, many of the pioneer families were buried in family plots near their houses. A simple field stone was usually used as a marker with no inscription. These burial plots were usually surrounded by a fence, quite often of woven wire. The older inhabitants who grew up in the township know of the location of some of these. In 1978 most have been obliterated - farmed and grazed so that their exact location is lost. A very few remain - those that do remain are usually at the edge of a field and are grown over with brush and filled with woodchuck holes. Sometimes lilacs still grow in them - the only remaining expression of love and sorrow.

In 1972 Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooper read and recorded all the inscriptions on the stones in the Chatham cemeteries except the Lee Cemetery which was read and recorded by Lola (Wetherbee) Franke. These Chatham lists, along with lists of all Tioga County cemeteries, were made into booklets by Rhoda (English) Ladd, Lola (Whetherbee) Franke and Hilda (Snowberger) Chance as a project of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Copies of these booklets are located in the Green Free Library at Wellsboro.

It was incorporated on 28 Aug. 1874 but was a burying ground for many years prior to the date of incorporation. It contains about 150 graves. The oldest inscription is that for John Westmiller who died 22 March 1824. The latest is that of Anne C. Bond who died in 1968 and whose ashes were scattered in the cemetery. The cemetery has room for more graves but is not now being used. The township supervisors maintain the cemetery although in the summer of 1978 brush has been cut on only about half of the area.

The Lee Cemetery, located in the northeast part of Chatham, was incorporated 22 Dec. 1883, but was used from about 1850. There are about 115 graves, a number of them marked by simple field stones with no inscriptions. The oldest recorded grave is that of Lydia M. Potter, who died 12 Feb 1850. The latest is that of Della L. Treat (Mrs. Claude) who died in 1962. The cemetery is well maintained by the township supervisors, Charles Treat doing the actual work. The Robert Hill Cemetery, located just northeast of the junction of Rte. 249 and the Academy Corners road above Little Marsh, was incorporated 23 Jan. 1896, but had been used for more than 30 years before that. It contains about 90 graves that have markers with inscriptions and 32 that are marked with plain field stones. The oldest marker showing an inscription is that of Henrietta M. Hawkins who died May 21, 1854. The latest is that of Minnie M. Spencer, who died in 1962. No burials are now (1978) being made in the cemetery. It is overgrown with weeds, brush and sumac trees and is in very poor condition—not maintained at all.

Two of the other cemeteries were located near the one room school houses in Swing Gate and Warner. The third is located at Shortsville on the south side of Crooked Creek. The fourth is less than a mile southwest of the Warner Cemetery.

The Warner (sometimes spelled Werner) cemetery contains about 176 graves. The oldest inscription is that of Silas W. Mead, who died 23 Aug. 1838. The latest is that of Bettina Hornsby who died in 1977. The cemetery has been maintained by Larry Mosher but he has been unable to do the work for a couple of years. The grass is not cut (Aug. 1978) but the cemetery is mostly free of brush. A petition is being circulated to ask that the supervisors take over maintenance.

About a mile south west of the Warner Cemetery, on land owned by Charles and Irene Mosher is a small burying lot with only seven graves. The cemetery has been enclosed by a stone wall but the wall and the cemetery are in poor condition. The oldest grave with an inscription is that of Marcus Chamberlain, killed by a falling tree, 20 Feb. 1843, age 58 years, two days. This stone carries an interesting inscription.

The 1850 Census

The 1850 census for Chatham Township reveals valuable information about the inhabitants of the township just 22 years after its organization in 1828. The census was enumerated by D. Dewey, Assistant Marshal, on Sept. 4, 1850. (It should be kept in mind that the census included those living in the northern part of the township which was returned to Deerfield Township in 1879, and is still a part of Deerfield.) The census gives the population as white males 649, white females 559, colored male one, dwellings 216, and families 220.

The census shows the place of birth of each person who lived in Chatham Township in 1850. This chart gives the number born in the various states or countries.

Pennsylvania	569
New York	512
Vermont	40
Massachusetts	21
Rhode Island	14
Connecticut	13
New Hampshire	9
England	7
New Jersey	2
Ohio	2
Canada	2
Maryland	1
Delaware	1
Ireland	1
No Birthplace listed	3
	1195

The census enumerator shows the population as 1209. However, the census list contains only 1195 names. Either 14 names were omitted from the list or the enumerator made an error in his addition. He did not have the advantage of a pocket calculator. This chart shows that the prime source of the early settlers was New York and New England. Many of those persons listed as being born in New York and Pennsylvania were from stock originating in New England.

Another interesting fact is that of the 475 inhabitants on the list who are 22 years old or older (who were born at the time of or prior to the formation of the township) only 113 were born in Pennsylvania. A senior citizens' center was not needed in Chatham Township in 1850. There were only 26 who were listed as being 65 years old or older. The two oldest listed in the census were: Josiah Hall, age 80, and Moses Atwood, age 82.

Chatham Township has always been a farming community. This shows even in the 1850 census in the occupations listed for 301 of the inhabitants. Occupations listed:

Farmers	190
Laborers	93
Carpenters	7

Many of the laborers listed were the teenage sons of the families.

As one reads the 1850 census list one sees many names which are still common in Chatham Township or surrounding townships: names such as: Beach, Smith, Carr, Palmer, Cummings, Bryant, Seely, Bliss, Cady, Church, Potter, Kinney, Butler, Bowen, Allen, Gleason, Van Dusen, Owlett, Mosher, Croft, Clark, Chamberlain, Humphrey, Doane, Hotelling (Houghtaling), Freeman, Baker, Manning, Hall, Wass, Howland, Costley, Miller, Treat, Lee, Close, Sweet, Short, Brown, Fuller, Gee, Perry, King, Andrews, Hackett, Manning, Hall, Wass, Howland, Costley, Miller, Treat, Lee, Close, Sweet, Short, Brown, Fuller, Gee, Perry, King, Andrews, Hackett, Slocum, Cole, Buckley, Rice, Reynolds, Boom, Spencer, Wheeler, Garner, Taylor, Cooper, Erway and Avery.

Note: This information is taken from the 1850 census records of Tioga County, Pa., copied and compiled by Rhoda (English) Ladd, Lola (Wetherbee) Franke and Hilda (Snowberger) Chance in 1972. A copy is available at the Green Free Library, Wellsboro. The census is an excellent source of information for those interested in their family genealogy. It contains the names of all inhabitants by family groups, age, occupation, real estate value and birthplace.

Original Deed Holders To Lands In Chatham

This list shows the names of purchasers of lands in Chatham Township who received the first deeds to property from the Bingham Estate. Most of the land was bought by land contract. There were many who contracted to buy land, may have even settled on it, but for some reason never completed payment, so never received a deed. This list does not include those people.

The list does include the names of those purchasers of land in the northern part of the Township which was included in Chatham Township until 1879, at which time it was returned to Deerfield. The heavy period of purchases was during the years 1840-1870. Binghams sold their last piece of property in Chatham in 1900 to C. B. Button. Not all purchasers became settlers, some were speculators.

A number in parentheses after a name shows the number of pieces of property (lots) purchased. If there is no number, the purchase was one lot. The acreage shown is the total amount purchased; a letter after a name indicates that some of the property was located in an adjacent township: Clymer-C; Deerfield-D; Farmington-F; Middlebury-M; Shippen-S; Westfield-W.

All information has been taken from the Map of Bingham Lands, William S. Woodhouse: April 1911, located in the Green Free Library, Main Street, Wellsboro.

History of Tioga Co. PA - Brown + Co

the I. O. O. F., the K. O. T. M., and the I. O. R. M. societies, in all of which he takes an active interest.

Giles Roberts, a prominent merchant of Knoxville, was born in Cincinnatus, Cortland county, New York, March 10, 1832, and is a son of Samuel and Eliza (Green) Roberts. The Roberts family came from Connecticut, and the Green family from Rhode Island. Mr. Roberts was reared in his native county until sixteen years of age, and obtained a common school education. In 1848 he went to Rhode Island, where he served an apprenticeship of three years at the tinner's trade, and later worked as a journeyman in Massachusetts and New Hampshire. In 1853 he settled at Knoxville, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and the same year embarked in the tin and stove business, as a member of the firm of Markham & Roberts, which partnership existed for ten years. He then purchased his partner's interest, and has since carried on a general hardware business. During this period he was also a member of the firm of Markham & Roberts, lumber dealers, and did quite an extensive business in that line. In January, 1855, Mr. Roberts married Helen Dunham, a daughter of William and Ruby (Mattison) Dunham, of Knoxville, and has one daughter living, Mrs. Alfred Edgcomb. He is now serving his third term as justice of the peace of Knoxville; was coroner of Tioga county one term, and has always given an earnest support to the principles and measures of the Republican party.

Henry G. Short was born in De Reuyter, Madison county, New York, February 14, 1821, a son of Zadock and Hannah (Van Horn) Short. He was reared in Cortland county, New York, but never attended school except six weeks, and whatever education he possesses was self-acquired. In 1852 he settled at Knoxville, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and for fifteen years was a traveling salesman for a New York hat, cap and fur house, and for an additional fifteen years filled a similar position for a wholesale grocery house of the same city. He still lives in the suburbs of Knoxville, on a farm of thirty acres, upon which he settled more than forty years ago, clearing and improving the land through the passing years. Mr. Short was married July 2, 1845, to Mercy Barker, a daughter of Albert and Sophronia (Eastman) Barker, of Homer, Cortland county, New York. They are the parents of two children: Helen A., wife of E. H. Bowen, and John G. In early life Mr. Short served a four years' apprenticeship at the harness-maker's trade, but not liking the business, he never followed it afterwards. He is a member of the E. A. U., and the P. of H. In politics, he is a Democrat, and has held every local office in Knoxville from burgess down.

Joel Johnson was born in Triangle, Broome county, New York, August 28, 1818, a son of Edward and Roxanna (Cook) Johnson. On attaining his majority he engaged in farming until 1852, when he located at Jasper, Steuben county, New York, where he operated a steam saw-mill and grist-mill for three years. He then returned to Triangle, Broome county, whence he removd in 1863 to Knoxville, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, and purchased the grist and saw-mill property later operated by his son, Laverne J. He continued in this business until his death, which occurred November 9, 1893, at the age of seventy-five years. In 1888 he tore down the old mill, erected in 1825 by Silas Billings, and built the present one, which is equipped with all the modern improvements of mill machinery. His 1798 he and his son, William, camped on and enlarged the Strawbridge clearing. In the spring of 1799 the two families journeyed from Painted Post to Nelson, first known as Beecher's Island, and from there traveled up the Cowanesque river on the ice to their new home in the wilderness. The Knox family located on the old Strawbridge clearing and the Seelye family half a mile further east, building a cabin of bark, which was replaced a year and a half later by a log house. These two families thus became the first settlers in the township.

On March 28, 1800, the first male white child born in the Cowanesque valley was added to the household of William Knox. This was James Knox, who died September 20, 1881, having spent his entire life in the township. On May 4th of the same year a daughter, Sally, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Seelye, who afterwards became the wife of Prince King, of Westfield township. She was the first female white child born in the township.

Among the first to settle in the township after the Knox and Seelye families, was Bethlehem Thompson, who located on the Emmer Bowen place, but soon sold out to Reuben Cook. In 1803 John Howland and his son, Dr. Eddy Howland, whose Puritan ancestors came from England in the Mayflower in 1620, settled on what was long known as the Eddy Howland place. They came from Rhode Island. Emmer Bowen, a native of Rhode Island, came in 1804 and bought out Jesse Rowley, who appears to have been here at that time. James Costley, an early grist-mill owner, came before 1805 and settled south of the river opposite Knoxville. Rev. David Short settled in 1806 upon the farm afterward owned by A. H. Bacon, and lived there until 1813. Newbury Cloos settled in 1807, in which year also Joshua Colvin settled near Academy Corners. About this time, also, John and Reuben Short, Jonathan M. Rogers, Curtis Cady, David Short and James Yarnall settled. Mr. Yarnall located on the brook south of Academy Corners that bears his name. In 1808 James, John and William Falkner settled in the eastern part of the township. In 1811 Jonathan, Solomon and Alexander Matteson and their parents came from Salisbury, Herkimer county, New York. Jonathan, with whom the old folks lived, settled on the site of Knoxville, his land embracing the greater part of the present borough area. Solomon and Alexander settled east of him. In 1811 Levi Cook, a blacksmith, the year of whose coming cannot be ascertained, sold his place east of Knoxville to Zadoc Bowen, a carpenter, and a brother of Emmer Bowen, Sr. Joseph Falkner, Sr., a native of the State of New York, was an early settler, and cleared the farm now occupied by the widow of his son, Joseph Falkner. Eleazer Clark, a native of Rhode Island, came on horseback from his native state in 1814, and settled on the farm now owned by his son, E. H. Clark. James King, a native of Rhode Island, settled in the western part of the township sometime between 1815 and 1820. About 1821 the family removed to Westfield township. John Wakeley was also an early settler. He removed to Brookfield township in 1827. George Champlin, a native of Rhode Island, came in 1821, worked a farm on shares for a year, and then removed to Potter county. Fifteen years later he settled in Westfield township. Hiram Gilbert, a carpenter, and a native of New England, settled in the township in 1824, worked at his trade for several years, and then embarked in the boot and shoe business in Knoxville. Moses Inscho, well known as a lumberman, came in from Lawrence township in Deerfield township, in 1817, with Eleazer Clark, a relative. Soon after arriving at manhood's estate he became an early settler in Chatham township, locating on the farm now occupied by his son, Alanson Clark. Isaac Cole, the oldest living resident of the township, came as early as 1831-32. William Spaulding, a native of Hebron, New York, removed from Vermont to Potter county, Pennsylvania, in 1835, and in 1836 came to Chatham township, settling on the farm below Chatham Valley, now occupied by his son-in-law, D. H. Curtis. Robert Hill and Rensselaer Toles settled on the site of the village of Little Marsh in the early thirties, the former locating above and the latter below the creek bridge in the village. In 1836 Matthew Boom settled in the northwestern part of the township, near the "Swing Gate" school house. In 1837 Nehemiah Beach removed from Knoxville, located at Little Marsh, and engaged in lumbering. In 1847 he removed one mile west to the property now owned by his son, S. P. Beach. Harvey Leach, for many years a prominent physician with a large practice, came into the township in 1837, from Steuben county, New York, and cleared a small farm, on which he resided till his death. Ronaldo Hawley, a native of Columbia county, New York, settled in 1840 on the farm now owned by Curry Beach. In 1841 Jeremiah Garner settled in the western part of the township, southwest of the Boardman school house. In 1842 Philo Churchill settled on the farm in the eastern part of the township now occupied by his son, Randolph Churchill. Jason Cooper, a soldier of the War of 1812, settled in 1844 in the northwestern corner of the township. In the same year, also, Daniel H. Curtis, a native of Cayuga county, New York, settled below Shortsville, on Crooked creek. In 1846 Philip Erway came into the township from Delmar township, and settled on the farm in the "Swing Gate" district which he still occupies. About this time Thomas Owlett, a native of England, settled in the northeastern part of the township. Alvin H. Rice, a native of Delaware county, New York, came in 1847, and settled at Little Marsh, and became the first merchant in the place.

Among other early settlers were Benson Hill, Z. Burdick, Frank Spencer, Aurora Spencer, Calvin Davis, Moses Wilhelm, Joseph, Whitney and Calvin Wheeler, Alexander Holmes, Azariah Slocum, Samuel Main, Artemus Crippen and Charles Fuller, who settled in the southern part of the township; Miletus Brown, Peter Houghtaling and Lemuel Jackson, who settled on the Shortsville road; Samuel Mosher, Nathan Taylor and Daniel Hill, on the Mosher road; John Bates and Samuel Strong, on the Bates road; Burdick Hill, Dyer Clark and Josiah Hall, on the road leading from Beach's Mills to Academy Corners, and Daniel Shores, Harlow Boyce, Asher Manning, Nehemiah Smith, Ezra Allen, M. Brownell and Samuel King, in the northwestern part of the township.

PIONEER INDUSTRIES.

Chatham, at the time of its settlement, being a forest-covered township, lumbering preceded agriculture as its most important industry. The leading purpose of the settlers was, however, to, as quickly as was possible, transform these tracts into cultivated farms. Their main dependence for the accomplishment of this work was a keen-edged ax and their own strong arms. Unwilling to wait until better roads and a denser population should create a demand for the pine and hemlock

The reannexing of a portion of the township recently to Deerfield has lessened the number. Among the old teachers of the township were Stephen Wade, Stephen Martin, Miss Susie Gibson, Daniel Vandusen, Mary Vandusen, and Polly Close. The first school-houses in the township were roughly constructed; but for the last fifteen years much progress has been made in the selection of sites and in the character of the edifices.

THE SETTLERS.

For many years the attention of the settlers was largely devoted to lumbering, and a number of saw-mills have been erected in the township. Several are in operation now, and a large one, with a flouring-mill attached, is proposed. There have been eleven mills within two miles of Little Marsh post-office.

In 1829, according to the assessment of Allen Fraser jr., the following persons were taxable in the township:

Cyrus Ames, Aaron Alba, James Allen, Francis Burrell, Alexander Burrell, Beersheba Bates, Asa Bates, Silas Billings, Daniel Baker, Martin Boardman, John Bates, Nathan Baker, Stephen Colvin, Joel Crandall, Samuel Carpenter, Allen Fraser jr., Eddy Howland jr., Joseph Howland, John Knox, William Knox, David Lesure, John Macumber, Joseph Matson, David Seamans, Lovell Short, Samuel Strawn, John P. Tracey, Elijah Thompson, Samuel Taylor, widow A. W. Tracey, William Wass, Joseph Yarnall.

A number of these were non-residents, and only about twenty were actual settlers. Those living along the valley of Crooked Creek had come in by that way, and those living in the northern part by way of the Cowanesque River.

Among the early settlers on Crooked Creek were W. L. Merrick, William Spalding, Doctor Harvey Leach, John Short, Asa Short, Rennselaer Toles, Robert Hill, Nehemiah Beach, H. B. Leonard, David Lesure, Lovell Short, George Hawley and Daniel Hill. North of the creek, in the Close district, were Caleb Close, Charles Avery, Reuben Close, Armand Close, Abel Close, Amasa Clark, Samuel Miller, John Macumber, William Wass, Russell Humphrey, ——— Chappell, Russell Temple, Sylvester Treat and Benjamin Vandusen. In the southern portion the early settlers were Benoni Hill, who settled on the farm now owned by Alexander Wass; Z. Burdick on the place now owned by William Wass jr.; Frank Spencer, on the farm now owned by John Reynolds; Aurora Spencer, on the farm of Elisha Smith, of Tioga; Calvin Davis, on the place owned by Elisha Davis; ——— Barnes, on the farm now owned by C. W. Avery; Moses Wilhem, on the farm now owned by George Wheeler; Joseph, Whitney and Calvin Wheeler. The farm now owned by Charles Lane was first occupied by Alexander Holmes. Jesse Moffett settled on lands now owned by Miner Jackson; Azariah Slocum on lands owned now by E. Carpenter; Samuel Main on lands now owned by Mrs. S. P. Beach. Other settlers were Artemus Crippin and Charles Fuller.

On the Shortsville road the first settlers were Lovell Short, John Short jr., Miletus Brown, Peter Hoteling, ——— Gee, Lemuel Jackson and C. A. Carpenter.

On the Mosher road were Samuel Mosher, Nathan Taylor, ——— Paddock, ———Crampton (on the place now owned by C. C. Trumbull) and Daniel Hill (on what is known as "Dan Hill's Knob").

On the Bates road the settlers were John Bates and Samuel Strong. John Bates cleared up a farm of 200 acres, and still resides upon it. Samuel Strong's farm is now owned by his son Samuel Strong jr.

On the road leading from Beach's mill north to Academy Corners, in the township of Deerfield, among the early settlers were Burdick Hill, on the place now owned by L. O. Beach; Dyer Clark; Josiah Hall, on the place now owned by Messrs. Brague & Beach; ——— Tiffany, on the place now owned by Ashley Spencer; Leonard Clark and George Wass.

Among the early settlers on the road leading from "Swing Gate school-house" were Daniel Shoves, on the farm now owned by John Boyce; Harlow Boyce; Asher Manning; Nehemiah Smith, on lands now owned by Freeman Smith; Ezra Allen, M. Brownell, Philip Erway, —— Simpson; —— Boom, on lands now owned by his son Benjamin Boom; Samuel King, on lands now owned by William R. Freeman, and Winchester Cooper, on lands now owned by Joseph and Robert Cooper.

On the New Marsh road Freeman Smith built a steam mill and erected a number of dwellings. The settlers along this road are Abram Wormer, Alexander Lattimer and Ira Baker.

On the Ridge road, leading from near Beach's mill on Crooked Creek to the Wormer school-house and on to Sabinsville, the early settlers were John Winters, on the farm now owned by W. W. Beach; William Brague; James Doane, on lands now owned by James Doane jr.; Daniel Doane; Jerry Garner, on lands now owned by Delos Garner; and J. W. Burrows, near the town line between Clymer and Chatham.

There are a number of new roads in the township made for the purpose of lumbering, but the foregoing will give the reader a very correct idea of who first settled in the township, and where they located.

Few of the present day appreciate the hardships and privations of the pioneers who forty or fifty years ago came into the wilderness and began clearing up new farms. These privations and hardships we have often alluded to in our general and township histories. In Chatham there was the same experience as elsewhere: conflicts with the panther, bear and wolf, and sport with the deer, elk and fish; the log house, the sheep or cattle fold, the clearing of fallows, the logging bees, the raisings, the social gatherings, the cutting out of roads, the erection of mills, school-houses and churches, the humble fare, the rigid economy, sickness, death, marriages

The name Deerfield was given to the township because there was such an abundance of deer in its then extensive boundaries.

The main tributary of the Cowanesque in this town comes in from the north, and is mentioned in early deeds as "Troup's Town Branch." Latterly it has been known as Troup's Creek in common parlance, and is so called on all maps. It derived its name from Robert Troup, attorney in fact for David Cathcart (Lord Alloway) and Masterton Ure, owners of extensive landed estates in the adjoining county of Steuben in New York, in which it has its source. He was also secretary of the treasury board of the Continental Congress. (Pennsylvania Archives, Second Series, Vol. III, p. 336.)

Yarnall Brook was named for James Yarnall, who settled near its mouth about 1807. James Mix, a full blooded negro, was the first settler at the mouth of this stream. Yarnall bought him out and the brook took his name.

INDIANS.

There is abundant evidence of the occupancy of Deerfield by the Indians for several centuries previous to the appearance of the white man. Many Indian implements of flint and stone have been found, such as arrowheads, spearheads, knives and axes. Stone tools for grinding corn and for dressing the skins of animals were often picked up by the first settlers while working in their fields. An occasional Indian pipe of stone has been found.

The most remarkable evidence of ancient Indian occupancy of Deerfield was the mound discovered in the forest at Academy Corners. Joshua Colvin purchased the ground where that hamlet now stands of William Knox sen., in 1808; took possession of it in 1809, and in 1810 cleared the land of its timber. Where the stores of Martin V. Purple and Daniel H. Buckbee now stand he found a mound about seventy feet in diameter, raised about four feet above the level of the valley. The summit of the mound was level. In the fall of 1810 Mr. Colvin dug a hole in the center of this mound in which to bury his potatoes. When he had dug a little over three feet deep he was surprised to find human bones and Indian implements. He found arrowheads of flint, and axes made of a very hard blue stone, with a neck, probably intended for a withe handle. The bones taken out were skulls and thigh bones and were very much decomposed. Two or three pine trees grew upon the top of this mound, which were over two feet in diameter, and the rings of annual growth, as they were counted at the time, indicated that the trees were at least two hundred years old. It does not seem from any account that we have that an attempt was made to determine the number of skeletons buried in this mound. The fact that the smaller bones had become entirely decomposed showed that the mound was one of high antiquity. Of the object of its erection we can only conjecture. "If these mounds were sometimes used as cemeteries of distinguished persons, they were also used as monuments with a view of perpetuating the recollection of some great battle, event or transaction." (Trans. Amer. Antiq. Soc., 1820, Vol. I, page 164.)

Many Indians were found in Deerfield by the first white settlers. They belonged to the tribes of the Seneca nation of the league of the Iroquois or Six Nations. They came from the Genesee Valley, entering Deerfield by way of Troup's Creek, down which they had a path or trail. They mainly used the Cowanesque Valley as a hunting and fishing park. They came here in the spring and summer to hunt and fish, and returned in the fall to their villages upon the Genesee to spend the winter. They had some girdlings and sandy bars along the river where the squaws raised corn, beans and squashes. One of these was on the bank of the river near the residence of William D. Knox—the site of Union Academy. This was a favorite camping place with them. It is a tradition that Mary Jemison, "the white woman of the Genesee," whose seventy years of strange vicissitudes among the Indians fill a page of history and volumes of romance, camped here for several seasons with her band of dusky companions. Leaving tradition for fact, we find that several well known Seneca chiefs with their hunting parties came here from 1790 to 1820. The name of one chief was Sundown. He led a band of twenty braves. Another chief who frequented these hunting grounds with his band rejoiced in the name of Billy Shanks. The leader of another band was John Little Beard, who no doubt was a son of the famous Seneca chief Little Beard, who died in 1806. The Indians were friendly in their intercourse with the whites, and often went to the cabins of the early settlers to trade venison for meal or bread. They were very fond of ack-kwa-nun-gwa, which it is remembered stood for "bread and milk" in the Senaca dialect. The Indians built their wigwams in their camps facing each other, with the fire between. If a pole was set up against a wigwam it was a notice to all comers not to enter, as the owner was absent.

An incident is told of the relations of the early settlers and their Indian neighbors: William Knox and his son camped just below Academy Corners during the summer of 1798. A band of Indians had their camp on the river bank near by. Young Knox spent his leisure time in sport with the young Indians. The Indians and the Knoxes got their supply of water from the same spring. For some time it was observed that after the Indians got water the spring was very roily. Young Knox determined to learn the cause. He secreted himself behind a thornbush near the spring. Soon a young Indian stealthily approached and, after dipping up water, went into the spring and stirred up the mud with his feet. At that instant young Knox threw a stone, hitting the Indian on the head. He fell to the ground and for a few moments lay unconscious, but, recovering, sprang to his feet and ran. After that the Knoxes and the Indians had no intercourse and the spring remained clear.

Year by year the visits of the Indians to this valley became less frequent, and their parties smaller in number, and about 1825 they disappeared altogether.

LANDS AND SETTLEMENTS.

At what time the first white man made a settlement in Deerfield cannot now be definitely determined. The people who came and permanently located on the lands, in 1798 found, near where the hamlet of Academy Corners now stands, a log house much decayed, and a field on the river bank chopped and partly cleared, and enclosed with a log fence, in the corners of which thorn trees six inches in diameter had grown up; and on the south side of the river they found a mill-race dug out and almost finished near the mouth of Yarnall Brook. James Strawbridge made this settlement. It is inferred from the evident age of the improvements that it was made during the Revolutionary war, and tradition asserts that Strawbridge was obliged to abandon his home on account of the hostility of the Indians at the time of Sullivan's expedition up the Susquehanna and Chemung in 1779.

Another tradition makes Strawbridge's settlement at least six years later. May 17th 1785 James Strawbridge obtained land warrant No. 451, which was located June 25th of the same year along the Cowanesque River, from Joseph S. Ingham's woolen factory to Wallace Gilbert's farm. After this purchase, says our other tradition, Strawbridge made his settlement, and was driven away by white squatters, who killed his oxen, purloined his plow and destroyed his crops on the belief that his claim to title in the lands was antagonistic to their interests. As to who these squatters were the tradition is silent, nor do we have any authentic account of them. Were the Strawbridge warrants located in the Cowanesque Valley because of the information obtained of its fertility during a previous settlement? Or were the warrants located first and the lands occupied afterward? We are unable to answer. From these theories and traditions we assort the facts that not long before or after the purchase of the lands of the commonwealth in 1785-6 Strawbridge made a settlement, and then was disturbed and driven out of the country.

In 1785 and 1786 all the land in the Cowanesque Valley in Deerfield was surveyed, upon warrants issued to James Strawbridge and Thomas Proctor, and in June 1790 the valley of Troup's Creek was surveyed, upon two warrants issued to James Stewart. Warrants issued to James Strawbridge under date of February 25th 1794 were located upon the remaining territory of Deerfield north of the Cowanesque River in May and June of that year.

James Strawbridge, following the English fashion, gave a distinguishing name to each tract surveyed under his warrants. He called the stretch of flat lands where he made his settlement "James's Choice." It extended from Academy Corners to the woolen factory. The warrant located from the woolen factory easterly to the Osceola town line he named "Pleasant Garden," and the territory reaching westerly from Academy Corners to the Westfield line he named "Delight." He gave names to all the tracts lying north of the valley. The wooded knob north of the woolen factory he named "Mount Pleasant," and to the other tracts he gave such names as "Blooming Grove," "Fertility," "Richland" and "Spring Field." He acquired the warrantee rights of Thomas Proctor and James Stewart, and to him the patents were issued by the commonwealth, and these lands became a part of the "Strawbridge tract."

The subsequent history of the lands of the "Strawbridge tract" before they came into the hands of actual settlers is briefly told: James Strawbridge, the patentee, in his life time executed a mortgage to Jonathan Smith, of Philadelphia, and others, as trustees for the widow and heirs of John Strawbridge, deceased. This mortgage was foreclosed and the lands were sold at sheriff's sale at Williamsport, Pa., November 30th 1807. George Strawbridge, a nephew of James Strawbridge, was the purchaser at this sale.

The next month, December 1807, he came upon the lands in person, offering to sell and convey to settlers. His terms were $8 per acre if the purchaser took all flat land, and $4 per acre if he took one-half flat and one-half hill land. His sales were all upon time. His manner of doing the business was to execute a deed and take back a mortgage. In many cases the mortgage was for the full amount of the purchase money. In this way Mr. Strawbridge sold all of the flat lands in the valley, attending to the business personally. Subsequently he constituted Michael R. Tharp his attorney in fact to manage his real estate. Finally, January 24th 1822, he conveyed to Jonathan D. Ledyard (who married Jane, daughter of George Strawbridge) "all lands lying between the farms on the Cowanesque River and the New York State line," for $100 and other considerations.

March 6th of the same year Jonathan D. Ledyard and Jane his wife sold to Silas Billings the same lands, described in the conveyance as "about 7,000 acres," for the consideration of $2,000. Mr. Billings moved into the county, took personal supervision of his estate, and by his enterprise and outlay of capital did much to develop it. From him and his heirs the lands have passed into the hands of actual settlers upon the soil.

The lands on the south side of the Cowanesque River in Deerfield were surveyed upon warrants issued to Thomas M. Willing, Robert Blackwell, and William Lloyd, in 1792-3. The interest of the warrantees was subsequently acquired by William Bingham the elder, and to him, or the trustees named in his will, the patents were issued. From the Bingham estate the lands have been purchased by actual occupants, and by them have been cleared of the timber and improved into farms.

The first settlers who came to stay were William Knox sen. and Ebenezer Seelye. Both had large families. Knox was from Massachusetts and Seelye from Connecticut. They had temporarily resided some years near Painted Post, N. Y. As has been seen James Strawbridge had made some improvements in Deerfield. In 1797 or about that time he approached Seelye and urged him to settle upon his lands upon the Cowanesque, offering as an inducement to sell at $2.50 per acre, making no charge for the improvements. This offer was accepted. Seelye, however, did not wish to go into the wilderness alone. He offered Knox the improvements if he would join him. Knox accepted the offer, and in 1798, with his son William Knox jr., camped upon their new farm and enlarged their clearing. In the fall they returned to Painted Post, and spent the winter with the family. The next spring (March 1799) both families moved into the wilderness, traveling from Beecher's Island (now Nelson) to their new home upon the ice in the river, as there was no road cut through the forest. They found the valley of the Cowanesque covered with a growth of magnificent timber. Black walnut was abundant, growing very straight and tall, some specimens of it being six feet in diameter. White oak and burr oak and stately white pine predominated. Here and there were tracts of elegant maple. Along the sandy flats and coves of the island stream and Cowanesque were majestic elm, butternut and buttonwood trees. In low and swampy places grew dense forests of hemlock and black ash. Into this howling wilderness they had come to build their homes.

Ebenezer Seelye settled half a mile to the eastward of the Strawbridge clearing occupied by Knox. Ebenezer Seelye a son of Eleazer in 1867 contributed to the Wellsboro Agitator a brief chapter of pioneer experiences, from which we quote. After detailing the arrival of the family he says:

> "My father erected a cabin of bark set against a large pine log, and lived in it for a year and a half. He then built a log house. In this he lived the first winter without a floor, there being no saw-mill nearer than Painted Post. For a grist-mill we used a stump hollowed out by fire for a mortar, and a spring pestle. In this we pounded our samp for bread and pudding timber for two years. After a while several of the settlers clubbed together and purchased a pair of millstones about two feet in diameter, which we turned by hand. At first we could only raise corn. Wheat blasted, rusted, and would not mature. This state of things lasted seven or eight years, when wheat, rye and oats began to be raised. The family dressed chiefly in deer skins, and I was ten years old before I had a pair of shoes."

The Knox family had their share of pioneer hardships. Willam Knox jr. was sent by his father in the first years of their residence in Deerfield to Williamsport to mill, in mid-winter, with a sled hauled by a yoke of steers, and an old gray-tailed mare for a leader. Thinly clad and poorly fed he made his way across the wilderness by way of what is now Wellsboro and Liberty, and was so long performing the trip that the grist was mostly fed to the team. The family at home became very anxious at the delay in his return. But one night about midnight they were awakened by a noise in front of the house, and found that the steers and old gray-tail had returned with William asleep in the bottom of the sled, nearly frozen.

The next year after the arrival of these pioneer families (1800) a child was born to each—Sally Seelye (tenth and youngest child of Ebenezer, and afterward wife of Prince King), and James, son of William Knox. These were the first white children born in the Cowanesque Valley.

From this time forward settlers came into the township freely. Bethlehem Thompson was among the first. He settled where Emmer Bowen now resides, but soon sold his possession to Reuben Cook. In 1803 John Howland and his son Eddy came and settled where Eddy Howland the younger now resides. In 1807 Emmer Bowen sen. bought a possession of Jesse Rowley, and subsequently the right of soil, where Benjamin Salsbury Bowen now resides. During the year 1807 Emmer Bowen, Newbury Cloos, James, John and William Falkner, John Short, Reuben Short, Jonathan M. Rogers and Curtis Cady bought farms. So also about the same time did Zadoc Bowen, David Short, James Yarnall and Joshua Colvin. Besides these there were several families who occupied and improved lands as squatters, without acquiring title.

With the year 1809 we close the pioneer period. Yarnall came from Philadelphia, and the Bowens, Howlands, Clarks and Colvins from Rhode Island. Nearly all of the early settlers came from the eastern States, whose sterile soil they were glad to exchange for the more fertile fields and milder climate of the Cowanesque Valley. To acquire these they had to undergo the privations of pioneer life, and they met their hardships with manly courage and womanly endurance.

HUNTING STORIES.

Bears, deer, elk, panthers, otters, wolves, minks, wild cats, beavers and other wild animals abounded in Deerfield. The early settlers used no dogs in pursuing deer. A hunter was sure to find one within easy range, either standing in the river, browsing on the hill sides, or at one of the numerous "licks." The most noted of these was the "Grand Deer Lick," near the residence of Isaac Sutton. A school house is also located near the place. It consisted of a salty spring on low ground, and a wooded knoll near by, upon which a "blind" was erected, behind which the hunter concealed himself. Hundreds of deer have been killed here when they came to lick the brackish water. Mud licks were more numerous and not so much frequented by deer.

On the north hill below Academy Corners there is a cave popularly known by the name of "Bear Wallow." The tradition that it was a residence and safe retreat for Bruin it is impossible to trace to an authentic source, although the name that still attaches to the place would seem to indicate that such was the case. There are, however, a few stories of encounters with wild animals that are perfectly authentic.

In the winter of 1806 Ebenezer Seelye had his hogs taken by bears one after another, to the number of eight. He determined to save the old sow, and built a log pen and put her in it. One night, about 10 or 11 o'clock, he heard a loud squealing at the hog pen. His two sons, Julius and Elanson, aged respectively 17 and 13, went hurriedly out and found a bear in the pen. The bear had the hog in his embrace and was trying to lift her out of the pen. Julius seized an axe and dealt the bear a blow upon the back, embedding the bit of the axe in the meat. The bear at once let go of the hog and fled, taking the axe with him. The axe was found the next morning about ten rods from the house. The remains of the bear were found in the woods near the north hill.

Rev. David Short settled in 1806 upon the farm now owned by the heirs of Ard Hoyt Bacon, and lived there until 1813. His home was upon the bank of the river and his pig pen near the door. One morning just at break of day he heard his pig making a furious outcry. He went out and found a bear trying to carry it away. He seized his rifle and shot the bear from his door.

In 1812 Reuben Howland, then a young man, heard a dog barking in the woods about one hundred rods north of the main Cowanesque road. Upon going where the dog was Reuben found a large panther on a lateral limb of a large oak tree, about forty feet from the ground. He left the dog barking up the tree, went to the house of John Sweet (who lived where Loren Carpenter does now), and got him to go and shoot the panther. Sweet had a short gun he called his "Hessian rifle." He fired two or three times with this gun before he brought the animal down. The State paid at that time a bounty of $8 for killing a panther. In this case the bountywas divided by consent of the parties—Sweet getting $4, Reuben Howland $2, and Elanson Seelye $2, because he owned the dog that discovered the game.

Eddy Howland sen. was an adept in trapping. At the spring on the farm where Joseph Howland now lives (from which the family at present gets its supply of water) he caught eight wolves in one winter. In March 1815 he caught a she wolf in one of his traps. Mr. Howland and his son Reuben tied her firmly about the neck with moosewood bark. They tied crotched sticks to the moosewood and by the use of these they conveyed the wolf home between them. They put her in a small log barn, and in about a week she was delivered of four whelps. After these were a few days old they killed the whole party, and obtained the bounty, which at that time was $8 per head. Mr. Howland bought 150 acres of land at $4 per acre, and paid a large share of the purchase money with the bounty he had received for killing wolves. The State never paid a bounty upon bears.

Business Enterprises.

The avocation in which most of the people of Deerfield are employed is the cultivation of the soil. The climate and the soil conspire to produce excellent results in agriculture. Grain and grasses grow in great luxuriance. The cultivation of flax and hemp, which in the first forty years of the century furnished a considerable portion of the husbandry of each farm, has been entirely abandoned. So has that part of the household industry by which the raw materials of these articles were manufactured into cloth. The same remark is measurably true of the production of maple sugar.

Saw Mills.—The first saw-mill was built by Emmer Bowen and Ebenezer Seelye, on the Cowanesque, south of the present residence of Benjamin S. Bowen. It had a flutter wheel (undershot) and a single upright saw. By diligence and good management one thousand feet of panel white pine could be cut in twelve hours. This mill was operated until between 1835 and 1840.

Luke Scott built the first saw-mill on Troup's Creek, in 1820. It had an undershot wheel and a single upright saw. It was undermined and destroyed by high water in about ten years.

Eddy Howland built a saw-mill in 1804 above Knoxville on the Cowanesque. It was driven by a flutter wheel and had a single upright saw. He sold it in 1818 to Caleb Smith. This mill was afterward owned by Moses Inscho, who came into Deerfield in 1826 and operated the mill until 1847.

In 1830 Reuben Cloos built the first saw-mill on Yarnall Brook, near the present residence of Isaac Sutton. It was rigged with a flutter wheel and a single upright saw.

In 1831 James Yarnall built a saw-mill near the mouth of Yarnall Brook. This was built after the fashion of the day with flutter wheel and single upright saw, capable of cutting 1,000 feet of lumber in 12 hours.

In 1832 Luman Stevens built a saw-mill 40 by 14 feet on Yarnall Brook, flutter wheel, up-and-down saw. This did good work until 1866.

Levi Stevens in 1868 built a saw-mill on the site of the last mentioned, 32 by 68 feet. It was driven by water, with a center-vent wheel. A circular saw was used. In 1873 steam power was put into this mill, and it was capable of cutting 1,000 feet of lumber per hour. In 1879 it was burned down and rebuilt. The amount of lumber annually sawed at this mill varies from 600,000 to 1,400,000 feet.

Joseph Yarnall built a saw-mill near the mouth of Yarnall Brook in 1848. It was run by water from the Cowanesque, taken out in a race a third of a mile above the mill. This race and the river surrounded a large island on the south side of the river. This mill had improved machinery and drove three saws. Yarnall sold it in 1853 to J. W. & H. E. Potter, who conducted the business until their river dam was taken out by the great flood of 1861 and the property otherwise injured.

Messrs. Walker & Lathrop, of Corning, N. Y., in 1881 built a large saw-mill at the mouth of Inscho Run. Two circular saws are driven by steam power; A. J. Miller is the manager.

Joshua Dake built a mill on the south side of the Cowanesque, opposite Knoxville, in 1848. Two upright saws were rigged in the same gate, and driven by a center vent wheel. B. and B. Hows bought this mill in 1855; they sold it to Mattison & Billings in 1860, and they to John Goodspeed in 1865. This mill has done no business since 1880.

Grist-Mill.—Bethlehem Thompson built a log grist-mill in 1811 about a mile above Knoxville. It was propelled by water power, by an overshot wheel. He took the water from Inscho Run in long continuous troughs hewed out of pine trees, and thereby conducted it upon his wheel. The main Cowanesque road ran under this aqueduct. Thompson sold this mill to Abram Smith. It did business about ten years.

school-house at Academy Corners. It has been ministered to by the following pastors:

1829, Rev. Maxcy Burlingame; 1830-40, Revs. John Steds, Walter Brown, Valorus Beebe, James Bignall and Hiram Bacon; 1840-50, Revs. William Mack, Calvin Dodge, and Daniel Hunt; 1850-60, Asel Aldrich and Selden Butler; 1870-80, W. M. Peck and W. M. Sargent.

A large share of the time this church has conducted a Sunday-school.

The First Baptist Church of Deerfield was organized in 1843. The society has no church edifice, and has always held its meetings at school-houses. It was first known as "The Chatham and Farmington Baptist Church." The change of name was rendered necessary by a change of township lines. The society had 15 members at its organization. Among them were Walter Van Dusen and wife, Chadwick Clark and wife, Hannah Seelye, Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Treat, Mrs. Curran and Mrs. Strong. Elder Bullock was the first pastor. Walter Van Dusen and Philip Vincent were the first deacons. At present (1882) there are 43 members in the society, and Elihu Bowen and William Clark are the deacons. Rev. Philander Reynolds, Elder Bunnel and others have ministered to this church.

The Free-Will Baptist Church of Chatham, known as the "Butler Church," is situated in Deerfield township. The society was gathered by the Rev. Selden Butler, in September 1852. It began its organization with 14 members. Services were held in school-houses, barns and dwelling houses until 1874, when a neat and substantial church edifice was built and dedicated. The half acre of land upon which it stands was donated by Rev. Selden Butler. A Sunday-school has generally been conducted in connection with this church. This society has had as many as 40 members at one time, but at present has but 20.

Its pastors have been as follows: 1852, Selden Butler; 1857, William Mack; 1870-73, W. M. Sargent; 1875, Ira Leach; 1877-80, W. M. Peck; 1881, ——— Douscker; 1882, Selden Butler, who has also occupied the pulpit much of the time during intervals between the ministrations of other pastors.

Rev. Selden Butler was born in 1806, embraced religion in 1819, and began to preach the gospel in Chatham and Farmington in 1840. The country was new, and the state of society at that time such that

> "As he listened to the hymn, the parson wondered
> If it was Yankee Doodle or Old Hundred."

But over forty years has wrought a great change, and now no more orderly community gathers in its house of worship than this in South Deerfield.

PROFESSIONAL AND LITERARY MEN.

Eddy Howland was the first practitioner of medicine. He was not educated to the profession, but exercised such skill as he possessed among the new settlers in the early part of the century. He had rare good judgment, and made few mistakes.

Dr. Simeon Power came into Deerfield in 1803, when a young man, and remained about five years. He worked part of the time at coopering, and practiced medicine when called upon. He located on the south side of the Cowanesque River, opposite Knoxville. While here he boarded with James Costley. He afterward married a Miss Inscho, and settled permanently at Lawrenceville.

Jonathan Bonney came from near Horseheads, N. Y., in 1811. He had studied medicine with a practicing physician, and came into Deerfield to establish himself. He was a one-legged man. He made some removals after his first settlement, but never got so far away as to be out of reach of his patrons in Deerfield. He continued in practice here during his life.

Rev. David Short settled in Deerfield in 1806, and preached the gospel in dwelling houses, barns, and school-houses as long as he lived. He was a Baptist in belief. He came from Rhode Island. He preached all the funeral sermons in the township for many years.

William Knox, the pioneer, was a Methodist exhorter, and often held meetings—especially in his later years, when his health was infirm on account of a paralytic attack.

Allen Frazer jr., M. D., was born at Westernville, N. Y., in 1798. He was graduated by the University of the State of New York from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Western District, at Utica, January 13th 1823. He came to Deerfield in 1825 and entered upon the practice of medicine, in which he was very successful. He died in 1872. Aside from a few temporary removals he spent his life here in the pursuit of his profession. He was commissioned by Governor George Wolf as surgeon of the 129th regiment of the 2nd brigade 9th division Pennsylvania militia in 1834. He was also commissioned as a justice of the peace in 1832.

John Colton Knox was born in Deerfield, at Academy Corners, in February 1817. He was the son of William and Sally (Colvin) Knox. He received the rudiments of his education in the old "Liberty school-house." He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1839. He located at Lawrenceville, and in 1842 and 1843 edited the Lawrence Sentinel. His career in his profession and in public life is related on page 69 of this volume.

Frank W. Knox was born near Academy Corners, and is a son of James and Ann (Falkner) Knox. He removed to Potter county when young, studied law, was there admitted to the bar, and has since practiced in the courts at Coudersport. We have been unable to obtain any of the details of his life and career.

Allen Floyd Frazer was born in Deerfield, March 11th 1826. He was a son of Allen Frazer jr., M. D.; was educated in the common school and at Alfred Academy, N. Y.; graduated from the Ballston law school, and practiced law at Coudersport, Pa., and at Fox Lake, Wis. He afterward studied medicine and practiced it with success at Crestline, Ohio, where he died May 5th 1864. He contributed poetry to Graham's Magazine, and to the newspapers wherever he was located. He composed several pieces of much merit.

James Bacon was born in Deerfield, December 8th

1854. He is a son of Ard Hoyt and Lucinda (Murdock) Bacon. He attended common school at the Bulkley school-house, near the residence of B. E. Lewis. He was graduated in the classical course from Lafayette College in the class of 1876, and by the Columbia College Law School in the class of 1878. He entered upon the practice of his profession in the office of W. B. Williams in Jersey City, N. J., where he remained one year. In the summer of 1879 he removed to Elmira, N. Y., where he continues the practice of law in partnership with S. S. Taylor.

Cemeteries.

"Beneath those rugged elms, that yew tree's shade,
Where heaves the turf in many a mouldering heap,
Each in his narrow cell forever laid,
The rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep."

"The rude forefathers of the hamlet" are buried in the cemetery located at Loren Carpenter's farm, about half a mile east of Academy Corners. It is at present in an overgrown and neglected condition. The earliest known interment at this place is said to have been that of the body of a man belonging to a surveying party. A well preserved tradition asserts that his companions split planks out of a log, and without nails encoffined him by placing one plank on each side, one above and one below his body. They erected a headstone, upon which is still to be seen the inscription, in neatly cut characters, "C. C. J. 1800."

William Knox, the pioneer of the township, is buried in this ground in an unmarked grave.

We copy a few inscriptions:

"D. CLOSS D AUG 13 1826 Æ. 84."

"R. CLOOS D FEB THE 14 1826 Æ 83."

"Israel Bulkley died Jan. 18 1828, aged 66."

"John Howland died Dec. 13 1869, aged 66 yrs.

"He sleeps at last; his work is done;
Tis finished, and he's gone to rest.
His Saviour has now called him home,
To dwell in regions of the blest."

"Joseph Ingham was born in the county of York, England, February 20 1797; departed this life Dec. 25 1869."

"Sacred to the memory of Ralph Bulkley, who was drowned at Post Town 22 June 1815. Aged 20 years, 6 months and 3 days."

Interments are still made in this cemetery. It is not incorporated.

About fifty years ago Daniel Cummings gave to the public an acre of ground for burial purposes. It is situated on the south side of the Cowanesque River, opposite Knoxville. About eighty interments have been made in this ground. It is not incorporated, but is still used for burial purposes.

The South Deerfield Cemetery Association owns about half an acre of ground near the Butler church. The ground was purchased and is deeded to 19 individuals. The first interment was made in this ground in September 1862. There are now about forty graves in the cemetery. Active measures are now (1882) being taken to have articles of incorporation granted by the court.

Miscellany.

John Byers lived just west of Academy Corners. He was a blacksmith by trade, a man of good education but of intemperate habits. In 1822 he took his rifle, went into a log barn near his house, lay down upon the floor, and committed suicide by shooting himself.

In November 1850 Jesse Moffit and Thomas Stone jr. engaged in an altercation in the road in front of the present residence of William C. Wood, which resulted in the death of Moffit. Joseph Yarnall resided there at that time. He employed Stone that day to assist him in butchering. Moffit had been to Knoxville and on his way home stopped at Yarnall's. The men at the butchering had a runlet of whiskey, out of which all hands took are buried. Large trees have grown up in this ground, and it is assuming the appearance of a grove of large proportions. Many graves have been opened and the remains transferred to the Evergreen cemetery.

Evergreen Cemetery was incorporated December 9th 1863, by twenty corporators, citizens chiefly of the borough. It lies a little over half a mile west from the village, on two of a series of alluvial knolls, and contains about twenty acres of ground very nicely and judiciously laid out. In September and October 1881 the ground and roadways were much improved and fences and gateways rebuilt. It contains at present time: 36 fine obelisks; lots sold and occupied, 169; tombstone records, 209, and graves unmarked, 163. It is in full view from the village.

THE TIOGA CHURCHES.

Baptist Church.—(Furnished by Rev. S. D. Merrick.) On the 24th of April 1813 a few Christian people assembled at the house of Benjamin Bentley in Tioga (at that time almost an unbroken wilderness) for the purpose of organizing a religious conference, with a view of ultimately becoming a regular Baptist church. The names of those constituting the conference were David Short, Richard Mitchell, Nathaniel Seeley, Titus Ives, Charles Blanchard, Benjamin Bentley, Simeon Power, Timothy Ives, Mary Bentley, Ruth Ingersoll, Abigail Mitchell, Sally Short and Ruby Mitchell. Charles Blanchard was chosen moderator and Timothy Ives clerk.

On the 26th day of February 1814 the conference adopted a covenant and articles of faith and practice. On the 18th day of June 1814 the place of meeting was changed from the house of Benjamin Bentley to the house of Richard Mitchell, and continued there until December 1816. From that time until 1844 the church center was at Mitchell's Creek, two and a half miles north of Tioga village, the meetings being held at the schoolhouse in that place.

In 1844 the present house of worship was built, and it was dedicated in December of that year. It cost about $2,000, and is supposed to be the first Baptist church edifice erected in Tioga county.

In November 1815 the conference took into consideration the propriety of being recognized as a regular Baptist church, and on the 20th of June 1816 a council was convened for that purpose, composed of the following named persons: Elder Roswell Goff and Charles Wolcott of Elmira, N. Y.; Elder Samuel Bigelow of Middlesex, N. Y.; Elders Amos Chase and John Goff of Benton, N. Y. The conference appointed as their representative Daniel Bacon. Elder S. Bigelow was chosen moderator and A. Chase clerk.

The following named persons were the constituent members of the church: David Short, James Mitchell, F. Keeney, Richard Mitchell, Elisha Tucker, John Maine, Samuel Warrener, Charles Blanchard, Ruby Mitchell, Anna Keeney, Hannah Welch, Nancy Maine, Catherine Mattison, Sally Short, Abigail Mitchell.

On the 7th of September 1816 the church observed for the first time the ordinance of the Lord's Supper, Elder Samuel Bigelow administrator.

In 1817 the church united with the Ontario Baptist Association. In 1818 it joined the Steuben Association, in 1822 the Chemung, in 1842 the Tioga Association.

The following named persons have served the church as pastors: David Short, Elisha Tucker, Samuel Bigelow, Elisha Booth, Daniel Platt, T. S. Sheardown, —— Smith, James R. Burdick, Jeremiah Weatherby, Tobias Pinkham, G. L. Stevens, B. R. Swick, Jacob Kennedy, A. M. Brown, Levi Stone, J. L. Smith, G. P. Watrous, D. R. McDermond, A. B. Chase, H. F. Hill, Ross Matthews and S. D. Merrick, the present pastor. Of the above named, Daniel Platt, Jacob Kennedy and D. R. McDermond were ordained by this church. The following persons were licensed to preach by this church: David Short, Elisha Tucker, Samuel Grinnell, S. M. Broakman and Francis Purvis. Samuel Grinnell and N. L. Reynolds were also ordained by this church.

The following named persons have served the church as deacons: Charles Blanchard, Thomas Keeney, Asaph Ellis, Isaac Adams, John Drew, A. C. Keeney, A. S. Keeney and E. T. Bentley.

Since the organization of this church there have been added by baptism, by letter and experience over 500 persons. The most important revivals were under the pastorates of Elisha Tucker, in 1820 and 1821; T. S. Sheardown, in 1836; G. L. Stevens, in 1845; William Spencer (evangelist), in 1852; Levi Stone, in 1853; G. P. Watrous, in 1862 and 1863; D. R. McDermond, 1866, and A. B. Chase, in 1870.

The first Sunday-school was organized in 1830, Deacon Isaac Adams superintendent; and from that time to the present the school has been an important auxiliary to the church.

The church numbers at present 96 members. It is sixty-five years old, has had twenty pastors and baptized over 250 converts. The present pastorate has continued eight years, while the term of settlement has been only 3¼ years on the average.

The church edifice was erected by S. M. Broakman, builder, on a lot contributed by Elijah De Pui, who also contributed some $250; other members of the church at the then low cost of valuable pine material and labor, contributed about $3,000.

St. Andrew's Episcopal Church.—(By Mrs. John W. Guernsey.) The history of the Episcopal church in Tioga dates back to the year 1840. At that time the Rev. Charles Breck, rector of St. Paul's church, Wellsboro, held occasional services. Under his direction a parish was organized and a charter applied for, but for some reason the charter was not acted on, and the parish failed of representation in the diocesan convention.

A Sunday-school under the auspices of the Episcopal church was started in June 1857, in the office of John W. Guernsey.

In 1860 the Rev. Thomas H. Cullen (deacon) was sent by the Rt. Rev. Alonzo Potter, bishop of the diocese of others located in that neighborhood. Up Mind Creek Daniel Burdick and Andrew Crowl were among the earliest settlers in the east part of the town. Rev. David Short, a Close-Communion Baptist preacher, grandfather of Robert Short, the well-known and popular Addison blacksmith, located on the Hollis place, joining the Pennsylvania line, southeast of Strait, in 1823, preaching throughout the surrounding country, and industriously working upon his farm.

Warren and Benedict Northrup settled in the Northrup Settlement in 1825.

After Mr. Gile had made a small clearing, and John Webster had settled between him and Rowley's, Rev. Aaron Baxter with his family, Alfred Nichols his son-in-law, and Simeon Freeman, a boy in his employ, settled near the Pennsylvania line, a mile farther west than Strait. Mr. Nichols had a pair of horses and $25 in money. With no experience to guide him, but with a resolute will to succeed, he built him a house 14 feet square, and barely high enough to walk into without stooping, and began to cut down the trees about his cabin. Meanwhile, Elder Baxter visited the land-office at Bath, and made an arrangement by which he should receive half a dollar an acre on all lands he might sell; the balance of $1.50 an acre to be paid at the land-office. Through his exertions that part of the town began to settle so rapidly, that in 1830 he had gathered 46 of his neighbors together into a church. His colony came from Chenango County, and included the families of James Sprague, Migeman Taft, David Hart, Samuel and Enoch Mack, Eliba Albee, Orrin Swan, and Samuel Smith.

In 1827, Elder Baxter cleared 30 acres of land and planted it to wheat, obtaining a large yield, which found a ready sale in the Tioga Valley. In 1826 a single house could be seen in a small opening among the thick, blue hemlock-trees, on the hill to the east of the Tuscarora Valley, a mile above the mouth of Mind Creek, exactly in the centre of the town. This was the home of Justus Wright, who came there when his son Isaac Wright, who still lives on the old homestead, was but six months old. Of all the dense forest of that time, there is but an occasional strip of brushwood left. The sloping hill-sides are covered with grass-lands and cultivated fields, sloping to the stream below, and dotted with the farm-houses of a people who have abandoned the woodsman's axe and rifle for the plow and reaper. A mile up the valley shines the spire of the church of South Addison. Baxter's Hill, which shorn of its woods overlooks the valley of the Cowanesque, has passed into the hands of his grandchildren. Just at the foot of the hill, below Wright's, is Parsels' mill and settlement. Ascending the east hill past Mr. Wright's to the south, the traveler finds himself overlooking a little valley upon the hill-top, open towards the southwest. Half a mile distant stands the Free Baptist church; on the hill beyond is the Nichols House, a wayside tavern years ago. Just below, in the quiet nest at your feet, is the farm-house of George H. Freeman, the present supervisor, and one of the leading citizens of the town. There is no more pleasing location in the old settlement. When his father, Simeon Freeman, left the employ of Elder Baxter in 1830, he purchased the woodland from which he reclaimed these fruitful acres, and here he passed his life. The first deacon of the first church in the town, his life honored his position. From this point the eye can trace the valleys of the Canisteo, the Tioga, and the Cowanesque Rivers; and away to the west, beyond Woodhull, the blue hills of Jasper still covered with the primeval forest. Capt. Joseph Manley, whose place is occupied by his descendants, M. M. and O. C. Manley, was one of the earlier settlers. Zelos Toles, father of Martin Toles and Mrs. Aaron Orr, came shortly after Baxter, and settled in the northeast part of the town, being, with the Orrs, the first in that direction.

Many of the early settlers came from Chenango County, making a successful journey if they came through with their teams—usually oxen—in a week, and then, perhaps, having to wait a few days for the river to fall before a crossing could be effected at Addison. Another day of driving, lifting, loading, and unloading would be consumed in getting back upon the hill, where the tired travelers found rest in the half-finished cabin, over which the tall pines and hemlocks closed, nearly shutting out the sunlight. The teams were turned loose to shift for themselves.

First after the arrival came the work of building the huge open fireplace, boring holes in the logs for pins upon which were placed shelves, chinking between the logs with blocks left from the shingles of the roof, and "daubing" with mud, tracking and spattering over house and goods, but making the whole warm and comfortable for winter. When things were put to rights the door had to be hung upon its long wooden hinges and the flaxen latch-string poked through a gimlet-hole to the outside. It was not uncommon for these labors to be interrupted by the children discovering a deer at the spring near by, when the rifle would be taken from its place over the fireplace, and soon after the monarch of the forest would be hanging from a rafter in the farther end of the cabin, his huge antlers the wonder of the children, who a few years after were skilled in the arts of woodcraft, bringing down the squirrel with unerring aim.

The whole of the timber is gone except a few straggling hemlocks, only the Parsels mill remaining in the town, working upon the down timber and hemlocks which would have been scorned by the lumbermen of ten years ago. The open flat between the Tuscarora and the mouth of Mind Creek is occupied by a large steam-tannery.

The woolen-factory—still patronized by those who spin their own yarns—is located a short distance above the old Wombough homestead, in the Tuscarora Valley. This factory was built by William Wombough, Jr.,—the present owner and occupant of the old place,—in 1844, at an expense of $14,000, and worked 250 spindles. This factory furnished employment for upwards of 30 operatives for twenty years, and was an important industry in its best days,—people coming from Corning, Campbell, Caton, and the surrounding towns south and west, and from Northern Pennsylvania, to get carding and cloth-dressing done, as well as to dispose of their wool for "full-cloth" with which to make their winter's clothing. This factory is still doing a large amount of work, being extensively patronized by the surrounding wool-growers; but with the clearing of the land up the creek, the country became more generally school-house at Academy Corners. It has been ministered to by the following pastors:

1829, Rev. Maxcy Burlingame; 1830-40, Revs. John Steds, Walter Brown, Valorus Beebe, James Bignall and Hiram Bacon; 1840-50, Revs. William Mack, Calvin Dodge, and Daniel Hunt; 1850-60, Asel Aldrich and Selden Butler; 1870-80, W. M. Peck and W. M. Sargent.

A large share of the time this church has conducted a Sunday-school.

The First Baptist Church of Deerfield was organized in 1843. The society has no church edifice, and has always held its meetings at school-houses. It was first known as "The Chatham and Farmington Baptist Church." The change of name was rendered necessary by a change of township lines. The society had 15 members at its organization. Among them were Walter Van Dusen and wife, Chadwick Clark and wife, Hannah Seelye, Mrs. Humphrey, Mrs. Treat, Mrs. Curran and Mrs. Strong. Elder Bullock was the first pastor. Walter Van Dusen and Philip Vincent were the first deacons. At present (1882) there are 43 members in the society, and Elihu Bowen and William Clark are the deacons. Rev. Philander Reynolds, Elder Bunnel and others have ministered to this church.

The Free-Will Baptist Church of Chatham, known as the "Butler Church," is situated in Deerfield township. The society was gathered by the Rev. Selden Butler, in September 1852. It began its organization with 14 members. Services were held in school-houses, barns and dwelling houses until 1874, when a neat and substantial church edifice was built and dedicated. The half acre of land upon which it stands was donated by Rev. Selden Butler. A Sunday-school has generally been conducted in connection with this church. This society has had as many as 40 members at one time, but at present has but 20.

Its pastors have been as follows: 1852, Selden Butler; 1857, William Mack; 1870-73, W. M. Sargent; 1875, Ira Leach; 1877-80, W. M. Peck; 1881, ——— Douscker; 1882, Selden Butler, who has also occupied the pulpit much of the time during intervals between the ministrations of other pastors.

Rev. Selden Butler was born in 1806, embraced religion in 1819, and began to preach the gospel in Chatham and Farmington in 1840. The country was new, and the state of society at that time such that

> "As he listened to the hymn, the parson wondered
> If it was Yankee Doodle or Old Hundred."

But over forty years has wrought a great change, and now no more orderly community gathers in its house of worship than this in South Deerfield.

Professional and Literary Men.

Eddy Howland was the first practitioner of medicine. He was not educated to the profession, but exercised such skill as he possessed among the new settlers in the early part of the century. He had rare good judgment, and made few mistakes.

Dr. Simeon Power came into Deerfield in 1803, when a young man, and remained about five years. He worked part of the time at coopering, and practiced medicine when called upon. He located on the south side of the Cowanesque River, opposite Knoxville. While here he boarded with James Costley. He afterward married a Miss Inscho, and settled permanently at Lawrenceville.

Jonathan Bonney came from near Horseheads, N. Y., in 1811. He had studied medicine with a practicing physician, and came into Deerfield to establish himself. He was a one-legged man. He made some removals after his first settlement, but never got so far away as to be out of reach of his patrons in Deerfield. He continued in practice here during his life.

Rev. David Short settled in Deerfield in 1806, and preached the gospel in dwelling houses, barns, and school-houses as long as he lived. He was a Baptist in belief. He came from Rhode Island. He preached all the funeral sermons in the township for many years.

William Knox, the pioneer, was a Methodist exhorter, and often held meetings—especially in his later years, when his health was infirm on account of a paralytic attack.

Allen Frazer jr., M. D., was born at Westernville, N. Y., in 1798. He was graduated by the University of the State of New York from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the Western District, at Utica, January 13th 1823. He came to Deerfield in 1825 and entered upon the practice of medicine, in which he was very successful. He died in 1872. Aside from a few temporary removals he spent his life here in the pursuit of his profession. He was commissioned by Governor George Wolf as surgeon of the 129th regiment of the 2nd brigade 9th division Pennsylvania militia in 1834. He was also commissioned as a justice of the peace in 1832.

John Colton Knox was born in Deerfield, at Academy Corners, in February 1817. He was the son of William and Sally (Colvin) Knox. He received the rudiments of his education in the old "Liberty school-house." He studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1839. He located at Lawrenceville, and in 1842 and 1843 edited the Lawrence Sentinel. His career in his profession and in public life is related on page 69 of this volume.

Frank W. Knox was born near Academy Corners, and is a son of James and Ann (Falkner) Knox. He removed to Potter county when young, studied law, was there admitted to the bar, and has since practiced in the courts at Coudersport. We have been unable to obtain any of the details of his life and career.

Allen Floyd Frazer was born in Deerfield, March 11th 1826. He was a son of Allen Frazer jr., M. D.; was educated in the common school and at Alfred Academy, N. Y.; graduated from the Ballston law school, and practiced law at Coudersport, Pa., and at Fox Lake, Wis. He afterward studied medicine and practiced it with success at Crestline, Ohio, where he died May 5th 1864. He contributed poetry to Graham's Magazine, and to the newspapers wherever he was located. He composed several pieces of much merit.

James Bacon was born in Deerfield, December 8th

bor, a capital story-teller over his mug of cider, but a prominent man in the pioneer settlement, being often chosen to adjudicate disputes, and having served as a member of the legislature.

Darius Brainerd was drafted near the close of the last war with England, and went as far as Wilkes-Barre, when peace was proclaimed, and he returned. On one occasion, while hunting, he was mistaken in a thicket for a deer, and received a charge of ball and buck-shot from his brother Henry's gun, which made him lame for the remainder of his days. He married Tamar Williamson, of Owego; his location was east of the forks at Windham Centre. He had quite a family, many of whom are still living in the county. Philo, his son, resides at Towanda. He died April 12, 1824, leaving a widow, one daughter, and five sons.

Jephtha Brainerd, Jr., married Betsey Smith, in 1810. He was an inveterate joker, and yet was appointed a justice of the peace, and licensed as a Methodist preacher. He removed to Illinois in 1837.

Drusilla Brainerd was married to John Dunham, in 1808. They had two daughters and one son, John L., who inherited a portion of the Brainerd estate, the son receiving the old homestead, which he occupied until 1848, when he sold to P. Kuykendall, and moved to Sullivan Co., Pa. The daughters are living still, in prosperous circumstances. Drusilla died a widow, Aug. 12, 1825.

Levi Brainerd died Sept. 25, 1827, and Henry Brainerd in April, 1824. Neither were married. Abigail (Mack) Brainerd died in 1837; her husband, Jephtha, lived to a good old age, and died July 3, 1825.*

Daniel Doane moved into Windham in the fall of 1800. He lived on the corner where the Windham Centre post-office is now located. His son, Seth, narrates that Thomas and John Fox were the only men there when his father came, they having come the preceding spring. The children of Daniel were Seth, Daniel, Jr., Joseph, Nathan, Reuben, Charles, Sally, and Phœbe. Seth Doan was born on Cape Cod, Mass., in 1788; he married Lydia Bardwell, daughter of Silas Bardwell, whose wife was Lorena Abbott. They died of smallpox, at Wysox, about 1812. Seth, now "four-score-and-ten," lives near the old homestead.

Daniel Doan, Jr., married Sylvia, daughter of James Bostwick, of New York; he moved to Litchfield in 1844, thence to Potter Co, where he died in his eightieth year.

Joseph Doan lived about three-fourths of a mile from the centre, on the place now occupied by his youngest son, Joseph. He lived and died there.

Among the earliest settlers of this township we may name Stephen Smith, who came from New Berlin, Chenango Co., N. Y., about 1805, and settled where the widow Doan now lives; he remained until 1817, when he sold to Joseph Webster and moved to Susquehanna Co., N. Y. He was an old man, had been a captain in the Revolutionary war, and was the first settler on the place.

Gerard Smith, brother of Rensselaer and grandson of Capt. Stephen Smith, came in 1805 and settled on the Webster place, purchasing of Rensselaer Moon. He built two saw-mills on the Wappusening, at Madden's, the first in the township. There was also a grist-mill at the same location, contemporaneous with the mills above mentioned. Gerard Smith sold to Joseph Webster, and removed to Illinois.

Rensselaer Smith, born in 1801, came from Chenango Co., N. Y., to Windham, in 1812. The Foxes, from Connecticut, had preceded him, and were among the first settlers. Jonah Fox lived at the Johnsons' present location, and his son, Thomas, lived where Jacob Reed formerly kept tavern. Russell, another son, lived nearly opposite his father's place. The sons of Thomas Fox were Harry, Silas, and George. They lived near the State line.

David Short, a preacher, with his father and brothers, Reuben and Abel, came from Rhode Island to Cooperstown, N. Y., thence to the Wappusening, in Windham, about 1807, and located where the widow Doan now resides. They did not remain, removing to Tioga county before 1810.

Other early settlers were Lyman Winchester, who lived a little above Brainerd's, and was a great hunter; Nathan Spalding, from Rhode Island, who sold his possession to Daniel Doan, Sr., and moved into Warren; Augustus Hulon, who lived where the creek crosses the road below Windham Centre, and who was connected with and always followed Captain Smith in his migrations; and Jonathan Pease, who took out a patent for a large tract of land, in behalf of the settlers, and then deeded off their respective lots to them. He died Aug. 2, 1836, aged sixty-nine years. His wife died March 16, 1845, in her eightieth year.

Joseph Webster, in 1813, came from Tolland Co., Conn., and settled on the place now occupied by George Smith, purchasing of Capt. Smith, Gerard Smith, and Augustus Hulon. He died in 1830. At the time of his coming Edmund Russell was justice of the peace; Mr. Webster succeeded him, and continued in office until his death.

Edmund Russell and Parley Johnson (brothers-in-law of Mr. Webster) settled in Windham a year or two before him, and gave such a flattering description of the country as to induce Mr. W. to locate there. His business was largely lumbering. Nathan Doan married his widow, who still survives.

John Russell, with his family, came from Litchfield Co., Conn., to Orwell, in 1800; after various changes, he settled in Windham, in 1817, where he bought a tract of land, upon which he lived until his death, in 1820, aged sixty-four years.

Edmund Russell, son of the above, lived in Windham. He died Feb. 21, 1840, aged sixty-one. Of the other sons, Henry died in 1871, aged eighty-three years; John, Jr., moved to Wisconsin in 1819, and died there; William lived next below Esquire William Russell, and died in 1858, aged sixty-four years; Samuel, born in 1784, died in 1832; Julius, born 1796, died in 1868; George W. lived in Windham until 1842, and subsequently went to Wisconsin. Of the daughters, Brazilla lived at or near Hartford, Pa.; Sarah was married to Col. Theron Darling, and lived in Orwell; Polly (Mary) was the wife successively of Mr. Anthony and James Bush, and resided in Windham. James Bush died Feb. 17, 1861, aged eighty-two.

Edmund Russell was the first of the family to move into Windham. He built the stone tavern commonly called the "stone jug."

History of Tioga County

THE LAND

Land and its natural assets have always played a major role in Tioga County's history. Today, two of the county's leading industries - agriculture and tourism - rely heavily on the land's bounty.

The land is the main concern of the Tioga County Soil Conservation District organized to improve Tioga County's soil, wetlands, and woodlands, prevent floods, preserve wildlife, and better the county's economy. Through the district's work, Tioga County is a recognized conservation leader in Pennsylvania and the United States.

SETTLERS

Between 1628 and 1762, three Kings of England issued four separate charters giving all or part of the land in today's Tioga County to three different states -Massachusetts, twice to Connecticut, and to William Penn who founded Pennsylvania. State ownership was finally resolved 20 years later when the Continental Congress awarded Pennsylvania the land in the 1782 Decree of Trenton.

Seneca Indian lands, including Tioga County, remained closed to the white man until the 1784 Treaty of Fort Stanwix when the holdings were sold to Pennsylvania. Settlement was slow due to the county's rugged terrain, dense virgin forests, and its lack of roads and navigable waterways.

Samuel Baker was the first white man to settle in this area. In 1787, the New Yorker constructed a cabin on the Tioga River at Lawrenceville.

In 1796, work was completed on "The Williamson Road," which extended from Williamsport, Pennsylvania to Painted Post, New York. It is now known as Route 15 and designated the Northern Section of the "Appalachian Thruway." Construction of other major roads - The Morris State Road, today called Route 287, and the East and West State Road, now known as Route 6 - were completed in the early 1800's.

Lycoming County, founded on April 13, 1795, included Tioga. From 1784 until that time, both had been part of Northumberland County. In 1797, Lycoming County created a new township - Tioga - that included all lands of present day Tioga County.

It was through the efforts of the Pine Creek Land Company, a group of Philadelphia citizens who bought and sold property in Lycoming County, including Tioga lands, that Tioga County was formed.

To induce more people to come to the area, the land company was able to get the state legislature to pass an "Omnibus Bill" on March 26, 1804. The bill broke Lycoming County, which covered 12,000 square miles, into five additional counties - Clearfield, Jefferson, McKean, Potter and Tioga.

When formed, Tioga County had one township - Tioga -and 500 to 600 residents. The county's population peaked in 1890 at about 54,000 before declining with the coal and lumber industries. Now, Tioga includes 30 townships and 10 boroughs.

Today, the county is populated with the descendants of the early settlers - English descendants of the New England immigrants, the Welsh and Polish who worked the coal mines, and some Pennsylvania Germans.

THE COUNTY SEAT

On March 21, 1806, two years after influencing the legislature to create Tioga County, the Pine Creek Land Company was able to get Wellsboro designated as its county seat. The only family living there was that of Benjamin Wistar Morris, the company's agent, who named the 150-acre town for his wife, Mary Wells. In 1830, the town became first in Tioga County to be incorporated as a borough. Its population then numbered 250.

TOPOGRAPHY

Tioga County, in the northern tier of Pennsylvania, is bounded on the north by Steuben and Chemung counties in New York, and, in Pennsylvania, by Bradford County on the east, Potter on the west, and Lycoming on the south.

It is part of the Allegheny Plateau, with flat-topped hills and steep valleys. Its mountains are included in the Appalachian chain.

Tioga County contains 1,146 square miles (733,440 acres). About 64% of the land is in woodlands, 33% in farming and 3% is urbanized.

The average elevation is 1,600 to 1,700 feet above sea level. The county's lowest point - 850 feet above sea level -is located along Pine Creek beyond Blackwell near the Lycoming/Tioga border. Its highest point - 2,543 feet above sea level - is on the southwest portion of Cedar Mountain, above the Marshlands in Elk Township.

Tioga County's three major waterways drain into the Susquehanna River; Pine Creek to the west branch in Lycoming County; and the Tioga River, after being joined by the Cowanesque River, to the east branch at Bradford County.

AGRICULTURE

Farming continues to be Tioga County's main industry with 1,100 operating farms, including 400 dairy farms. Dairying accounts for about 90% of the county's agricultural income with 22,900 dairy cows in the county producing an annual total of 288.54 million pounds of milk.

Livestock and field crops, mainly hay and corn, produced in Tioga County are valued at $15.8 million annually.

Other early industries were tied to the land, including timbering and coal in the 1800's, and gas between 1930 and 1940. Today, although no longer predominant, they each continue.

In addition to agriculture, the county's present economy depends on manufacturers located at Westfield, Elkland, Knoxville, Wellsboro, Tioga, Mansfield, Blossburg and Liberty; service and utility companies; Mansfield University at Mansfield; and the Pennsylvania College of Technology/North Campus.

AREA ATTRACTIONS

Tioga County takes its name from "Tyoga," an indian word that means "gateway" or "place to enter." The area is a hunting and fishing paradise with many species of wildlife living here, ranging from the white-tailed deer, bear, and cottontail rabbits to the wild turkey, ruffed grouse, and duck.

Tioga County is home to the Pennsylvania Grand Canyon. Designated in 1968 as a Federal registered natural landmark, the 50-mile canyon embraces a natural waterway - Pine Creek - and was formed about 26,000 years ago during the glacial period.

The county has three major state parks. Leonard Harrison borders the Grand Canyon's east rim and Colton Point, its west rim. Hills Creek Lake State Park lies between Mansfield and Wellsboro.

The three U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' lakes - Tioga-Hammond between Wellsboro and Tioga boroughs on Route 287 and Cowanesque on Route 49, near Lawrenceville - all three offer many recreational opportunities. Other lakes include Beechwood, Hamilton, Hills Creek and Nessmuk.

It is all here for those who enter - beautiful scenery, camping, boating, swimming, bicycling, hiking, fishing, hunting, downhill and cross country skiing, horseback riding, and white water rafting.

in 1808, and was sixteen years of age when he and an elder brother came to Tioga county ahead of their parents and made the first clearings upon the old homestead in Farmington township, which he afterwards purchased. He was educated in the district schools, and after attaining his majority devoted his attention to farming, and was also engaged in lumbering on the Cowanesque river. He married Lavina Culver, who bore him eleven children, viz: Mary, wife of C. W. Barlow, of Wisconsin; Ephraim, Charles F. and Sallie, all deceased; Hannah, wife of Thomas Roe, of Middlebury; Joseph, deceased; Amasa, a resident of Delmar; Sabra, wife of Ali Briggs, of Middlebury, now deceased; Leander, of Middlebury; Walter, deceased, and Clark, a farmer of Middlebury township. Mr. Gee was burned to death in 1868, while attempting to rescue valuables from his burning house in Middlebury. His widow resides with her son, Leander, in that township.

LEANDER GEE was born in Farmington township, Tioga county, December 12, 1847, a son of Joseph Gee, and grandson of William Gee. He obtained a common school education, and has made farming his life vocation, now owning the homestead in Middlebury, which embraces 160 acres of well-improved land, located a short distance northeast of Keeneyville. He has devoted some attention to buying and selling live stock and wagons. April 24, 1872, Mr. Gee married Delia Leonard, a daughter of Justus and Nancy (Young) Leonard, of Farmington township. She was born May 26, 1855, and is the mother of two children, Leander L. and Ephraim S. They have also an adopted son, Frank Hoyt, whom they took when less than three years old, and legally adopted in July, 1895. Mrs. Gee and children are members of the Methodist Episcopal church. In politics, the family are Republicans, and are also connected with the Patrons of Husbandry. Mr. Gee has served one term as school director, and is one of the prominent and successful farmers of Middlebury.

NEWBURY CLOOS, youngest son of Newbury Cloos, Sr., was born in Deerfield township, Tioga county, in 1827. He received a good common school education, and taught during his early manhood. He subsequently purchased a farm in Middlebury township, and for many years was one of the prominent and successful farmers of that locality. He married Cynthia Church, to which union were born eight children, viz: Amarilla, wife of Henry J. Shaff, of Middlebury township; Rhoda, wife of Hiram Kilbourne, of Wellsboro; Esther and Sophia, both deceased; Jane, widow of C. K. Palmer, of Middlebury; D. Wilmot and Julia, both deceased, and Luther N., a well-known physician of Keeneyville. Mr. Cloos died on his farm in Middlebury, February 22, 1875.

LUTHER NEWBURY CLOOS, physician and surgeon, Keeneyville, was born in Middlebury township, Tioga county, May 5, 1860, and is the youngest child of Newbury and Cynthia Cloos, and grandson of Newbury Cloos, Sr. He received his primary education in the district schools of his native township, and later attended the State Normal School, at Mansfield, where he completed his studies. He read medicine under Dr. Augustus Niles, and graduated at the Baltimore Medical College in the spring of 1893. He soon afterwards purchased the residence and practice of his preceptor, and enjoys a large and lucrative business. Dr. Cloos makes a specialty of the diseases of women and of the eye and ear, in which he has been highly successful. On May 1, 1884, he married Cora L. Hazlett, a daughter of

History of Tioga Co. PA, RC Brown & Co. 1897

Amariah Hazlett, of Middlebury Center, and has one son, David Wilmot. Mrs. Cloos is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. In politics, Dr. Cloos is a Democrat, and is also a member of the I. O. O. F., the K. O. T. M., and the L. O. T. M., for all of which he is the local medical examiner.

ISAAC BRYANT, a native of Pennsylvania, came to Tioga county in 1850. His father, David Bryant, was one of the early settlers of the county. Isaac purchased the property in Middlebury township where his widow and son, James H., now reside, and followed farming up to September, 1863. He then enlisted in Company K, One Hundred and Forty-ninth Pennsylvania Volunteers, the famous Bucktail regiment. He was a brave and gallant soldier, was taken prisoner at the battle of the Wilderness, and died in Andersonville prison. His wife, Mary A., was a daughter of Henry Rogers, of Seneca county, New York. She was born October 7, 1819, and became the mother of six children, viz: Alonzo H., a farmer in Middlebury, who served in the Civil War; Melissa A., deceased; Albert T., also a soldier in the Rebellion, who died in Salisbury prison, South Carolina; Henry E., who served in the Union army, and has since died; Lizette J., who died in infancy, and James H., who cultivates the old homestead. Mrs. Bryant is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and one of the intelligent, helpful women of her neighborhood. She is very active in good works, and is well preserved for a person of her advanced years. Her husband and three of her sons went out in defense of the flag, and two of the four laid down their lives that this free government might live.

GEORGE WESTBROOK, a native of Chemung county, New York, born in 1808, came to Tioga county, Pennsylvania, in 1848, and settled on a farm near Tioga. Three years later he purchased a large farm in Middlebury township, a portion of which is now owned by the widow of Horace F. Westbrook. In 1867 he traded for a farm on Crooked creek, a half mile below Holiday, and later moved to Middlebury Center, thence to Wellsboro, and finally to Chatham township, where he died. He married Lovisa B. Taylor, born in Windsor county, Vermont, in 1808, who bore him a family of fifteen children, eight of whom grew to maturity, as follows: Polly, widow of Baitman Monroe, of Addison; Horace F., deceased; Ephraim, a resident of Mansfield; Jane, wife of Jason Prutsman, of Elmira; Stella, wife of Samuel Love, of Little Marsh; Benjamin, who lives in Mansfield; Hattie, wife of George Curran, of Knoxville, and James T., deceased. Mrs. Westbrook died October 18, 1887, aged seventy-nine years.

HORACE FREELAND WESTBROOK was born in Chemung county, New York, November 27, 1829, eldest son of George Westbrook. He lived with his parents until the family removed to Tioga county, when he purchased a half interest in the farm bought by his father in Middlebury township, where he was engaged in farming until the autumn of 1861. He then enlisted in Company F, Fifty-seventh Pennsylvania Volunteers, and went to the front with the rank of orderly sergeant. He fought in every battle in which his regiment was engaged up to Malvern Hill, where he was killed, July 1, 1862. He married Rachel M. Prutsman, a daughter of Abram and Maria Prutsman, at Tioga, Tioga county, September 30, 1856. She was born at Tioga village, October 17, 1833, and bore him three children, viz: Willis H., who lives in Tioga; Edgar L., of Middlebury, and Ada B., wife of Otis L.

on a foundry, machine and general repair shop. Mr. Baker was married in 1864, to Sellie Smith, a daughter of E. G. and Betsey (Burdic) Smith, of Sabinsville, Tioga county, and has three children: Ilba, wife of Emil Buhr; Vida, wife of Edward Ladd, and Klein D. In politics, Mr. Baker is independent, and has held various local offices.

NEWBURY CLOOS, SR., a native of the Mohawk valley, New York, came with his father, Reuben Cloos, a native of Scotland, to the Cowanesque valley in 1807, and settled in what is now Deerfield township, Tioga county, Pennsylvania, where he cleared and improved a farm. The records show that he acquired title to his land on January 1, 1808. He was twice married. His first wife, Esther Short, was the mother of eleven children, as follows: Reuben, Polly, who married George Parker; Abel, Matilda, whose first husband was William Falkner, and second husband, Barney Daniels; Sophia, who married Charles Avery, an early settler of Chatham township; Hannah, who became the wife of Daniel D. Church; Armon, David, Ambrose, Newbury, and Esther, who married Henry F. Daniels, all of whom are dead except Mrs. Daniels. Mrs. Cloos died October 2, 1829, and her husband married Mrs. Patty P. Reynolds, who survived him three months. He died May 7, 1853, in his eighty-first year, and his wife, Patty P., August 7, following, in the eighty-third year of her age.

DAVID CLOOS, a son of Newbury and Esther Cloos, was born in Deerfield township, Tioga county, March 7, 1809, and was reared on the old homestead. He cleared and improved a farm in his native township, and in December, 1840, removed to Westfield township, where, with the exception of two years that he occupied the old homestead in Deerfield, he resided until his death, July 12, 1863. From December, 1840, to April, 1847, he was proprietor of a hotel in Westfield, after which period he devoted his whole attention to farming. He married Maria Sweet, of Deerfield township, who bore him twelve children, eleven of whom grew to maturity, viz: Ambrose, Noah, Marietta, wife of Elias H. Clark; Amelia, wife of Robert R. Parshall; Matilda, wife of Albert W. Potter; A. Byron, Bernard, Burnett, Marie, wife of G. A. King, and Cora, wife of George Trim.

AMBROSE CLOSE, originally spelled "Cloos," is the eldest son of David and Maria Cloos. He was born in Deerfield township, Tioga county, March 4, 1835, and came to Westfield with his parents when but five years of age. He was reared in Westfield, and educated at the Union Academy and Alfred University. For twenty years he was engaged in the mercantile business at Westfield, and three and a half years at Elkland, and for forty years he has been more or less engaged in farming. Mr. Close was married March 12, 1861, to Ann V. Secord, a daughter of Gilbert S. and Sophia (Marsh) Secord, of Westfield, who bore him one son, Roy, who died February 2, 1881, in his fifteenth year. Mrs. Close died November 9, 1891, aged fifty-nine years. She was an attendant of the Universalist church, a charitable and kind neighbor, and a good wife and mother, who enjoyed the love and esteem of all who knew her. Mr. Close has liberally supported the churches of Westfield, more especially the Universalist church. He is an ardent Republican, has been burgess of Westfield for several terms, and has also filled other local offices. He is recognized as one of the representative citizens of the borough, in which the greater portion of his life has been passed.

township. Soon after he contracted consumption, and in 1840 Orrin came on to take care of him. After the death of James, Orrin purchased a farm, and lived upon it up to his death in 1895. He received his early education in his native State, and later attended the Wellsboro Academy. Though he worked a portion of his time as a carpenter, he made farming his principal occupation. He owned 169 acres near the northwest corner of the borough, and made dairying a specialty. On April 2, 1849, Mr. Blair married Louisa Hiltbold, a daughter of Jacob and Abigail (Johnson) Hiltbold. She was born February 1, 1831, and is the mother of five children, viz: Mary Ellen, wife of Alphonso Spencer; James O., a farmer in Delmar; Lewis M., residing on the old homestead; Sherman L., baggage master at the Fall Brook station, and William E., principal of the Tioga graded schools. Mrs. Blair is a member of the Protestant Episcopal church, in which faith Mr. Blair lived and died. In politics, he was a Republican, filled the office of supervisor, and was poormaster of Delmar township the year the poor house was erected. Mr. Blair was one of the successful and prominent farmers of this section.

CHARLES AVERY was born in Eaton, Madison county, New York, in 1800, a son of Constant Avery. He was reared on a farm, and came to Tioga county, Pennsylvania, in 1824, purchasing a farm of 160 acres in Chatham township, where he was engaged in agricultural pursuits until his death, January 14, 1875. He married Sophia Cloos, a daughter of Newbury Cloos, a pioneer of Deerfield township, Tioga county. Ten children were born to this union, viz: Constant, of Chatham township; Esther, wife of Matt Ashton, of Livingston county, New York; Cyrus W., of Wellsboro; William, deceased; Deruyter, of Chatham township; Miranda, wife of Frank Churchill, of Middlebury; Leonidas, a resident of Ansonia; Albert, deceased; Mary, wife of Jefferson West, of Middlebury, and John, who died in early youth. Mrs. Avery died on January 14, 1875, one hour before her husband, quite a remarkable coincidence, after a married life of nearly half a century. Politically, Mr. Avery was a Democrat in early life, and later a Free Soiler. He served as collector of Chatham township for ten years, and was one of the respected citizens of that locality.

CYRUS W. AVERY, second son of Charles Avery, was born in Chatham township, Tioga county, February 10, 1833, attended the common schools in boyhood, and worked on his father's farm until twenty-five years of age. For the succeeding fifteen years he worked on his own farm in Chatham township in summer time and in the lumber woods in winter. In 1882 he sold his farm in Chatham and bought his present farm in the suburbs of Wellsboro, containing seventy-six acres, where he has since followed agriculture. On February 16, 1859, Mr. Avery married Jane Spencer, a daughter of Aurora and Catherine (Conklin) Spencer. Her father was born in 1808, and died July 14, 1862. Her mother was born in 1810, and died January 29, 1876. Mrs. Avery was born January 30, 1840, and is the mother of two children, viz: Ida R., wife of Francis Andrews, of Wellsboro, and Jennie M., wife of John Fisher, of Marsh Creek. Mr. Avery and wife are members of the Second Advent church, and in politics, he is independent. He served as supervisor of Chatham township one term.

ADAM A. KLOCK was born in Manheim, Herkimer county, New York, January 28, 1800, a son of Adam Klock, and came to Tioga county, Pennsylvania, about 1835.

and Benjamin Brooks. Not all of those mentioned took an active part in the rebellion, but the large number that were compelled to take an oath of allegiance show that there Shays had many sympathizers in Adams.

Among the settlers already mentioned Abiel Smith and his two sons lived in two houses situate on Main street in the village of North Adams, on the site of Martin's block, Mr. Kilborn settled about a half mile north west of South Adams, Mr. McNeal about a mile and a half south of North Adams, on the Kingsley farm. Mr. Hinman two miles north of South Adams, and Israel Jones on the Harrison farm in North Adams. In the year 1775 there were only five dwelling houses in the village of North Adams. Giles Barnes resided in one standing on the east bend of the Hoosac near the grist mill of M. D. & H. W. Hodge. This was a low one story structure and is believed to have been the first house erected in North Adams. Josiah Wright lived in a house near him, and Eli Colton built a house on the spot where the "Berkshire House" now stands. Samuel Day lived in a house afterward known as the "old Block Tavern," standing on Main street on the site of Martin's block, and William Farrand purchased and lived in a house on the site of the old Robinson House, west of the Main street bridge. The "old Block Tavern" was the first public house of consequence in the village of North Adams. The rear part was built by Samuel Day, and afterward occupied by Abiel Smith, one of the early settlers. This was undoubtedly previous to 1780, as the front east wing was erected by David Darling in 1788. In 1795 Mr. Darling opened the same as a public house. It was afterward sold to and occupied by Roger Wing.

In 1795 the principal landholders in the village of North Adams were Jeremiah Colegrove, Israel Jones, David Estes, and David Darling. In the year 1794, when Jeremiah Colegrove moved to North Adams, there were less than a dozen houses in that village. A small house occupied by Mr. Rose stood on the site of the building on the corner of Main and Marshall streets. Asa Doty lived in a house located a little west and north of Main street bridge, and a Mr. Corliss lived in a house situate in the rear of the present site of the "Richmond House." Ebenezer Slocum lived in a house on Church street, Amos Bronson had a house on Eagle street on the site of the store now owned by the Freeman Manufacturing Company, and Elisha Houghton had a dwelling about twenty-five rods north of the one last mentioned. David Estes owned and occupied a house on Center street, on the north side, east of the old Roman Catholic Church. No street was then laid out, and only a foot path or lane led from this house to Eagle street. Captain George Ray lived in a dwelling on Main street near the river bank, Josiah Holbrook lived in a log house on the Whitman place on State street, and Jeremiah Colegrove lived on Main street near Marshall, until 1810.

The village of North Adams comprised part of settling lot number twenty-four. The site of the village was formerly a pine forest, with some white oak intermingled. The principle staple of early traffic was therefore pine and other lumber; and the material of which the fences and many of the early buildings were constructed was such as to give it the name of “Slab City.” Like those farmers who eat only such produce as they cannot sell many of the men who built took such lumber as was not merchantable. The stumps of huge trees remained for a long time in the very streets, and Main street was only cleared by a “bee” of fifty men. The digging of cellars and the preparation of gardens was very much impeded by these stumps. In times of freshet the lower portions of the village were flooded by the river, and large rocks were distributed plentifully across the “flats.” There are evidences of the river having formerly been much broader than it is now; and it certainly rose higher and was more ungovernable at the dreaded season of “breaking up” after the vigorous winters of ninety years ago. The furious flood has been known to sweep from the point where the lower bridge, or Union street, is located, across the entire village to Summer street. The entire space where now most of the trade and mechanical business are transacted, would be washed by an icy cold stream, driving the settlers from their houses, sweeping away or greatly damaging the little property they possessed, and literally drowning the hopes they had cherished of a prosperous season by obliging them to begin anew. The clearing up of the forests and the consequent drying of the springs have diminished the volume of water in all the streams, and such extraordinary freshets are no longer to be feared.

The village site and its immediate vicinity were called by the early settlers the poorest part of the town of Adams. Like most pine land it was miserable land for farming purposes. The first farmers preferred settling in the mountain slopes; they said the “flat would hardly bear white beans.” The pine lumber, however, was of excellent quality and very little pine lumber grew on any other point within a dozen miles or more.

Among the first settlers in East Hoosuck were Abiel Smith, his sons Gideon and Jacob, John Kilborn and John McNeal, of Litchfield, Conn., Reuben Hinman and Jonathan Smith, of Woodbury, Conn., and Messrs. Parker, Cook, and Leavenworth, of Wallingford. Rev. Samuel Todd and Israel Jones also settled here. These settlers and those who came with them did not remain a long time. Most of them sold their lands to purchasers from Rhode Island, many of them Quakers. Others followed from that State, until Rhode Islanders occupied nearly the whole town. Their descendants still reside in North Adams and Adams and their names may be found on the voting lists of these towns. A part of the immigrants who came from Rhode Island pitched on Stafford's Hill, in Cheshire, then called New Providence. It appears to have been the wish of these New Providence settlers to be incorporated with Adams, as during the year of the incorporation of the town of Adams the inhabitants

CHAPTER VI.

THE MINISTRY OF THE REV. MATTHEW SHORT.

BIRTH AND PARENTAGE. — SETTLEMENT IN ATTLEBOROUGH. — SETTLEMENT AT THE EAST PRECINCT OF TAUNTON NORTH-PURCHASE. — SICKNESS AND RECOVERY. — HIS TWO PUBLISHED SERMONS. — THE FIRST MEETING-HOUSE. — EARLY DISSATISFACTION WITH ITS LOCATION. — DEATH OF MR. SHORT.

REV. MATTHEW SHORT was born March 14, 1688. He was the third son and sixth child of Henry Short, of Newbury, and Mary[1] Whipple, his wife. So writes J. C. Coffin in his "History of Newbury;" and he adds that Mary died December 28, 1691, and that May 11, 1692, Henry married Anne Longfellow, and died October 23, 1706, fifty-four years old. Matthew Short graduated at Harvard University in 1707. From that time until 1711 he was probably teaching school or studying divinity, perhaps both. October 1, 1711, the town of Attleborough, being met "for the chosing of an able orthodox minister of good conversation to Dispence the word of god to us," chose Mr. Short for their minister. He was to have £50 a year for six years, — one third to be in money, and the rest in grain, beef, pork, butter, or cheese, or any or either of them, at current prices. By a vote in November, 1710, Attleborough had agreed to give away the house that was built upon their ministerial land, to the first minister that should serve the town for seven years. Mr. Short was not destined to become its owner. Difficulties arose between him and his people. Early in 1715 an attempt was made to come to some agreement. In stating his case to the town and church Mr. Short writes as follows:[3] —

> "This you may expect and depend upon, that unless there be a speedy and friendly composition of the differences amongst us, I shall not continue the exercise of my ministry."

The difficulty was some misunderstanding concerning his salary, as well as other money promised him. The town did not accept his terms, but proposed others on condition that Mr. Short "will forthwith Desist ye ministry in this town." May 31, 1715, he requested to be dismissed, and the town voted to grant his desire. While in Attleborough he married Margaret Freeman, of that place. This was on December 27, 1711. Two children, Anna and Judith, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Short while they were in Attleborough.

Mr. Short is next heard of in Saco, Maine (then, however, a part of Massachusetts), where he is preaching, in 1716. He was at the same time Chaplain of his Majesty's fort at Winter Harbor, and on this account his salary was paid in part by the General Court.[1] He remained there until some time in 1722. Two of his children, Matthew and Ebenezer, were born during his ministry there.

The Rev. Matthew Short appears to have received his call to settle as minister of the church in the East Precinct of Norton, March 28, 1723. This appears from the following record of the General Court for June 4, 1723:—

> A petition of the inhabitants of the East End of Taunton north-purchase, setting forth that the inhabitants met together on the 28th of March last & passed sevral votes relating to the affairs of their precinct & for the encouragement of a minister to settle among them, which votes were passed in an amicable manner & with good agreement among themselves, but the said meeting . . . not being legally warned, they doubted that some difficulties may hereafter arise about the matters then voted, and therefore praying that the sd. votes (annexed to the petition) may be confirmed by this Court.
> In Council read and ordered that the prayer of the petitioners be granted, and that the votes passed at the meeting of the inhabitants of the East precinct of the North purchase on ye 28th day of Mch., 1723 (which votes are hereunto annexed), be allowed, ratified, and confirmed to all intents & purposes whatsoever, any law, usage, or custom to the contrary notwithstanding.

Mr. Short began his ministerial work soon after his call in March, or certainly before August 31, 1723, for at this date there is a record of a marriage performed by him here. A deed dated November 22, 1723, states that it was —

> "agreed with a minister for a settlement; afterward voted at our Precinct to give unto Matthew Short fifty acres of land, . . . and to build him an house and to find him all the materialls except nayles, glass, lime, and Iron worke, and to finish it if he would comply with said offer."[1]

Mr. Short's house was situated on Depot Street, a little east of its intersection by Central Street. When Depot Street was widened, a part of the cellar over which this house had stood was cut off. At that time a flat stone which had been built into the chimney was found, having chiselled upon it the date of the building of the house. Mr. Short was presented with ten acres of land at this place, which came to be known as the "Short Place." This gift was a personal one, made by Thomas Randall, John Phillips, and Mark Lathrop, who gave two acres each, Timothy Cooper who gave three, and Daniel Owen who gave one. The Precinct, as before stated, gave their newly-chosen minister fifty acres more, as an encouragement for him to settle here. This was on November 22, 1723; but it was not until February, 1730, that he came into possession of this latter gift. Nor did he acquire a quit-claim deed of his house until November, 1729, though it had been promised him much earlier.

The town however, in an emergency that soon occurred, treated their minister in a way that won his heartfelt gratitude. In 1728, in midsummer, a distressing and very fatal disease visited the town. Mr. Short was taken sick July 15, and was very sick for two months, his life being despaired of. The town generously provided for his needs at this time, doing all they could to make him comfortable and to restore him to health. On September 17 it was voted in town-meeting "that thirteen pounds ten shillings and eight pence be assessed on the Inhabitants of this town, and collected of them and paid into the Town Treasury, for the defraying of the charges towards our Pastor's late sickness; and sd. money to be paid out by order of the Selectmen of this town to those persons that hath don towards said sickness as they shall find it to be justly don, and if there be any money Left to be delivered to mr. Short for his use."

Soon after this, their minister, pale and worn with his sickness, met his people in the little log meeting-house, and preached to them a sermon which was appropriate to the occasion, and was entitled "A thankful Memorial of God's sparing Mercy." This was followed by another; and they made such an impression upon his congregation that he was requested to have them printed. This was done, and some stray copies were bound up in book form with fugitive sermons of other ministers. A few of these books are still extant. A sermon preached in the earliest meeting-house in Easton by its first minister, as long ago as 1728, is a very interesting relic of the olden time. A verbatim copy of the first of these sermons may be seen in the Appendix of this history. In these sermons he says that he was visited by Providence "with a sore sickness, whereby I was brought nigh unto Death; but GOD in his wonderful goodness spared me, and did not give me over unto Death, for which I would now humbly and heartily praise his holy Name. . . . I freely acknowledge the Justice and Holiness of GOD in bringing that sore Chastisement upon me. I acknowledge my sin deserved it. I acknowledge the unerring Wisdom of GOD in sending it seasonably. I plainly see that I needed it, and therefore I hope I heartily thank GOD for it. . . . I am laid under a new Obligation to you by the endearing Kindness which GOD helped you to show to me in the time of my late distressing sickness. . . . GOD hath taken away several from among us of late by Death, emptying a House hard by us, and sweeping it clean as it were by Death; and taking away the principal Person[1] in another, whose Death we have great reason to lament." The fatality of this general sickness is indicated by the following quotation from the second sermon: "Let us all consider how awfully the holy hand of GOD was lifted up against us of late. If it had pleased the holy GOD to have gone on the way of his judgment in multiplying deaths among us as he began, every person in the Town would have been swept out of the world by death. But the destroying Angel hath been commanded to put up his sword into his sheath, & not go on to destroy."

This second sermon ends with the following interesting quotation from the conclusion of a sermon by the Rev. Dr. Cotton Mather:—

> "BUT when Sickness Returns upon such a Man, with Circumstances that intimate his Call to be Gone, what a Welcome can this Man give to such a Call! Welcome, Sickness; Thou Messenger of Heaven! Welcome The Waggons that are sent now to fetch me away unto my Jesus in all His Glory! AMEN."

The following quaintly expressed preface to these two sermons, addressed to this church and congregation, deserves to be perpetuated here:—

To The Church & Congregation in Easton:

DEARLY BELOVED,—These Discourses, as you remember, were delivered immediately after my late Visitation with a sore Sickness of about two Months Continuance, And were designed in some measure (especially the former of them) to sute that occasion. They were composed while I was under considerable remains of bodily Weakness, and without any Expectation of their being thus made publick. But a number of you being desirous of the Publication of them, and having Grounds to think that they will be acceptable to you in general, as I trust they were in the preaching (and as, I bless GOD for it, my other labors have been among you), and therefore I hope profitable; and these Discourses having been perused by a Reverend Brother who has encouraged their going to the Press, I have yielded to the Publication of them, humbly hoping that it will be acceptable to GOD and for his Glory, that there be a monument of this Nature erected to render to GOD the praise due to his Name for his memorable Works of Mercy and Goodness towards us in the Time of our Distress. And whereas there is some mention made in the first of the following Discourses of the Kindness which GOD helped you to shew to me in the Time of my distressing sickness, So I would now with hearty praises to GOD, and with a due Gratitude to you, mention the Kindness you have shewn me since my Recovery from Sickness, when you did at a public meeting grant a considerable gratuity for me, without my asking it, which rendered it the more obliging and endearing. In Token of Gratitude, I here present you with the following Discourses, which I trust will be welcome to you, Though they came to you first in a manner unexpected, it being but a little before that you were ready to despair of my Recovery, and had little (if any) Expectation of ever seeing or hearing me any more as heretofore. I humbly commend these Discourses to the Blessing of Heaven and to your diligent perusal, Hoping that they may be a Monitor of Duty both to you and to myself, to stir us up to improve our spared Lives to the Praise of the GOD of our Life; which is the fervent Prayer of the affectionate Friend of your souls, and your servant for JESUS' Sake.

MATTH. SHORT.

During Mr. Short's ministry, in 1728, the great question of the location of the meeting-house, which was fruitful in later years of bitter strife, was agitated. The first house was erected on the east side of Church Street, once called the Cynthia Drake road. The exact date when it was built cannot be ascertained. The evidence, however, seems conclusive that it was erected as early as 1713. For, first, in December, 1716, land is pitched for near "Cranberry Medow Meeting-house plane." The East End of the North Purchase was sometimes called the Cranberry-Meadow End, and the plain mentioned is the one that takes in the location of the old church. We must suppose the meeting-house to have been built for a little while at least prior to this time, in order for this locality to be familiarly referred to as "Meeting-house plane." This puts us back of 1716. Then, second, we have seen that there was a society here as early as September 11, 1713, the date at which a call was given to Elder Pratt. This call would hardly have been extended until a meeting-house was erected for him to preach in, and there are convincing probabilities that it was built during this year. The meeting-house is first definitely mentioned, however, in June, 1719, at which time there was laid out "six acres of land according to pitch in said North Purchase for some publick use, between Benjamin Drake's house and Israel Randall's house, round the meeting-house."[1] This first building was undoubtedly a very small and rude affair. A vote in town-meeting, September 10, 1726, would indicate that up to that date it did not have any glass in the windows. It was then voted to raise £10, "for the finishing of the meeting-House, and to Lay it out for Glass to Glase som of the windows, and the rest for bords and nails and Labore." Apparently it is only for "som of the windows," and not for all, that the luxury of glass is procured. What a picture for the imagination, to think of our Easton ancestors sitting on rude seats in the little unwarmed, unglazed meeting-house, the temperature sometimes near zero, and patiently listening to the long sermons of Mr. Short!

The increase of inhabitants and of property had made the little house of worship look too small and poor. An effort is made to improve and probably to enlarge it. But this movement meets with opposition. Already the people living in the west part of the town feel the great inconvenience of going nearly to the Bridgewater line to attend public worship. They therefore, led by Josiah Keith and Ensign Benjamin Williams, who lived on the Bay road, protest against spending more money to improve or enlarge the old church; and on June 28, 1728, they got a vote passed to "make choice of seven men of the Inhabitants for a committee to appoynt a place for and where and when their should be a new meeting-House erected for the publick worship of GOD." This committee are Thomas Pratt, Thomas Randall, Thomas Manley, Benjamin Drake, John Dailey, Joseph Snow, and Mark Lathrop. It is an ex-parte committee, not one of them being from the west part of the town, or even from the Centre. Their report is therefore a foregone conclusion. It is as follows: —

> "We the subscribers, a committy chosen to consider where it will be most conveniant for the Inhabitants here after to Erect a New meeting-House for the Publick worship of God, — having dewly considered the premises, we are humbly of opinion that there is no place that will be so conveniant for the Inhabitants of Easton to meet to gether in as the Land that was Laid out for that purpos. we there fore apoint that when there is need of a New meeting-House to be erected, that it shall be built on the Land that was Laid out for that purpose. Dated the ninth Day of December, annodomini 1728."[1]

Anticipating some such conclusion, the town voted at the same meeting at which this committee was appointed, to raise money to finish the meeting-house in the old location; and though the work drags on for a long time it is finally completed, and the "East-enders" have their way. They foresaw increasing trouble with the determined "West-enders" concerning the location of the meeting-house. They therefore, in order to strengthen their own party, tried to get a portion of Bridgewater annexed to Easton. This would increase their numbers, and also bring their locality nearer the Centre. In January, 1727, John Phillips, Thomas Randall, and sundry others presented a petition to the General Court, citing that about twelve families of the west part of the North Precinct of Bridgewater desired to be annexed to Easton, and praying that their desire might be granted. The General Court ordered that a copy of this petition be served on the town of Bridgewater, and also on the North Precinct. This was done; and after further hearing of the case the Court, in 1728, dismissed the petition.[1]

[1] Town Records, vol. i. p. 12.

June 4, 1736, this plan was again proposed. The families living near the Easton line in the North Precinct of Bridgewater found it more convenient to attend the Easton church, and they petitioned again to be annexed to Easton, but with no better success than before.

The ministry of Matthew Short was, upon the whole, a quiet one. It lasted eight years, and he died April 16, 1731, forty-three years old. A proposition was made in town-meeting to pay eighteen pounds, eleven shillings, six pence for his funeral charges, but only about half of it was voted. He left a widow and nine children, one child having died in 1728. Six of these were born in Easton. The family record will be given in detail in the "Genealogical History of Easton" which the writer expects to publish in about a year. Mr. Short died intestate. He owned at his death his house and one hundred acres of land. That he had a good library, for that day, may be inferred from the fact that it was rated in the appraisement of his estate at £39, 5*s.*

Mrs. Short soon found consolation for the loss of her first husband by marrying Jeremiah Freeman, by which marriage she resumed her maiden name. She sold her right of dower to her eldest son, Matthew. It illustrates the difference in the education of children in those times as compared with the present, to learn that three of the minister's children, perhaps others, were unable to write their own names. One of these, Glover Short, finally became a town charge, and died at an advanced age. Rev. Matthew Short's remains were buried in the old cemetery, not far from his church. But the continual desecration of that sacred place led ultimately to the removal of his gravestone to the burying-ground north of the Centre, where it would be safe from vandal hands. His remains were also removed. Upon the gravestone is the following inscription: —

In memory of ye Rev'd. Mr. Matthew Short. Deceased April ye 16th, 1731, in ye 44th year of his age.

"The sweet remembrance of ye Just Shall flourish when he sleeps in dust."
